

46 ATTEND REUNION OF SAWYER FAMILIES

Wheatland Scene of Gathering; Mark and Susan Crossed Plains, 1847

WHEATLAND, July 12—Forty-six members attended the 13th annual family reunion of the descendants of the Sawyers, pioneer residents of this vicinity who crossed the plains by ox team from Illinois in 1847. The reunion was held in the grove on the John Smith farm which is a portion of the original donation land claim taken by them in the Wheatland neighborhood. One son, Damon Sawyer, was present, he being the only surviving child of the family of 16 children.

Marion Hendricks of McMinnville gave two readings: Ray Antrim of Aloha, former president of the association, gave a detailed report of some phases of pioneer life.

A letter from Hugh Antrim of Tacoma, Wash., former mail carrier out of Amity to this vicinity who is now in charge of a group of C. C. boys, from Illinois, expressing his regret for being absent, was read.

Officers elected were: Mark Antrim of Aloha, president; Mrs. Ernest Shelburne of McMinnville, vice president; Mrs. L. L. Thornton, secretary-treasurer. A basket dinner was served at noon on a log table adorned with three huge bouquets, one of bright colored poppies, the other two were sweet peas and roses.

Out of the neighborhood members present were: Salem, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Thornton and son Leo, Mrs. Angie Dittmar, Mrs. Miller, Miss Reva Penrose.

Aloha—Mrs. Ray Antrim and son Mark, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Ackerman and family.

Woodburn—Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Myers and son and two grandchildren.

McMinnville—Miles Hendricks and daughter Marion, Mrs. Nora Briedwell, Miss Ella Hendricks, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Shelburne and two children, Mr. and Mrs. William Warmington and three children. Remainder of the group were local people.

The next reunion will be held the second Sunday in July at the same place.

Jefferson Has Number Summer - Time Guests

JEFFERSON, July 12 — Mr. and Mrs. Jack Johnson of Pocatello, Idaho are guests of Mrs. Johnson's sister, Mrs. Charles McKee and family. Mrs. Johnson is a former Jefferson resident.

Joyce Dickenson of Portland is spending some time visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Looney, as guest of Miss Louise Looney.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Hinz returned Saturday night from a trip to Sheboygan, Wis., where they visited Mr. Hinz's parents and other relatives. They also stopped in Chicago and enjoyed the world's fair. Helen Hinz, a niece of Mr. Hinz, accompanied them home, and will spend the summer here.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Powell and family arrived in Jefferson the first of the week from Port Angeles, Wash., bringing their mother, Mrs. Mary Powell home. She had been visiting at the home of her son for the past month. Mr. Powell is manager of the Montgomery-Ward store in Port Angeles and is enjoying his annual vacation.

TWO BIRTHS REPORTED

NORTH HOWELL, July 12 — North Howell friends of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Gotterburg, who now live in the Keizer district are extending congratulations to them on the birth of their first son, Gilbert Tennyson Gotterburg Friday. A new arrival in this community is a little son born Sunday to Mr. and Mrs. Percy Dunn who live near the grange hall. Mrs. Dunn was formerly Miss Betha Beals.

QUERY SANITY

An excellent closeup of Joseph W. Harriman, indicted banker facing trial for alleged defalcations from the New York bank that bears his name, whose attorneys have requested that their client's mental condition be examined. Testimony was introduced in an endeavor to prove that Harriman's "prolonged saturation with alcohol" had affected his mind.

Buckeroo Horse Buyer Loses Four Animals; Says Broken Heart Was Cause

MONMOUTH, July 12—W. R. (Ray) Adams, horse dealer and general stock buyer of Monmouth who has been transporting horses by the car load from eastern Oregon ranges to the Willamette valley for several years, making regular buying trips every week or two, was engaged to furnish 20 wild horses for the Molalla buckaroo. He tells interestingly of his experiences with Indians of the Warm Springs reservation, 40 miles from Madras, from whom he bought the horses.

