No less charming, well-known and inimitable are her baby illustrations — dainty, winsome, angelic babies that simply must be adored! For the first time a collection of some of her lovely baby heads is offered for embroidery. They have been grouped on a carriage cover and a pillow to make a bouquet as dainty and flower-like as any flowers that grow. All the Nell Brinkley winsomeness and delicacy of line have been retained in this embroidery interpretation for outline stitch. The carriage cover is a regulation size, the motif measuring 17 1/2 by 19 inches while the corner motif for the pillow measures 8 by 12 inches. The motif can be used on a crib cover or separate heads can be cut from the motif and used on a variety of baby accessories. The transfer pattern includes color suggestions, yardage needed and direction for making a carriage cover and pillow.
