

Senators Play House of David Today; Blank Albany 5-0

ALEXANDER TO START ON HILL

Johnny Beck his Adversary, Planned; Whiskers to Draw big Crowd

Looking like the best baseball team Salem has boasted in the last six years after two successive shutout victories in the State league, the Salem Senators will step out after bigger game today when they meet the strong House of David team, with Grover Cleveland Alexander of big league fame on the mound for the visitors, on Olinger field at 5:15 p.m.

The whiskered ball players have always drawn large crowds in Salem, and with "Alexander the Great" as an added attraction, should fill the Olinger field grandstand.

Manager Frank Bashor of the Senators announced Monday that he expected to start the same team which made so exceptional a showing in beating Albany Sunday, 5 to 0, and would start Johnny Beck, former Coast league pitcher who got his start as a Senator six years ago, on the mound. Beck has been turning in shutout games with considerable regularity for Woodburn in the Portland-Valley league, so is in first class shape; but he is now a regular member of the Senator squad and will be with the club the rest of the season. "Doby" Wood of Amity has also been signed up and will be on hand for relief duty and may come in handy as a pinch hitter. Wood pitched Amity to one victory over the strong Grants Pass team recently, and in a two-game series got five hits.

The House of David team has defeated a number of class A and B clubs this season, including Chattanooga in the Southern association, Rochester of the International league and Birmingham in the New York - Pennsylvania league; but lost a close game to Newark, a contest in which Andy Peterson, former Senator hurler, was one of the Newark mounds-men.

Tucker, Lowrance, Emmer and Wyckoff form the House of David infield, reading from first base; Dester, Lafleur and Holland will be in the outfield and Hill or Blending will catch. Alexander will start on the mound, but as he pitches every day, probably will field after two or three innings to Ambrose, Hunter or Tally.

The "pepper game" in which the whiskered boys make the agate fly about so rapidly the eye cannot follow it, will be demonstrated before the game.

Woodburn is Champion of Junior Nines

Woodburn's American Legion Junior baseball team grabbed the district championship Sunday by trouncing Hillsboro 8 to 1 in the final game of the district playoff at Woodburn.

The biggest crowd of the year in Legion park saw a spectacular game, replete with unusual plays. In which Bevens, lanky hurler for the home team, would have had a shutout except for a fluky home run by Barron of Hillsboro in the ninth. The ball bounced over a fielder's head and over the fence. Bevens struck out 11 batsmen.

Nicholson led the home team in hitting with three out of four, and Oberst was the individual shining light in the field.

The Woodburn team will next engage in the inter-district series with Milwaukie.

Elks are League Champions After Game Forfeited

The Salem Elks were claiming the Yamhill division championship of the Mid-Willamette Valley Baseball association Monday, following the failure of the Grand Ronde team to appear for the scheduled game here Sunday forenoon. If the forfeit is allowed the Elks will go into the inter-division playoff.

Can They Regain the Davis Cup?

By BURNLEY

Wilmer ALLISON --MUCH DEPENDS ON HIS PLAY IN THE SINGLES MATCHES.

17-17 © 1933, King Features Syndicate, Inc., Great Britain rights reserved.

HEADED by one of the greatest champions the United States has produced—Ellsworth Vines, the American Davis Cup team is all set for the last obstacle that stands in its way to meet France for the great and glorious trophy of the international tennis world.

Vines and Wilmer Allison will carry the responsibility for the singles engagements for America, while Johnny Van Ryn and George Lott will do business for the United States on the doubles side of the ledger. Lott is considered the greatest doubles player in the world.

The fine form of the American team may be credited in no small measure to the coaching of Mercer Beasley. Allison told reporters a short while ago that the chances of the team were improved twenty per cent by Beasley's work.

both of his singles matches if the two teams came to grips in the Cup finals. He may have reversed his opinion since the Wimbledon competition.

Vines himself is in top form, and his stunning victory over Cochet in the Wimbledon championships has given him great confidence, as far as confronting the French team is concerned.

It was Bill Tilden who rather trickled cold water on the American team's Davis Cup chances a while ago, when he said that he expected that Cochet would win.

Beasley seems to have a genius for being able to find the flaws in the playing of his charges and also what is more important—to be able to convince his stars that they are erring. That's a tall order, but Beasley has been doing that.

