

Bend-Salem Baseball Rivalry to be Renewed Here Today

Woodburn Blanks Salem 13-0 in American Legion Junior Opener Here

ELKS TO BRING BIG WAR CLUBS

Senators' Revised Lineup Will Make Bow Today; Game is at 2:30

Bend	1	1	.500
Salem	1	1	.500
Eugene	1	1	.500

Albany	0	2	.000

Today's Schedule
Bend at Salem, Olinger field, 2:30 p. m.
Shapp's at Albany.
Federals at Eugene.

Salem and Bend, cities which will be closed together as the auto files when the North Santiam highway is built, have been for the last six years developing a baseball rivalry, featured for the most part by one or two split series annually. The usual schedule has been for each city's team to win at home, but this was varied last year when the Senators won a great mound duel 1 to 0 at Bend, and the Elks won a lively hitting contest here, 7 to 3.

This afternoon's Olinger field rivalry will be renewed, with both teams apparently stronger than they were a year ago, as all the clubs in the State league seem, in fact, to be. Since it will be Bend's only appearance here this year in a league game, interest in the renewal of this intercity rivalry is enhanced.

Manager Frank Bashor of the Senators announced Saturday that he had signed Woodard of Oregon State fame as a second member of the hurling staff. This just about fills all the requirements of the local club at present, though one or two more players may be signed up in the next few weeks.

Salem fans will get their first glimpse of the revamped Senator team, which will include probably not more than four of the men who played in the opener against Wolter's Federals. The outfield combination of Seales, Oravec and either Pemberton or Colgan, would make one of the fastest sprint relay teams in the state, and will be difficult to match in hitting power.

The addition of Manning and Gribble to the infield set-up is also expected to mean improved hitting strength, and this pair with Keber and Gibson, should hold its own with the infielders in the league, or almost anywhere in unorganized ball.

The fans will have their first chance to see Bill Moye work behind the bat, as he held down a shortstop role with the Bearcats. He is reported to be an unusually smooth-working receiver.

Heading the Bend collection of stars is McNeely, brother of the Sacramento Senators' manager and just as clever a ball player; and Hepling and Eubanks, members of the 1928 Bend team which won the Willamette Valley league championship. Others from that team which was virtually of coast league calibre, are Allen and Murphy, the latter now Bend's first string pitcher, who had much more success in mingling with the trials last week than "Sneak" Wilson in the first game of the season. Lewis, former W. S. C. player, is one of the hitting stars recently acquired.

Arrangements for assuring that the game will start on time have been made, Manager Bashor announces.

TELLS HOW

Bobby Jones, who starts his new series of golf instruction pictures, "How to Break Ninety," at the Elsinore today.

CURT COMMENTS

You have to hand it to Louis A. Johnson, national commander of the American Legion for being an unassuming, red-tape cutting fellow who refuses to stand on ceremony. While the notables of Oregon legiondom were rushing around and doing their best to make sure all possible honor was paid to the distinguished visitor, he seemed to be concerned entirely with getting his job as official opener of the Legion Junior ball season accomplished without taking up any of the spectators' time unnecessarily. So, he was suddenly discovered, totally without escort, out there on the mound with the ball in his hand, though without a glove.

Furthermore, he appears not to have outlived his baseball days completely, for he threw a neat fast ball across the plate, contrary to all traditions of official "first ball" pitchers. Jack Eakin, we suspect, plays with the Legion Hares at Dallas, for he caught the pellet without blinking at the swing of Earl Snell's big bat.

And now for the week's program. Today there's the Salem, Bend State league game at Olinger field, 2:30; qualifying round for the Bobby Jones tournament at the Salem Golf club and Bobby himself opening his new series, "How to Break Ninety," at the Elsinore.

Tuesday night we have Ted Thy and Everett Kibbons in the wrestling headline: at the armory. Kibbons, a former Oklahoma Aggie footballer, has been a sensation in his several recent appearances in Portland, one of which included a victory over Thy which the former world light heavyweight king will be out to revenge.

Chet Wiles and Herman Olson will put on the one-hour bout preceding the main event, and they in turn will be preceded by a 30-minute tussle between Prof. Newton and Joe Gardiner. There's not much that can go wrong with a card so well fortified with known quantities.

Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock the Salem Legion Juniors will try for better luck, meeting the Silverton team. They defeated Silverton by a close score in a practice game, but may have to face the offerings of the younger Schwab brother Wednesday.

