

VOTING PLACES FOR JULY 21 ANNOUNCED

Ballots of Those who Will Be Absent Must be Cast By Tomorrow, Word

Voting places for Marion county citizens in the special election Friday, July 21, were announced Thursday by U. G. Boyer, county clerk. Balloting will go on in 79 precincts with one board handling the voting and one doing the counting in the majority of districts.

Voting by residents who will be out of the county next Friday closes tomorrow at the county clerk's office. Absentee ballots will no longer be sent out as the time for making returns closes this week end. The only requirement for citizens out of the county by July 21 is that they register and cast their ballots by Saturday.

This week end Mr. Boyer will have all officials and sample ballots, together with voting precinct material, over to the sheriff's office which early next week will contribute the election equipment to the 79 precincts.

Paulus Cannery Employes Total 450 as Season Hits Peak; Many Crops Coming

Activity for the first half of the Paulus cannery here is at its peak, with nearly 500 men and women working on cherries, Royal Annes and black raspberries, red and black raspberries. On the payroll yesterday were exactly 450 persons.

Barrelling of Royal Annes will continue another week at least, and canning of blacks is just coming on, with about the usual size pack for this cannery to be made on the blacks.

Red and black raspberries will be coming in for another 10 days. A fairly good pack is being made. Logans will also come in until the end of next week, and a fairly large quantity is being canned.

Blackberries will make their first appearance at this cannery next week. After the berries and cherries are out of the way, a short lull will come.

The usual heavy pack of pears will be made during the last half of the season, and it is on these that the cannery will likely put to work its greatest number of persons. Last year as high as 800 women were employed on pears at one shift. The pear run lasted nearly 90 days. A heavy pack of fresh pears is also contemplated for the cannery. Brothers also do a big dried prune business, handling as many as any concern in the northwest.

While the prune crop in Marion and Polk counties is considerably off last year's, the crop for the entire state will be larger than last year, and in California a 10 per cent increase in the crop is reported this year.

So far no prune prices are talked, and none will be until after the California market is established. The market in that state exercises considerable influence on the Oregon price. No price on pears has been quoted.

Inquiries for flax fibre and flax tow are coming in considerable quantity to the state flax plant here for the first time in many months, officials of the flax industry reported yesterday. Firm offers at considerably higher prices have been made this week for a quantity of tow for which there was virtually no market a year ago. The tow is to be used in furniture manufacture.

During the last year, the policy of the state has been to contract a small amount of new flax and to dispose of heavy inventories as fast as feasible. The cash position of the flax industry is at present the strongest in its history.

ZAKS RETURN HOME
BETHEL, July 12—Mr. and Mrs. John Zak have returned from near Tillamook where they visited with their son Frank Zak and family, formerly of this district. They report that their little grandson Frankie Lee Zak was painfully, though not seriously, burned when a Roman candle exploded in his hand. Several of the neighbors' youngsters were also painfully burned at the same time.

SALES TAX IS BAD IDEA, ABRAMS SAYS

Declaring that the proposed state sales tax, to be voted on at the July 21 election, would not relieve the property owner measurably but would rather penalize him, Carl Abrams, state representative from Marion county, speaking at Lions club yesterday, termed the tax part of "an ingenious and gigantic scheme nationwide to take the load off the big fellow and put on the little fellow."

The sales tax idea he asserted was a national movement, "developed at the seat of great wealth."

By 1935 if the present three-mill state property tax were collected, all but $750,000 of the deficit would be paid off, Abrams averred.

"Fundamentally it is an absurd position to take," he claimed, "that we incur a deficit of $4,000,000 in good times and then determine that in two years (by a sales tax), when we are in the depths of a depression, we must not only pay our operating expenses but also pay off debts contracted in good times."

Mr. Abrams predicted "it will take little short of an uprising to throw out the sales tax, once it is passed."

Richer vs. Burke Case Expected to Go to Jury Today
Trial of Robert and Sarah Richer against Benjamin S. Burke, realtor, and the Metropolitan Casualty company, occupied the circuit court here yesterday and is expected to go to the jury today. Plaintiffs allege that they were unfairly treated in a deal in which they traded their equity in Everett, Wash., property for 20 acres of land in this county. The Casualty company is made a defendant as the concern which bonded Burke.

Posting of Grass Covered Lots to Be Started Today

City Engineer Hugh Rogers yesterday advised all property owners in the city to clear their lots, whether vacant or not, of grass and weeds.

"If these lots are not cleared at once, the properties involved will be posted by the city," he said, "and the city will proceed to cut the grass and charge it against the property."

Posting will be started today. Because in past years the city has experienced difficulty in collecting these charges, this year the street department, supervised by Rogers, will endeavor to collect through the city attorney's office, he added.