Only one game separated the Salem Senators from the two teams tied for first place in the State league, after Sunday's games which saw the Salem club turn in its second successive shutout, vanquishing Albany, 5 to 0, behind four-hit pitching by "Squeak" Wilson, while Eugene was pulling Bend down to its level with a 4 to 1 victory, and Wolfert's Federals were getting back into the race by trouncing Schapp's, 14 to 0.

Wilson had the Alcos standing on their heads trying to reach his curve ball all afternoon, and he struck out 12 batsmen. Only twice did the visitors threaten to score. They got two men on the paths in the fourth, but a double play stopped that rally and in the seventh Wilkinson doubled and went to third on a low third strike that put Dowling on base. With two out, Wilkinson essayed to steal home, but Dooley had to hit the ball and was thrown out at first base long after Wilkinson had crossed the plate. It was Wilson's third shutout of the season.

Finneys Arrive Here After Two Years in Orient

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald J. Finney and son, Gerald, arrived in San Francisco July 10, on the President Coolidge after spending two and one-half years in the orient where Mr. Finney was in the air conditioning business. After a stay of two weeks with Mr. Finney's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George R. Finney of Sheridan, Finney will go to Newark, N. J., where he will continue his connections with the Carrier corporation which is the largest air conditioning concern in the world.

Silverton Beats Yew Park Squad

The Yew Park Cubs, recently organized baseball team, was defeated Sunday at Silverton by the Silverton town team, 18 to 8. Yew Park scored four runs in the first inning and four in the third and was leading 8 to 0 when the Silverton management decided to send Birch to the mound to relieve Heath. From then on Yew Park got only two hits, Gentskow and Hunt being the only ones to solve Birch's delivery.

HAPPY CHAMPION RACQUETEER

Beaming a big smile of victory, Frankie Parker, 17-year-old tennis phenomenon, of Milwaukee, Wis., is pictured with the trophy symbolic of his triumph in the National Clay Court Championship at Chicago. The youngster, for whom a great career is predicted, beat Gene Mako in the final.

Dark Horse Hurler Helps Kingsley Beat Linen Mills Team; Pade's Nine Winner

Kingsley Ice trotted out a dark horse pitcher, inexperienced but capable, in the person of Roth Monday night to defeat Salem Linen Mills in a close Salem-Kingsley ball league battle on Sweetland field. Kingsley Ice won 5 to 4 after Frank Girod had performed a spectacular feat in the eighth inning to prevent the tying run from coming in, when he made a seemingly impossible catch of McCafferty's swat and turned it into a double play.

Salem Linen had scored in the third, two in the fifth and one more in the eighth. Kingsley Ice got one each in the first, fifth and seventh and two in the sixth.

Walt's Market started strong against Pade's Grocery, scoring four runs in the first inning and staying ahead until the third when the grocers scored six and later kept up the pace to win 20 to 9. George Scales had a perfect day, hitting six for six. Schwarz followed him with four safe base blows.

Wednesday night Walt's Market and Kay Woolen Mills, believed evenly matched at present, will meet at 8:30, and Salem Linen and Pade's will follow at 9:30 in another game which may be exceedingly close.

SPOKANE COUNTRY CLUB, Spokane, Wash., July 17—(AP)—In a dizzy par-shattering battle which made most of the spectators forget about the recent sensational performances of Albert "Scout" Campbell, young Seattle amateur, Walter Pursey, veteran Seattle professional, nosed out Ted Longworth, Portland newlywed; for the lead today in the first 36 holes of the Washington state open golf tournament, but only by clipping eight strokes off the regulation score card.

The 65 competitors, with the possible exception of Bert Wilde, of Bellingham, Bill Miller of Spokane, Willie Price of Olympia, and Campbell, were ready to concede the championship to the two sharpshooters after they cracked 15 strokes off par between them. Pursey reporting cards of 67-70-136, and Longworth 66-71-137.

REPEAL MOTORCADE PROGRAM TONIGHT

Final concerted efforts locally for repeal of the prohibition amendment will be made at the Wilson park public band concert tonight at 8 o'clock, when representatives traveling with the "motorcade" will speak also. Mayor Douglas McKay will introduce the speakers and the Cherrian band with Oscar Steelhammer directing, will furnish the music.

Salem's city charter provisions against prohibition will also be touched upon briefly from the realistic standpoint.

