PORTLAND, June 3 .- (AP) --Market for eggs continued to gather weakness. Prices nominally listed here were the highest along the coast, quality considered therefore there was an utter void of shipping demand except for storage. Even this business is reported dwindling since other markets showed receding values while local prices were nominally held high by some leading distributive interests. Others recently reduced their selling lists ic at least and claimed then they were undersold by parties who quote higher figures openly. Prices were being well held in plied equally to the open market and on the produce exchange. Butterfat was fully steady. Storage movement of butter continufor live hens of all weights, the market for broilers is depressed as a result of the much underwheight stock arriving. Prices on
