Willamette University Commencement Brings Reunions and Social Activities

Alpha Phi Alpha Ten-Year Reunion Attracts Many; All Sororities Entertain

SOcially speaking, this commencement weekend at Willamette university is a bigger event than for many years. One of the largest crowds in the history of the alumni organization gathered in the gymnasium last night for the annual spring banquet to do honor to Professor J. T. Matthews, oldest professor on the faculty here in point of years of service, and to greet old friends.

Then literally hundreds of alumni and other friends of the university went through the receiving line at the President's Reception at Lausanne hall.

War Mothers' President Honored

MRS. LENORE HARNBERGER-STONE, national president of the American War Mothers, has come and gone. Rarely does one meet such a combination of business ability and true womanliness in one small person. Her dynamic energy, her years of experience in the business world of Washington as the wife of Judge Virgil H. Stone have given her inside knowledge of life, political and otherwise, that very few women attain.

She is a fascinating and fluent speaker, not afraid to stand for what she thinks is right or to denounce wrong. And think of it, mothers who feel that we are growing old and useless, our major-general, Mother Stone, is making a tour of inspection of 7000 miles to all states represented by chapters. She has no attendant traveling companion. Alone she paddles her own canoe. And listen, mothers, she will be 71, July 1st.

This is the tribute of Mrs. Mary Watson, state corresponding secretary for the War Mothers.

Mrs. Harnberger-Stone was guest of honor at a banquet of the War Mothers Tuesday night in the Masonic dining room, at which Mrs. Mabel Lockwood, state president, served as toastmistress. Centerpieces of red, white and blue flowers with red, white and blue tapers in silver holders were used on the long tables arranged in U-fashion. Within the U a small table was set for the honor guests, the Gold Star mothers.

Mrs. E. E. Bergman, past department president, furnished song sheets used for the evening and kept as souvenirs by the guests. Greetings from Governor Meier were brought to the dinner by Jerrold Owen, from Mayor McKay by Chris Kowitz and from state heads of all patriotic organizations or their representatives.

The national championship auxiliary trio sang the drum corps in uniform played. Edith Findley played several marimba solos and Hortense Taylor furnished violin numbers. Lois Plummer accompanied the trio and the group singing.

Following the banquet at which some 70 guests were seated a reception was held in the reception rooms of the Masonic temple. In the receiving line were: Mrs. Lizabeth Waters, Mrs. Ada V. Skiff, Mrs. Mabel A. Lockwood, Mrs. Lenore Harnberger-Stone, Mrs. Emilie Hendricks, Mrs. Linnie Lee, Mrs. Bertha Dickson, Mrs. Mary Watson, Mrs. Jennie Erickson, Mrs. Eva Wiro, Mrs. Alice Eckerlin, Mrs. Addie Curtis and Mrs. Marguerite Elliott.

Wednesday a group of women prominent in the work of the organization throughout the state had lunch with Mrs. Harnberger-Stone.

Following a day spent visiting points of interest about the valley and after speaking at the Elks' flag day program Mrs. Harnberger-Stone left for Portland Wednesday evening.

Today members of the War Mothers' organization and their families will attend the annual meeting at Champeau honoring Father's day.

This afternoon the sorority gardens will be the scene of a lovely wedding when Leola Johnson becomes the bride of Donald Faber. Miss Johnson, whose home is in Alberta, Canada, is a sophomore here. The tea was the occasion for the announcement of the betrothal of Hazel Newhouse, Peeping, to Kenneth Harris, former member of the American Legion, which the wedding will be an event of August.

Mrs. R. M. Gatte, Mrs. B. E. Edwards, Mrs. Alice Fisher and Mrs. John D. Ulrich presided at the tea table.

Salem Sees Exhibition of Hubert-Robert's This Week

"CITIZENS of the world" are Marius Hubert-Robert, renowned painter, and his equally charming and renowned wife, who will be Salem visitors sometime during the next fortnight. And products of these cosmopolitan attitudes and interests are the oil paintings and water-colors to be placed on exhibition in the Salem Y. M. C. A. early this week.

Persons who saw M. Hubert-Robert's exhibition at the Marion hotel last winter are looking forward eagerly to this second showing which will include several not shown before. Hubert-Robert is the great grandson of the famous eighteenth century painter who brought such great recognition to the name Hubert Robert that it has been used in the combined form by his artist descendants.

He belongs to the French salon and to the Oriental Lists association and during the war was official painter for the 10th army, painting battlefields and devastated regions. Members of the staffs of "Illustration" in Paris and the "Illustrated London News," both of which reproduce his work in colors, he is in this county on a mission for his government, making paintings for the collection of books "Beautiful Countries of the World," of which he is exclusive illustrator.

Five hundred of these collections will be published, the originals being retained by the French government. Lithographing of water-colors has been perfected in Paris as nowhere else in the world and some of the water-colors exhibited here will be used in lithographed form in this publication.

In Oregon the painter has completed two water-colors, Crater lake and the Columbia river, both of which will be shown here.

Mme. Hubert-Robert, who holds an M. A. degree from Oxford, writes the descriptions which accompany the illustrations of her husband. She is also a lecturer of international repute on subjects of art interest. It is probable that she will lecture to a Salem audience at least once on her visit here this summer in connection with the exhibition in the Y. M. C. A. building to which the public is invited free of charge.

Further announcement will be made through these columns as to the exact time of the showing of the pictures and of the lecture if it is arranged.

The south division of the Ladies' Aid of the First Presbyterian church met Tuesday for their annual covered dish luncheon at the country home of Mrs. C. A. Lytle. Thirty women attended the luncheon and the afternoon following it was spent in sewing and discussion of plans for the future work of the organization.

To spend several months in the south as the guest of friends, Theima Young left last week for San Francisco. At San Jose she will visit with friends in State Teachers' college, where she was a student a year ago and will be present at the commencement festivities there. Later she will visit various California and Nevada resorts.
