FARMERS WARNED AGAINST EXPERTS

WASHINGTON, July 6.—(AP)—Farmers were warned today against employing experts to draw up their contracts in the acreage reduction campaign under which farmers will be paid benefits for agreements to reduce acreage in 1934 and 1935.

Chester C. Davis, director of crop production, said reports had come to him from a wheat state that individuals posing as experts had offered to "make out the papers" for farmers who intended to sign agreements for 10 per cent of the cash payments the farmers would receive.

"No wheat grower who intends to participate in the program for adjusting production and to receive compensation payments for his cooperation needs to pay anybody for helping him make out the necessary forms, statements and agreements," Davis said.

"All necessary forms will be presented to the wheat growers by authorized agents of the secretary of agriculture. In some instances the county extension agents will represent the secretary; in other cases, special agents will be employed and assistance will be given without any cost to the farmer."

DANUBE COUNTRIES IN WHEAT PARLEY

LONDON, July 6.—(AP)—Negotiations were opened today by the four-power wheat conference looking to cooperation of Danubian wheat-producing countries in efforts to absorb the world carry-over of the cereal by reduction production and exports.

Preliminary discussions, it was reported, indicated the Danubian countries looked on the plan with favor.

Should these nations come within the working of the scheme it was believed the objections of Australia to the plan would be overcome. The antipodean commonwealth agreed to acreage reduction proposals only on condition that larger European producing nations be brought within them.

The United States, Canada and Argentina, the other three chief exporting nations in the four power parley, already have pledged themselves to carry out restrictions providing Australia joins in the agreement.

PORTLAND POLICE FEAR TONG STRIFE

PORTLAND, July 6.—(AP)—Police disclosed tonight that they are keeping a watchful eye on Portland Chinatown, because of information that a tong war might break out in the district.

Chinatown here is divided into two sections, the old and the new, separated from each other by several blocks.

Trouble started, the officers said, when the Sney Sing tong, which had always had its headquarters in the new Chinatown, moved into new quarters in the old section—in the heart of the territory of the Bing Kung Bow Leung tong.

Police said prominent Chinese told them the moving of the Sney Sing headquarters to the other tong's area was equivalent to a declaration of war. A warning that the Sney Sing tong was not wanted in the old Chinatown was issued by the Bing Kung Bow Leung tong, but went unheeded, police said they were told. The officers expressed the fear that outside gunmen might be summoned to Portland. A squad of police stood by at the central station, in the heart of old Chinatown, prepared to answer any riot call that might be turned in.

WEATHER DELAYING ITALIAN SEAPLANES

REYKJAVIK, Iceland, July 6.—(AP)—General Italo Balbo and the 100 Italian aviators piloting an armada of 24 seaplanes to the Century of Progress in Chicago, tonight awaited improved weather conditions for the next trek to Cartwright, Labrador, 8500 miles away.

The squadron reached here yesterday after a 330-mile hop from Londonderry, northern Ireland.

(A dispatch to the MacKay Radio and Commercial Cable company in New York, said General Balbo, Italian air minister, expected a delay of "a few days" at Reykjavik due to unfavorable weather conditions.)

The Italian fliers are quartered in rooms especially prepared in one of the largest hotels here. The government has Italian wines for social functions to be given during their stay.

General Balbo visited the prime minister, later returning for the evening.

CHICAGO, July 6.—(AP)—A code setting minimum wages of from $10 to $16 for clerks, and providing for a 48 hour week, was adopted today by furniture retailers.

The code proposes a "national retail recovery board," including jewelers, druggists, grocers, shoe dealers, hardware and dry goods dealers, to administer the trade rules of all retailers, and suggests boards to adopt regulations for each trading area.

RUSS RECOGNITION QUESTION STUDIED

NEW YORK, July 6.—(AP)—Questions involved in American recognition of soviet Russia will be studied for the administration by Laurence A. Steinhardt, who sailed today to take over his post as minister to Sweden. He will stop a few days in London.

"Stockholm is an advantageous point from which to observe Russia," said the 40-year old envoy, a New York attorney.

"It is, you know, the diplomatic post nearest to Russia. I shall make observations from there and report back to the president from time to time."

The contemplated survey was viewed in some quarters here as further evidence that the government may act in the near future on the recognition question.