Preceding the park program, local hop growers, their families and friends have been invited by J. R. Linn to hold a picnic at his grounds five miles south of Salem, beginning about 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Motorcade speakers include Miss Lillian Harris of New York city, and Mrs. David Honeyman of Portland, both of the Women's Organization for National Prohibition Reform.

The Waite Memorial fountain will be in play.

Gervais Has Large Town Atmosphere

Gervais has become a crowded town in the past few days, what with all available houses taken and the hotel filled with the advent of highway pavement work which is utilizing that town as a basis. Mrs. I. V. McAdoo of the Gervais Star reported while in Salem yesterday.

The job is employing about 200 men. Contractor Blake of Portland has set up his plant at the S. P. railway in Gervais, and started grinding out cement Monday morning, the first being spread near the Romeo Gouley place. The plant is electrically lighted so a 24-hour basis of work will be carried on, three shifts working.

Contractor Blake has rented the lower floor of the Masonic building for his headquarters, and so scarce are living quarters at Gervais now, several cots for workers have been installed there. Negotiations are under way whereby the highway department will set up its supervisory office in the Becker building on Front street there.

NORTH SANTIAM COMPLETION AIM

ed $2,000,000 in forest money from the federal government, which has not been allocated by the commission. Out of previous funds $75,000 was assigned to the North Santiam recently. The quarter of a million dollars would make the road ready for full service in another year.

Map makers were called on, including Grand, Murphy, Statton, Dr. Lear, Silverton, H. R. Crawford, Otto K. Paulus, Willis Clark, W. M. Hamilton, E. L. Wiedler. A committee to solicit support from eastern Oregon towns was named, headed by Judge Stegmund. Resolutions for prompt completion of the road were prepared by Harry Crain, W. P. Ellis, Otto K. Paulus.

The road committees plan to organize the support so that the demand for early completion of the road will induce the commission to advance the funds needed from the monies now becoming available.

NOTICE OF FINAL SETTLEMENT

Pop, who developed such net stars as Mrs. Moody, shown (right) at starting of her tennis career, and Helen Jacobs, says little Miss Morgan has everything that makes a champ.

THOMAS REQUESTS SPECIAL MEETING

G. M. Thomas, state utility commissioner, Monday communicated with Fred Kiddle, president of the state senate, relative to calling a special meeting of the state emergency board to authorize the utility department to assess Oregon utility corporations in the amount of $27,000 and expend the money in utility investigations.

This assessment was authorized under a law enacted by the 1933 legislature. Thomas said he was desirous of an early meeting of the emergency board so that he might enlarge the engineering personnel of his department. Kiddle is chairman of the emergency board.

CURT COMMENTS

No brass bands, so far as we have heard, have been engaged to greet Grover Cleveland Alexander when he arrives in Salem today. The House of David boys will roll into town, whiskers flying out the windows of their big bus, and all greetings will be deferred until 5:15 when the great man tests the footing in the pitcher's box at Olinger field.

But if Salem were St. Louis and the calendar could be turned back to a certain jubilant Monday in October, 1928, there would be plenty of bands and plenty of welcoming committees on hand. For on Sunday Grover Cleveland Alexander had tamed the great Babe Ruth at the crucial moment in the final game of one of the hottest world series on record. He went in there and stopped the Yanks' rally after having pitched and won a hard game Saturday, and that had already been his second victory of the series.

The Salem Senators will so doubt walk up there this afternoon determined to show that Babe was a rank buster for letting Alexander throw three good ones past him. And no doubt the fans will be mightily interested in seeing how effectively the boys can prove it—not too effectively, we suspect, judging from reports of Alexander's recent achievements. Pitching a few innings every day, he is said to be just as good as he was back there in 1928.

About half the residents of the middle Willamette valley ought to be here; the Tangent fans to see what Bill Moyer can do, the Gervais fans to root for Ken Manning, Woodburn and Monitor people to pat Johnny Beck on the back and tell him to show up the maestro, Mt. Angel fans to pull for Paul Keber, Aurora fans for Lowell Gribble, Dallas fans for Rex Pemberton, Amity fans for Carl and "Doby" Wood, Turner fans for Archie Rankin.

That's certainly a remarkable representation of outside communities, but still the Senators are the most nearly a "home town" club they have ever been; the majority of those lads who hail from the surrounding territory have gone to school in Salem or live here now.

No wrestling show tonight. Harry Plant says it's too hot right now for an indoor attraction, but that the weekly program will be revived next week if just the right type of main event can be obtained.
