Extent of Injuries Unknown—Extent of the injuries received yesterday noon by Mrs. Rollin K. Page when the Buick car driven by her husband collided with one driven by George Roth at the intersection of Liberty and Mission streets was unknown last night. She was taken to her home where she was resting easily. Roth, in his report filed with the city police, claimed Page was exceeding the speed limit and that he, himself, was not driving more than 25 miles per hour. Both cars were overturned and severely damaged.

Expect Notice Soon—The Salem postoffice is expecting notice soon from the postal department of the continuation of a 15 percent pay reduction for employees which has been in effect for the past three months. In addition to the reduction in pay employees are now required to take a three day furlough each month without pay. This in addition to the 3 1/2 percent reduction for the pension fund makes a total of more than 25 percent cut in pay from the original salaries. Arthur Gibbard, assistant postmaster stated yesterday.

Milk "Rustler" Sought—Just one degree removed from the old wild-west pastime of rustling cattle is the summer sport indulged in recently by a person or persons near Detroit. The activity consists of tying up cows and milking them regardless of ownership. Sheriff A. C. Burk, called to Detroit Thursday, made an investigation but no arrests. It is thought that information obtained there may lead to an arrest shortly.

Correction: In the advertisement of Hoffman's Market in Friday's Statesman, fryers and chickens were incorrectly quoted at 12 1/2c per lb. The price referred to was for hologna and frankfurters, not to chickens.

Former Salem Man Files—C. J. Jensen, who received his elementary flying instruction from Lee Eyerly is now serving as co-pilot on the plane flying the mail route from Portland to Salt Lake City with the United Airways. Jensen for some time operated a flying school and superintended the airport at Beaverton. He was assigned this route recently upon completion of a course at Boeing field in Seattle.

HJORTH BEATS MAIL IN WISCONSIN TRIP

BRUSH CREEK, July 7.—Wednesday Mrs. M. J. Madson received a letter from her nephew Henry Hjorth written at his home at Deperre, Wis. Mr. Hjorth left here at 7:30 o'clock Thursday morning, June 29. Mr. Hjorth wrote that he had arrived home Monday morning at 2 o'clock.

He had driven the entire distance by himself and a letter mailed here to the Hjorth family the day he left arrived the day after he did at his home.

Roads, he wrote, were in good condition and he averaged a fraction over 19 miles to the gallon of gasoline. This would have been his best, if he had not had to buck an exceptionally strong wind through the eastern portion of Nebraska.

He found crops in Wisconsin looking exceptionally well with hay harvested in most places and corn over six feet tall on his home place.

THORPE IS SEATED IN BAY CITY POST

SILVERTON, July 7.—Silverton Lutherans were interested in learning of the installation of the Rev. H. J. Thorpe, formerly pastor at Patterson, California, at Trinity church in San Francisco on June 18. He succeeds the late Dr. E. M. Stensrud who founded the congregation in 1899 and who served it until his death in February of this year.

Rev. Mr. Thorpe, who received his education at Concordia college, and at the United Church seminary was formerly pastor at Portland and while there was a very frequent visitor at Silverton. He was also a missionary to China and has held pastorates at Belfield, North Dakota; Perley, Minnesota; Milwaykie, California and at Patterson, California.

Volunteer information was to the effect that the finished product contained six eggs (1), one quart of milk and a pint and a half of cream. Whether or not there was also sugar and flavoring and whatever else ice cream usually contains, could not be ascertained but the informant was sure it must have been good since none was left for him.

Fires Lacking; Salem Firemen Eat Ice Cream

In spite of the fact that no fires claimed their attention, Salem firemen found Friday a warm day, so Lee Cross made a gallon of ice cream for them — That is, he made the mixture and other members of the department turned the crank.
