BANKS PROMISE HELP FINANCING RECOVERY PLAN

Hugh Johnson Reports Much Encouragement in big Employment Drive

Borrowing Held Justified By Objectives, Avers National Leader

WASHINGTON, July 29.—(AP) Hugh S. Johnson came back to Washington today with a code for the automobile industry and predicted a full measure of success for President Roosevelt's reemployment campaign.

Striking back into the work of directing the recovery movement, the administrator waded through reports from postmasters and commerce department officials throughout the nation before making his prediction. The reports showed that scores of thousands of employees were covered already by blanket agreements promising higher wages and shorter working hours to spread employment.

Meanwhile, the administrator came a pledge from 11 of New York city's largest banks to do their part in expanding credit to finance an increase in trade.

Asserting the objectives of the recovery program "justify all the support that can be given to them by the banks," the letter said:

"Production Loans Deemed Justified

"Loans made in connection with the industrial recovery program may be likened to seasonal loans. They will be made for the financing of the production of inventory, the liquidation of which the success of the president's plan would insure.

"Such loans should be granted, of course, only where the credit of the borrower justifies it, and such a loan must be considered on its own merits, but all loan applications which pass the ordinary banking requirements should, and undoubtedly will have, a patriotic consideration from banks."

The action of the metropolitan institutions was interpreted by officials as the beginning of a general movement throughout the country to make finances available.

More impetus was given the movement by a letter circulated by Mrs. G. Morrison Poole, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, urging all members not to patronize, as far as possible, establishments "who seek a temporary advantage by failing to sign the President's reemployment agreement."

KIDNAPING PLOT AT S. F. IS REPORTED

SAN FRANCISCO, July 29.—(AP) —The Chronicle tonight said information concerning a reported plot to kidnap George P. McNear, Petaluma capitalist, had been obtained from an official of the Sonoma county sheriff's office.

McNear, who is head of a grain firm and a director of a number of corporations, denied any knowledge of the reported plot, the paper said, and declared guards at his Petaluma home were watching for robbers.

"I was informed," he was quoted as saying, "that my house was to be robbed and I have taken a few precautions."

Gallery managed to draw himself back into his seat and land.

FEHL IS QUOTED AS ADVOCATING THEFT

Rev. Kring Says Judge had Suggested it to him; Nealon Testifies

MEDFORD, Ore., July 30.—(AP) — Testimony, damaging to Earl H. Fehl, Jackson county judge facing trial in Klamath Falls on charges of burglary and in a dwelling, was introduced Saturday afternoon when Rev. O. R. Kring, formerly a leader in the so-called good government congress stated on the witness stand that Fehl had discussed the stealing of the ballots with him about two weeks before they were taken from the courthouse vault.

Kring, a metaphysical teacher, arrested last March for criminal syndicalism, stated that Fehl said to him February 6: "How would you like a chance to go down into the vault, and take out some of the ballots?" Fehl had told him "the safe is generally open and it will be easy." The ballots were stolen the night of February 20 during a meeting of the "congress."

County Commissioner R. E. Nealon, whom Fehl's followers had requested to resign after his appointment in January, testified that Fehl had proposed the appointment of a night watchman after the ballots were stolen. He said that when County Clerk George Carter informed Fehl the ballots were stolen "by breaking the window," Fehl leaned back in his chair and laughed. "Whoever heard of a safe with windows in it?" Nealon testified. Nealon said that on the afternoon before the ballots were stolen a group gathered in the court room and when he opened the

July Already 93 per Cent Over June; Inquiries Contain Promise

Death of Modern Homes is Factor; two Downtown Structures Likely

Prospective building projects in Salem give some promise of boosting the 1933 permit values up to equal or better those of last year, bits of information and forecasts picked up among builders during the past week indicate. And a rising trend in building noted early in the year has continued this month in a greater degree than noted in any previous month.

July permit values to date have been 93 per cent over those of June, which month proved the banner one for the first six months of the year. The 45 permits issued this month have reached a point just $59.71 below those of July, 1932, or a total of $27,920.39. For the year, permits are still $31,844.55 below those of the first seven months last year.

It is known that certain downtown property owners, who yet decline to reveal any plans, are considering erecting at least two business buildings. If present brightening business prospects continue, builders believe leases will be signed up to occupy the proposed structures and the work will be started.

Alterations and repairs have figured prominently in building operations this month and estimated costs amounted to $19,077.39 for 33 projects. The largest was actually new construction, the $15,000 two-story addition to the former warehouse. New construction costs undertaken this month are $8895, or more than half of any previous monthly total of both repair and new building permits.

Hit and Run Cases Occur On Schedule

It's getting to be a habit — hit-and-run driving on Saturday nights. On each of three successive Saturday nights a hit-and-run accident has occurred, and each time within the half hour before midnight.

The first was the most serious, involving the death of Wu Hong, well-known Chinese resident of Salem; the second was fatal to a horse and caused serious injury to a youthful equestrian.

