

Chemeketa Chapter of Daughters Hold Final Meeting at Jones Home

Charming tea Meeting Marks Installation of Mrs. John F. Carlin as Regent

THE annual installation and social afternoon of Chemeketa chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution was observed at the country home of Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Jones Saturday afternoon. A profusion of lovely flowers and a beautifully appointed tea hour at which time Mrs. H. T. Love, out-going regent, and Mrs. John H. Carlin, in-coming regent, presided, featured the installation service.

Mrs. C. C. Clark had charge of the installation and used a service written by herself. This proved so popular with the chapter members that it was voted to have it printed and sent to all the chapters of the state.

A prominent visitor at the Saturday afternoon meeting was Mrs. John H. Hall, state president of the D. A. R. who spoke briefly and interestingly before the business meeting of the chapter.

Annual reports showed an excellent amount of work accomplished by the chapter in the past year. Plans are being made for a similar year under the regency of Mrs. John H. Carlin.

An unusually large attendance was present for the Saturday meeting with chapter members of Woodburn, Dallas and Salem present.

It was announced by the committee which has been at work on the laying of the Abiqua marker that hopes were held that the marker could be placed this month. Mrs. C. C. Geer, Mrs. B. L. Steeves and Mrs. H. T. Love make up this committee.

Assisting Mrs. Jones at the tea hour was the hostess committee, which included: Mrs. W. L. Potter, Mrs. W. C. Conner, Mrs. A. A. Underhill, Mrs. W. H. Byrd, Mrs. Claud E. Ellison, Mrs. F. E. Sherwin, Mrs. J. G. Heltzer, Mrs. J. G. Geiselman and Mrs. L. E. NicLeod.

Mrs. Stearns Cushing, Jr., (Maxine Ulrich) arrived in Salem yesterday from Evanston, Ill., where she and Mr. Cushing have been students at Northwestern this year. Mr. Cushing is a student in Garrett Bible Institute while Mrs. Cushing has taken some work there and is working toward an advanced degree in political science in Northwestern proper. She will be the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Ulrich for several months. Mr. Cushing is remaining in the university city during the summer. Both young people are popular members of last spring's class at Willamette.

Mr. and Mrs. William Walton, Mrs. James Walton and Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon Sackett will motor to The Dalles today to be present for the wedding of the grandson of Mrs. James Walton, James Walton and Miss Kathryn Brigham of Eugene. Mr. Walton has a large circle of friends in Salem where he has visited in a party times with his grandmother, Mrs. James Walton. Both young people are graduates of the University of Oregon where they were prominent in college social activities. Mr. Walton is a member of Sigma Nu fraternity. The wedding will be a smart event at 3:30 o'clock at the P. J. Stadman home in The Dalles.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Gregg entertained about 30 members of the Berean class at their home Friday night with a charmingly arranged social evening which began with a potluck supper. Mrs. C. E. Ross is president of the class.

The Salem club will be represented at the convention of Zonta International in Chicago in June by a delegate according to action taken at the Thursday meeting. The appointment will be announced later.

The club will meet for luncheon at the Marion hotel Thursday noon.

'At Home' is Anniversary Tribute

A DELIGHTFUL affair of today will be the "at home" for which Mr. and Mrs. William Everett Anderson will entertain between the hours of 2 and 5 o'clock at their home on Court street, in compliment to their 25th wedding anniversary.

Friends are invited to call informally during the receiving hours. Alternating at the urns during the afternoon hours will be Mrs. C. D. Gabrielson, Mrs. Frank G. Myers, Mrs. Max O. Buren, and Mrs. Max Page. Mrs. Otto Paulus and Mrs. Verne McIntyre will be in charge of the dining room and a group of young maids will assist in serving.

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson were married in Salem 25 years ago at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Beckner. Roy Paul Bandy was the officiating minister. Mrs. Anderson's older sister who is now enroute from Florida on a long motor tour which will lead to Salem in July is the only person now living who was present for the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson came to live on Court street shortly after they were married and lived there ever since. Mr. Anderson was born on Court street.

This evening following the "open house" hours a dinner will be served with covers placed for 20 guests. The list will include old friends of the hosts.

The Auxiliary to the Sons of Union War Veterans and the Veterans organization enjoyed a visit this Tuesday from the national president of the Auxiliary, Mrs. Jean Bowers Thompson of Elgin, Ill. The national guest attended the memorial services conducted by the two organizations and Tuesday evening was honor guest with Mrs. Louis King, national instituting and installing officer, for a pretty banquet served at Hunt's cafe. Mrs. Thompson left that night for Portland and from there continued her tour of the various organizations of the states. Mrs. King accompanied by the local president, Mrs. Alice Adams, were among those to welcome the national president in Portland upon her arrival Monday. They accompanied her on the tour of the Columbia highway and the veterans' hospital and later attended the banquet given in her honor at the chamber of commerce Monday night.

An interesting and pretty program was presented by a group of piano students of Lena May Dolson Friday night at the Calvary Baptist church. Small Party Green assisted in the program. Those who presented numbers included Virginia Tomkins, Jean Newman, Estelene Smith, Jeanette Clarke, Mona Greene, Ruth Ostrin, Wilson Clark, Mary Prime, Betty Annusen, Effie Vair, Loreta Smith, Marie White, Ora McDowell, Betty Dotson, Bonnie Belle Miller, Nova Smith, Helen Schulz, and Doris Schunke.
