

15 PER CENT ONION LOSS DUE TO FLOOD

Louis Forcier Home is Burned to Ground; Antique Pieces Saved

GERVAIS, June 21 — The recent high water and hot sun which followed it have damaged the onions and onion sets in the Lake Labish section 10 to 15 per cent as reported by Blaine Brown, one of the largest growers. The mint crop was also greatly damaged by the hard freeze of last winter and it is now thought there will not be more than a 25 per cent crop as compared with 1932.

A higher price is predicted. Due to the small acreage this year there should be a great demand for roots next spring. Spring grains grown on the uplands will be a bumper crop due to the late rains.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth MacKenzie, students at Willamette university last year, are now registered at University of Washington for the summer.

Forcier Home Burned
Fire which started on the roof from sparks from the chimney completely destroyed the nine room home of Louis Forcier in the Fairfield district Friday night. The piano, a few other pieces of furniture and some bedding and a few clothes were all that was saved. A cedar trunk bought from the Hudson Bay company in the early days and a bureau made by Mrs. Forcier's uncle, and which had been through a former fire, were among the pieces saved. The granary which stands near the house caught fire on the roof several times.

The loss is estimated at $2000 and is partially covered by insurance. The family is setting up in the garage while getting matters adjusted and re-building.

This season's arena exhibition is the most extensive ever offered by the A. I. G. Barnes management.

There is Catherine Loyal, who was discovered with a little wagon show in Czechoslovakia. The wild mountain blackberries which have always been so plentiful in the surrounding hills were practically wiped out by the freeze. Winter and early spring apples are also a failure.