"They didn't want to get down to the business of selling, right away. 'Have to make fun, first,' said one old Indian. So we staged a little exhibition of athletics, including some broad jumping. Then I rode one of their horses, and rode him hard, too. We also caught a horse just to show them we knew how to handle the ropes."

Asked how he rated in the show-off, Adams said it was his lucky day and he was able to out-jump every Indian who competed in the broadjump. After "making fun," they consented to part with some horses.

"Glenn Robison of Monmouth, who was with me, had never heard a wild horse snort," Adams says, "and didn't much believe me that these animals when frightened and excited can be heard a long way—they sort of whistle. But Glenn believed me long before we had caught the full quota. Four of our 20 died on the trip down. Not from the truck journey. They died from heart-break. Couldn't stand the shackles of captivity. One was a beautiful stallion 11 years old. The loss of his freedom meant death to him. And none of those horses reach Molalla with much of their original spirit. They were like creatures in prison away from the range."

Adams, one of the best known horsemen in this section, is an expert rider and horse trainer, and has promoted rodeos at Oakland, Oregon and elsewhere on his own—and on a shoeing, he avers. He has worked in partnership with Guy Ray and other noted exponents of rodeo fame. He was reared near Dallas, but he speaks the language of cowboys and rodeo riders like a native of the big range.

Mrs. Adams and their three sons joined Ray at Molalla. He thinks the buckaroo was equal in many ways to a Pendleton roundup. While he is eyeing and buying horses, Adams is watching the market trend on all kinds of stock, and is accumulating a big band of sheep toward the sheep-cycle comeback, which is forecast by stockmen to be on the upturn.

Dayton Orchardist Finds Peach Crop to Be Unusually Large

DATTON, July 12—Thinning of the two-acre peach orchard on the C. J. Countess farm in Unionvale is in progress. At least 2-3 of the fruit had to be picked and the trees are being strengthened with twine to support the remainder of the heavy crop, which is unusual for this season. Some orchards, because of the freezing weather last winter, are almost devoid of fruit.

HARTLEY CLAN HAS ANNUAL GATHERING

MACLEAY, July 12—The annual reunion of the W. Hartley clan and a few invited friends was an event of Sunday at the J. F. C. Tekenburg home, the original Hartley homestead.

The Hartley family landed at Macleay, October 17, 1865, and settled on the homestead just a short distance from an old Indian fort, which was on the donation claim of Ben Walden, first county judge of Marion county.

Since that time some of the family have always owned and lived on the home place. The family was among the early leaders here. Edgar Hartley of Salem, president, presided at the C. Tekenburg, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. amusing events of the early days were recalled by the president and his brothers Charles and Hiram. Maggie Hartley Knighton read a letter from Mrs. H. Smith giving the history of the Hartley family. Other numbers on the program were reading, Mr. Telkenburg, harmonica solo. Elmo Hartley, vocal duet, Roswell Wright and Rex Hartley, reading, Ida Hartley Tekenburg, vocal solo, Rex Hartley, vocal solo, Rena Horner Hartley, vocal solo, Rex Hartley, vocal solo, Carl Hartley, Mrs. Knighton, Salem, was chosen historian, and Mrs. Tekenburg, Macleay, assistant.

All officers were reelected including Edgar Hartley, Salem, president; Mrs. Knighton, Salem, vice president; Merle Bowen, Silverton, secretary; Carl Hartley, Salem and Ida Hartley Pate, program committee.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hartley, Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Hartley, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Hartley, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. C. Tekenburg, Mr. and Mrs. Ed.

Bowen, Mrs. Myrtle Cannon, Mrs. Lillian Robertson, Maxine Hartley, Mrs. J. Pate, Mr. and Mrs. Rex Hartley, Mrs. Irene Palmer Levine Cline, Connie Cline, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hartley, Elmo Hartley, Roswell Wright, Loraine Patterson, Mrs. Otto Schelberg, Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Hadley, Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Maceo, Margaret Magee and Hazel Magee.
