

WHEAT TALKS SLATED, POLK

Community Meetings Will Form Basis for Reduction of Acreages

DALLAS, July 20. — Following the county-wide meeting held in Dallas Thursday, when representatives of the state college explained the purpose of the government wheat production control plan, a series of community meetings will be held throughout Polk county by J. R. Buck, county agent.

Every wheat growing county in the United States is to have an opportunity to form a local production control association and the farmers joining this association will receive cash bonus payments from the federal government.

According to the United States department of agriculture there are $65,000,000 bushels of old wheat on hand now. This huge carry-over has been built up as a result of high tariff walls and increased production. In 1926 Germany, Italy and France had an average tariff on American wheat of 40 cents per bushel.

Each county association will be handled by a committee of local wheat growers elected by themselves and assisted by the county agent. Each community is to elect its representatives on the board of directors, and every wheat grower that goes into the reduction plan will have a vote.

A preliminary sign-up will be made at the community meetings when the local groups will choose their representatives on the board of directors. The contracts for the individual farmers are not yet available but should be out in a short time, according to F. L. Ballard, of the extension service of the state college.

Harvesting is Late In Silverton Hills Country, Reported

SILVERTON HILLS, July 20. — Hills farmers are reporting that their harvesting is considerably later than that of the valley below them. Hay cutting has not yet begun here and will probably not begin for another week or ten days.

The clover crop and autumn grain grows out so that all the hay is practically composed of spring planted grain. Farmers report that under the conditions they have had to put up with this spring, the hay and grain harvests will be comparatively heavy.
