

RECORD CROWD OUT AT COMMENCEMENT

Dayton High Under Tobie's Leadership Grows; Many Honors are Awarded

STAYTON, June 3.—High school graduation exercises were held here Thursday night with a record attendance. The professional was played by Margaret Ireland of the high school faculty, and the young people presented an impressive sight as they took their places on the prettily decorated stage.

Dr. Victor Morris, made an able address, his topic being "The World of Today and Tomorrow."

Following this H. E. Tobie awarded the honors. These were for the highest scholastic average over a period of four years and went to Alice Boyington of Mehana, valedictorian, who had an average grade of 1.2, Ada Keyes, 1.5, Arlyn Mae 1.7, Edward Street 1.9, while Eula Montgomerie Vern Davis tied for fifth place with a grade of 2.

Others who had honor roll averages worthy of mention were Gladys Chrisman, Germaine Smith, Frances Siegmund, Alice Brown and Nea Edgar.

The Balfour plaque which is awarded each year for scholastic ability, loyalty and achievement went this year to Edward Streff. During the past four years this award has been presented to Bernice Gilmour, Birdun Yeoman, Dick Berry and Lulu Lewis.

Following this, Dr. Beacamp presented diplomas to the second largest class ever graduating from the Stayton school, namely: Marion Lampman, Germaine Smith, Edward Streff, Paul Dozier, Alice Boyington, Glen Bowman, Alice Brown, Gladys and Lucille Chrisman, Vern Davis, Jeanette Dillard, Nea Edgar, Maxine Huber, Florence Jory, Ada Keyes, Ivan May, Gerald Marking, Robert Matheny, Arlyn Moe, Eula Montgomerie, Hazel Murphy, Harry Monroe, Esther Ruef, Maurice Shelton, Alta and Frances Siegmund, Trevor Stayton, Maxine Stout, Neva Titus and Vivian Veal, Vern Davis and Vernon Snoddy.

During the six years Mr. Tobie has been superintendent of the schools here there has been a remarkable growth in attendance. While transportation has something to do with this, some credit for this growth is due to Mr. Tobie, who has made personal contact with young folks in the Stayton territory, and interested them in the Stayton schools.

Strawberry Crop is Less Than Expected

MEHAMA, June 3.—Strawberry growers here who were of the opinion that after the freeze they would harvest half a crop are discouraged by the lack of blossoms on the plants. The patches have leaved out since the nice weather and look better than was at first expected but there is an unusual absence of blossoms. Whether or not this is caused by the rainy weather during the blooming season, is being discussed among the growers. Where a half crop was expected a fourth crop is the highest expected now, in this vicinity.

There will be a normal pear crop but the apples were damaged considerably by the rain during the blooming season.

CONRADSONS WAY HOME

in celebrating the nation's birthday.

These facts taken together form a background of high American history that renders Salem and its environs the most important point of all places west of the Rockies, as related to American possession and empire on the Pacific coast. This is a heritage that, with the centenary celebration, next year, of the coming of Jason Lee, will begin to come into its own as an asset, even from a cold commercial value, above any other we have, even in this golden land of diversity, rich in natural resources above any other area of like size in all the world.

WORLD'S OLDEST PRINTING PRESS

It is a long cry from this one-man-power printing press to the giant modern presses that grind out a million copies of a big newspaper in a few hours today. The press shown here is a reproduction of the Gutenberg Press, the oldest printing machine in the world. Otto M. Forkert, of the Art Institute of Chicago, costumed for the period, is shown operating it at the Chicago World's Fair, where it is an exhibition.

DECORATIONS EXCEL AT HUBBARD MEET

HUBBARD, June 3.—Commencement exercises were held at the city hall Friday night with a large crowd in attendance. As is custom, the juniors decorated the hall. The entire hall was canopied with gold, purple and white crepe paper cut in intriguing designs and the effect was very pleasing. The plan of decoration was made by Pierre Traclo, interior decorator of the Crown flour mills.

The professional was "Barcarolle" sang by the girls' glee club and accompanied by Mrs. Richard Fields; invocation by Rev. Meyers of the Boys' Training school; salutatory, Marlin Carlson; Country Gardens, by the glee club; valedictory, Anne Knight; vocal solos, "Goodbye Sweet Day," "End of a Perfect Day," Helen Knight; address by Roy R. Hewitt of Salem, in which he stressed the motto of the graduating class, "Life is what You Make It."

Diplomas were presented by Dr. de Lespasse, chairman of the board to John Scholl, Ruth Coleman, Helen Paulson, Bill Hendry, John Patton, Anne Knight, Jack Moomaw, Marion Carl.

He then presented the eighth grade their certificates: Ernest Zelinka, Charles Knight, Ruth Junckle, Harley Hostetter, Polly Holcomb, Warren Hatcher, Forrest Hartzler, and Gordon Boje. Kenneth Dart is teacher.

Junior Class Host At Final Gathering For "Mill" School

MILL CITY, June 3.—Tuesday night members of the junior class of the high school were hosts to the members of the senior class and high school faculty at a banquet. For this purpose the 4-L hall was used. The dining table was centered with a large ship, emblematic of those who are soon starting out on the broader sea of life after their many years in school. Around the ship was a large wreath of spruce. The small, dainty menu cards also bore a signa of a small ship in blue and gold, the class colors. Plates were placed for 33.

Alberta Van Dahl acted as toastmistress. Arey Podrabsky of the college class spoke in behalf of the juniors of the many days enjoyed with the seniors, and Mary Alice Brunner responded for the guests.

Alice Smith gave the history of the senior class, Sylvia Farman read the prophecy and Genevieve Gentry will be the toastmistress. A four-course dinner was served. This is the only time in the school year that the junior class entertain and the annual event is always looked forward to with pleasure.

Mrs. Eva Raines who recently returned from Pendleton where she was a delegate at the state convention was elected district deputy president, and will have charge of the installation ceremony.

Capacity Crowd Out For Spring Festival

INDEPENDENCE, June 3.—A capacity crowd attended the spring festival given by the Independence training school at the high school gym Thursday night. The gym was beautifully decorated with the spring flowers. Large butterflies flitted about the toddlers on the stage where the Spirit of Spring—Beatrice Barton and her court—Nora Hogan, Margaret Syverson, Lucille Barnhart, Roseanna Alexander, Aurita Guild, Mildred Pomeroy, Donna Horton, and Ruby Goresline, were seated.

The whole pageant, from the time Old Man Winter was chased away by all the spring things to the Robin Hood's men dance, went off beautifully. Mrs. Florence Hutchison had charge of the music and choruses.

A chorus of over a hundred boys and girls sang during the whole pageant.
