West Salem News

WEST SALEM, May 25—The executive board of the Community club voted this week to hold the last meeting of the club June 20, Tuesday night, because the annual school meeting to be held Monday, Mrs. J. R. Brown is general chairman. A program will be given.

Dean Thompson, who had the misfortune to feature in a severe automobile accident recently, is being cared for at his home now. He will probably have to wear a brace for a year to safeguard the back after he is able to sit up. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Leahr.

Build Tennis Court
Col. C. A. Robertson is having a public tennis court made for the use of the young people of Kingswood on his property. The city grader will grade the court. John Friesen has donated the posts for the backstops and Col. Robertson furnishes the property adjacent to the rock gardens he is having beautified. Those wishing to use the court may register their dates at the Jensen store to avoid conflicting hours for playing.

Irrespective of the weather conditions, the West Salem May day exercises will be held May 26. If the day is pleasant it will be held outside on the campus at 2 o'clock.

ELECTRICAL STORM STOPS BARN CLOCK

QUINABY, May 25—The electrical storm which visited this section Tuesday night struck near Henry Girod's farm here, putting out the transformer fuse on one of the telephone poles, and causing considerable vibration and shock.

Every door in the Girod house shook and even the kitchen sink rattled. An electric clock in the barn stopped at 1:58 a. m., showing time the storm struck.

Thunder Storm Cuts Services at Labish

LABISH CENTER, May 25—Electric service to this district was cut off at 2 a. m. Thursday morning during the electric storm. Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Bibby are being congratulated on the arrival of a daughter, Irene Virginia, on May 24.

Miss Constance Weinman returned recently from the Sutherland high school where she taught her third year there this year.

LIBERTY, May 25—Mrs. E. C. Free in charge of the community library, has returned all books to the state library and discontinued all library service for the summer. The service has been sponsored by the community club.
