Weakness Belied: Mart for Eggs Dull; Chicken Tone Still Firm

PORTLAND, July 31 .- (AP)-There was heavy sale of butter over the weekend and floor stocks of jobbers and churners were geteing well cleaned up. No change was suggested in open market prices for the week's opening but it was noted that most values $375 | were held at least at exchange fig-

> Indications that the market is not as weak as suggested by the recent tactics of outside interests was that butterfat values were occasionally shown with a premium of 1/2 to 1 cent pound and especially so for sweet, which was scarce. Most of the cream arriving was sour for which the trade was apparently paying the extreme price. Basic prices appeared to be dull. Weather conditions were still the chief factor against adequate consumption and with production increasing — in the pullet line - there was a surplus suggested in the daily movement. Market for chickens continued some price advances. Demand was favorable in practically all lines. For turkeys the call continued in excess of supply. Throughout the market for country killed meats, with the exception of beef, which remained more or less stagnant, there was a rather good call suggested in late trade with prices held at recent betterment. Fractional decline was showing in the market for new potatoes locally with a rather liberal movement. Digging operations of early crop were now general and quality was gaining. New Walla Walla onions were fairly steady, also old locals. A few new local wax were arriving and selling 2 cents pound. Youngberries were still finding GERVAIS, July 31. - Fire which is thought to have been started by a transient completely destroyed a large barn and two siles belonging to C. T. Brixey, three miles south of Gervais, Sunday noon. The fire had gained such headway when discovered and with the dry condition and a strong north wind it was impossible to save it.

The fire crept through some trees at the south, a nearby building caught in the roof several times and the new barn on the R. S. Harper place was endangered. A water tank thought to be from the paving plant at Gervais and the hook and ladder truck from Woodburn responded and it was by their efforts that and a small amount of hay. All the fire.

Fluctuation Limit is Unsettling Factor... Close Lifeless

CHICAGO, July 31-(AP)-Complete collapse grain markets today for the third day in succession, prices going down the extreme limit allowed, and later remaining prostrate.

Definite fixing of 3 to 5 cent boundaries for daily market fluctuations either up or down appeared to operate at least temporarily as a means of unsettling instead of reestablishing confidence of traders: Some leading grain specialists said the limits which had been adopted by the various American exchanges in connection with rovernment officials at Washington had soured holders of future delivery contracts, and had disturbed prospective new buyers. More stringent requirements as to financial margins needed were also a factor. During much of the day, all grain business was virtually at a standstill, with receivers of cereals unwilling to accept rural offerings because there was practically no futures market available in which purchases of immediate delivery grains could be "hedged." By "hedging" is meant a trade method equivalent to insurance for operators who wish to avoid a speculative risk whether down or up.

A minimum price of $20 per ton for Pacific northwest pears. with a price of $25 for Medford and Sacramento pears, is being urged by the tree fruit industries' session at Seattle. A minimum price for prunes will also be urged, and tree fruit leaders in session have urged the president to fix an emergency price for these two commodities, harvest of which will open this month.

tention of supporting the $20 minimum level suggested, according to word from Seattle. However, some canners object, presumably to "cash in" on rising values if they can buy on a low market. If the $20 pear minimum becomes an actuality, this will double the early season offerings said to have been made by one of the price-demoralizing canners in the northwest. This canner,

Leading canners of the northwest have already signified in-

Wool Mart Quiet; Undertone Firm

BOSTON, July 31 - (AP) -- (U. S. Dept. Agr.) - The wool market is quiet but the undertone is firm despite the comparatively Hmited inquiries from manufacturers. The quietness of the marbet is a development that has been widely anticipated in the wool trade and consequently is not resulting in any appreciable change in wool quotations. The estimated receipts of domestic wool at Boston during the week ending July 29, according to te Boston Grain and Flour exchange, amounted to 19,877,200 pounds as compared with 25,391,100 during the previous week.
