"To stimulate a greater interest among children in gardening, the Silvertown Parent-Teachers' association will again foster next fall a children's flower and garden show for all children in the first eight grades and pre-school children. The show will be in September and will call for all vegetables and flowers raised in this community as well as a display of baked goods and canned vegetables. In order to get their gardens started children may need some help, but as long as this is a children's exhibit, the children should do as much work as possible themselves."