Last night's hit-and-run was a minor affair. The automobile of B. W. Jewell of Mill City, was parked in front of 1830 North Commercial street. An unknown driver crashed into it, damaging the rear portion of the car severely, and kept on going.

WORLD WHEAT AGREEMENT IS PRESENT HOPE

London Conferees Request Wallace Delay Ruling On Curtailment

Threat to Dump U. S. Grain In Orient Repeated by Agricultural Chief

(Copyright 1933, the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, July 29.—(AP) —Hopes of the Roosevelt administration for an international wheat agreement were revived today after a cabled appeal to Secretary Wallace from delegates to the London wheat conference to withhold his decision on acreage reduction here.

It was said authoritatively Wallace was notified that a new and informal effort to reach an agreement in being undertaken, although delegates at London representing the United States, Canada, Australia and Argentina recessed their conference Thursday until August 21.

Farm administrators were said to have notified the London conference formally that it was willing of an agreement they will be willing to curtail acreage here up to 15 per cent.

Soon after the conference recessed Thursday, Wallace indicated he was unwilling to wait longer for an international agreement. He said that within ten days he would announce the percentage reduction farmers would be required to make to qualify for payments up to a maximum of 20 per cent.

At the same time, Wallace renewed his threat made at Chicago recently to sell surplus American wheat in foreign markets at less than domestic market prices.

He said farm administrators are protesting against any portion of wheat processing that proceeds a movement of wheat from the Pacific northwest to the orient. He added that anti-dumping restrictions in Europe would prevent it from being marketed there.

He said that Chinese offer wheat in Chinese markets for as little as 50 cents a bushel.

REACH AGREEMENT ON MILK HANDLING

First Accord Approved by Wallace Under U. S. Marketing Act

WASHINGTON, July 29.—(AP) —The first marketing agreement under the farm act—covering the distribution of fluid milk and cream in the Chicago area—was approved today by Secretary Wallace.

It becomes effective Tuesday noon and represents another step in the administration's effort to improve and stabilize farm prices.

More than 100 additional agreements are expected by farm administrators to be negotiated within the next six months, affecting the distribution of milk, vegetables, fruits, eggs, poultry and other important food products.

The agreement establishes minimum prices to be paid by consumers to producers, wholesalers and retailers and outlays many competitive trade practices including price-cutting by distributors.

It is exempted from prohibitions of the anti-trust laws unless Wallace says otherwise. (Turn to page 3, col. 1)

SHOTS FIRED AT POLICE AIDES IN BOETTCHER CASE

Machine gun Bullets Miss Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Ellsworth Who Gave Information Leading to Identification of Sankey and Elkhorn; Attack Indicates They are Back In Denver or Accomplices are Active

Unconfirmed Reports say John J. O'Connell, Jr., to be Released Soon; Ransom of $40,000 Reported Paid; Police and Relatives Silent but Reveal Hope of Youth's Release After Many Weeks

DENVER, July 29.—(AP) —Four shots from a machine gun were fired tonight in what police said was an attempt to assassinate Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Ellsworth, who gave the Denver police the leads which resulted in identification of the Boettcher kidnapers.

The bullets crashed through a window of the Ellsworth home, one of them missing Ellsworth's head by a few inches. His wife was not in the room at the time.

Police immediately started a search here for Verne Sankey and Gordon Elkhorn, alleged leaders of the kidnap band that abducted Charles Boettcher, 2nd, wealthy Denver broker, and held him in South Dakota for two weeks before $60,000 ransom was paid.

They believe Sankey and Elkhorn may have doubled back to Denver after being sought in every state from Canada to Mexico. At the same time Mrs. Ellsworth revealed that Mrs. Fern Sankey threatened to "get me" when she confronted them in the county jail here. Mrs. Sankey is the wife of Verne.

The Ellsworths were seated in the kitchen of their home visiting with neighbors. Ellsworth walked into the dining room to get a package of cigarettes. As he reached for them on the dining room table four shots came crashing through the window pane.

BROWNSVILLE, Pa., July 29.—(AP) —Into the heart of Pennsylvania's great bituminous coal region, national guardsmen moved tonight with orders from Governor Gifford Pinchot to preserve peace in the strife-torn fields where more than 12,000 miners are striking for union recognition.

Quiet prevailed in the many mining settlements that dot Fayette county after the governor ordered 325 soldiers to the area because Sheriff Harry E. Hackney refused to withdraw deputy sheriffs who had been instructed not to allow pickets to assemble in groups.

More than 20 mines, many owned by the H. C. Frick Coal and Coke company, a subsidiary of the United States Steel corporation, suspended operations.

Governor Pinchot, directing Major Kenneth W. Momeyer to lead the 2nd battalion, 112th infantry, to the mine fields, expressed hope that "not a single shot will be fired or will need to be fired."

His order authorized military control over the strike zone. Constitutional lawyers said the order had the effect of creating martial law, though the governor avoided use of the term.

Sheriff Hackney disputed the governor's order, and said he still is the chief authority in Fayette county. He indicated he will cooperate with the troops if they cooperate with him.