That's about as far as we can go in forecasting this week, leaving out of consideration the kitball schedule which is elsewhere on this page unless the printers let us down.

Rietz Gets Rook Award for Track

OREGON STATE COLLEGE, Corvallis, June 3. — Emery Rietz, former Salem high school student and member of the Oregon State college rook track team this season, has just been recommended for a freshman track award by Jim Dixon, coach. Rietz contributed greatly to the success of the rook track team this season, the high lights of which were victories over University of Oregon frosh in both the dual relay meet and the dual track and field meet. Rietz participated in the mile and three-mile relay events. Much is expected of him in varsity competition here next year.

PORTLAND, Ore., June 3. — (AP) — Portland defeated Los Angeles, 6 to 1, here today to lengthen its lead in the series to four games to two. Portland's big inning was the third when Sheely walked, Bowman singled, Monroe hoisted a homer, Mulligan singled, and Oana hit another over the fence for four bases. The offensive netted five runs.

The Angels scored their lone tally in the fifth inning when Shoap and Cronin singled, Kies walked, and Shoap raced home when Nelson hit into a double play. Bowman, on the mound for Portland, allowed the Angels but six hits, and kept them from more than a hit in any one inning except the fifth when they got two. The Beavers picked up their last run in the seventh inning when Monroe walked and Oana doubled. Nelson, who replaced Ward after Oana's homer in the third, allowed Portland only 3 hits in the 5 2-3 innings he pitched.

Bevens Fans 19 and Limits Home Squad to Three Hits; Champs Threaten to Repeat

THREE-HIT, 19-strikeout pitching by Bevens, loose-jointed lad from Hubbard, held the Salem American Legion Juniors helpless in the county league opener here Saturday afternoon, and it mattered not at all that Salem's pitchers had a little trouble of one kind and another and that the Woodburn Juniors scored 13 runs; one would have done them just as much good. The score was 13 to 0.

Woodburn had three big innings, getting four runs in the third, three in the fourth and four in the ninth. The rest of the time the visitors were held pretty well in check. Gatchell, Salem pitcher from Jefferson who had been ill all week, nevertheless held the Woodburn sluggers to three hits for four innings after he hit his stride, but weakened in the ninth.

Mighty sluggers for Woodburn were Coleman and Battleson, who got three each; but every man on the team hit safely at least once. Several "bad hops" in the infield aided them, along with some other breaks to make the victory more impressive, but the Woodburn boys were in there swinging and deserved the breaks.

The Salem players, impressed perhaps by the military flavor given to the opening exercises, stood at soldierly attention with rifles on their shoulders most of the time while at bat, being mystified by Bevens' fast-breaking curve. He was just wild enough so that all of them hoped for free passes, but only four got them. Salem's three hits included one clean one by Salstrom, and two beaten out infield grounders by Nicholson. All of the regulars but Miller struck out at least once.

WEBFEET WIN OUT AFTER 10 INNINGS

CORVALLIS, June 3. — (AP) — The University of Oregon defeated Oregon State college, 3 to 2, here today in the final game of a six-game series. The schools split the series with three games each.

The Webfeet took a two-run lead in the second inning, but the Beavers tied the score in the fourth. The teams fought scoreless until the first half of the tenth inning, when Garbarino scored for Oregon on a long fly after Rasmussen's bobble of an infield grounder. The Staters got a man on in their half of the extra inning, but he died on third. Oregon ... 3 5 1 Oregon State ... 2 5 1 Gemmel and Hoag; Rasmussen and Keema.

KHAYYAM WINS IN WORLD FAIR DERBY

CHICAGO, June 3. — (AP) — Galloping down the stretch before a world's fair crowd of 30,000 spectators, Mr. Khayyam, the big bay colt owned by J. M. Austin of Old Westbury, Long Island, N. Y., repeated his triumph over Head Play in the $25,000 added American derby today, winning off by himself. Struggling 2 1/2 lengths back, came the Preakness winner, Head Play, thoroughly beaten. Fair Rochester, a 40 to 1 shot, finished a fast closing third, with Bam-boula, one of the two fillies in the race, sharing in the rich purse by taking fourth place. In the wake of the leaders were Charley O. Gold Bisla, Technique and Sulhaven. The original starting field of 10 was reduced to eight by withdrawal of Silent Shot and Sun Envoy.
