from its funds. For many years Marion county has maintained a strong cash position, never having less than $500,000 on hand, and at times having deposits approximating $1,000,000.

The city of Salem's budgeted income for 1933 on interest on bank balances is $1500. Last year it received $854.

Other counties are also receiving notice of reduction or elimination of interest on bank balances. Portland banks have notified officials there interest would not be paid. Yamhill county banks will pay one-eighth of one per cent and Clackamas county banks will pay one-fourth of one per cent on commercial deposits of public funds.

the city to some citizen or corporation. Many property owners who have been unable to pay their street and sidewalk improvement liens are making inquiry concerning the methods available for refinancing these liens. The 1933 legislature provided that refinancing could be accomplished by the property owner when he would pay up all other taxes outstanding, with interest, as well as the interest accrued against the city's lien. The remaining unpaid principal can then be rebonded over a ten year period, payable semi-annually if desired.

Reducing With Toots

Statesman Readers are invited to follow diet and exercise program of comic strip matron.

Glass of buttermilk. One whole meal cookie.

Dinner: Cup vegetable soup. Medium portion of roast beef, no gravy. Plain boiled onions. Beet salad, no dressing. Half grapefruit. Tea or coffee, no cream, no sugar.

Here are the exercises and diet for the third day.

Today, let's do an exercise that will strengthen the back, and remove superfluous fat around the hips and the thighs. Sit up on the floor, back erect, legs stretched straight ahead in front. Draw up left leg until thigh rests against abdomen. Then draw up the other leg. Then reverse, starting with right leg. Do this four times. Don't forget your daily walks which should be longer and brisker already. Don't think about your reducing plan. Take it for granted as though the diet and exercises were nothing very out of the way. Which indeed they are not.

Now for breakfast: Apple or pear or sliced peaches. Little whole wheat cereal with thin milk. Cup of coffee without cream or sugar.

Luncheon: Quarter head of lettuce; eight large slices cucumber; medium tomato. Sliced orange.

which opens at Sacramento, Calif., July 23.

BRIDGE PLANS ARE BACKED ON COAST

MARSHFIELD, Ore., July 7.—(AP)—Unqualified support of the specifications of Oregon highway engineers for five Coast highway bridges, was assured by Edward W. Miller, secretary of the Oregon Coast Highway association in a letter to the state highway commission, he said today.

He said his letter was suggested by recent opposition to the bridge plans which he understands originated with wood interests at St. Helens.

The letter declared the highway organization's principal aim was construction of bridges and he expressed faith in the engineers' specifications which have caused some objection because of the inclusion of steel and cement materials instead of wood. Miller pointed out that considerable timber already is called for in the original plans. He expressed fear further agitation might endanger the entire program.
