

GERVAIS PETITIONS TO RETAIN STATION

Closing Action May be Halted Fourth Time by This Procedure

GERVAIS, June 7 — Reports current recently that the Southern Pacific station here was to be closed June 15 were confirmed Monday when agent F. L. Kirby was notified of the action.

A petition was immediately put in circulation asking for a hearing before the Public Service Commission and this will automatically delay the closing until after the date of the hearing. This is the fourth time this procedure has been started and each time has been delayed by petition.

At its meeting held Monday night the city council adopted a resolution regulating the irrigation of lawns and gardens. The price is set at 50 cents per month for lawns and 60 cents per month for gardens during the months of July, August and September. Water can be used one hour a day, only. The mayor was given power to enforce the resolution.

PROGRAM FEATURES GRANGE GATHERING

TALBOT, June 7 — Ankeny Grange met Saturday night. The lunch at the next meeting will be served by the juvenile members under the supervision of Mrs. Ralph Dent. During the lecturers hour Mrs. J. O. Farr and Mrs. Emma Farr gave a short skit and Mrs. A. E. Cole and daughter Phyllis gave a short play.

U. S. MINISTER IN NEW HOME

Their differences of opinion as to the modus operandi of conducting the probe all smoothed out, Senator Carter Glass of Virginia (left) and Ferdinand Pecora, counsel for the Senate committee, are pictured as the Morgan hearing was resumed in the capital. Senator Glass was Pecora's severest critic, but now harmony seems to reign.

was ambitious to achieve the best. One of his friends advised him: "Prof. Parvin has made you a good fiddler. Go to Germany. With what you have, you can get all the Germans can teach you in a year."

He valued the advice. But where was the expense money to come from? His father raised hops; young Graham knew that business from working in the home yard, through to drying and baling time. But the price was low that year, and a neighbor intended to leave his hops on the vines.

A. J. Luce, old time hop buyer, a good friend, encouraged him to buy the neighbor's hops on the vine, and harvest, cure and bale them. Mr. Luce offered to market the product. Young Graham took Mr. Luce's tip—and made a fair sized clean up. Thus he had the money with which to get to Germany, and perhaps remain a year.

In the fall of 1896 he was off for Europe. He quickly found, to his surprise, that he must first learn nearly all he had learned in violin playing and teaching. He had private lessons in Germany for three at a half year. With a class of 76 applicants for admission, he took the examinations of the Royal High School of Berlin. Five only were admitted—and Wallace Graham was one of the favored and fortunate quintet.

Why so many failures? The school was founded by William II,

VACATION ARRIVES FOR HEIGHT FOLKS

Coast Lures Group From Kingwood; Guderian's Parents Visitors

KINGWOOD, June 7 — The vacation season and vacation spirit is apparent here even though vacation weather is lacking. Mrs. A. L. Applewhite and Miss Catherine Applewhite with Mrs. Theodore Bernard of Brush College are their guests at the Applewhite cottage at Neakowin where they expect to remain three weeks. The J. E. England family with their house guests, Mr. and Mrs. Buck Griffin of Ellendale, N. D., spent Sunday at Newport. Mr. and Mrs. Francis Buckles and children, Jean, June and Patty motored recently from their seaside home at Rockaway to be guests of Mrs. Buckle's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Shearer of Glenn Creek road.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Applestone and two sons of Seattle were recent guests of Mrs. Applestone's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. La Raut. From here they went to Eugene, accompanied by the La Rauts where they visited other relatives, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Neat and the Robert A. Booth family.

Miss Lucille Stephens, a teacher in the Hood River schools, enroute to her home at Parma, Ida., paid a brief visit last week at the C. J. Jackson home on Cascade Drive.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Rivet of Ocean Park, Wash., and Mrs. C. J. Guderian of Klamath Falls, who are, respectively, parents of Mrs. Guderian and mother of Mr. Guderian, arrived last week for a visit at the C. A. Guderian home.

Daily Health Talks

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D., United States senator from New York Former Commissioner of Health, New York City

Even though some appear to forget it, most of us know that prolonged exposure to the rays of the sun is dangerous. I recently visited a friend who was recuperating from a severe sunburn. In the course of conversation he told me that he had fallen asleep while taking a sun bath.

Dr. Copeland

When he awoke he could hardly move. His body seemed to be on fire and he suffered marked agony. He was rushed to a hospital where he received the necessary treatment for the severe burn that he had inflicted upon himself. My friend was dangerously ill for weeks and at one time little hope was held for his recovery.

Gradual Exposure

Of course, this is an extreme case, but the rays of the sun are strong and penetrating. The skin is easily burned by excessive exposure. The burn is similar to that received from fire or scalding liquids. Extensive skin burns from any cause are dangerous and may result in serious complications. Extensive burns covering a wide area of skin may be fatal.

Everyone enjoys a good sun-bath. It gives a healthy appearance and a feeling of well being. It can only be safely acquired by gradual exposure to the sun.

Redness and tenderness of the skin are nature's signs of warning. Bear in mind that exposure to the sun must be gradual and not increased in length until the skin has a ro-ture coat of tan. Once the skin has this protection you may safely stay out in the sun for long periods.

Curative Value of Sun's Rays

Though the value of sunlight as a means of combating disease has been known for many centuries, it is only within recent years that its really curative effect has been appreciated. The rays of the sun supply the body with certain substances essential to good health and nutrition. They are of special value in the prevention of certain childhood diseases.

Sun baths are now given to the infant when it is but three or four weeks old. During the winter months when sunlight is scarce, or when weather prevents out-of-doors sun baths, cod liver oil should be given. This supplies the necessary vitamins developed by the rays of the sun and necessary for sturdy bones and healthy bodies.

The value of sunlight cannot be overestimated. But the dangers of excessive exposure to the sun must not be disregarded. Get your share of sunlight but do so carefully and in moderation. Never expose yourself to the sun rays for a long time until you have that protective coat of tan. And above all, do not fall asleep in the sun, as my friend did.

Answers to Health Queries

M. B. Q.—What causes brown spots to appear on the neck? What do you advise for pimples?

A.—These are probably liver spots. Send self-addressed, stamped envelope for further particulars and repeat your question. Diet and elimination are important in the correction of this disorder. (Copyright 1933 K. F. S. Inc.)
