Auxiliary Benefit Is Brilliantly Successful

One of the large and lovely events of the summer months was the benefit tea sponsored by the American Legion auxiliary in the beautiful gardens of Mrs. Clifford Brown's home on Mission street Thursday afternoon.

Twenty-five tables of bridge were in play on the tennis courts during the afternoon and, altogether, more than 150 women called. High scores for contract and auction went to Mrs. Roy Hurst and Mrs. Frank Prime, while Mrs. Carlton Smith was awarded the gate prize.

Big bright lawn umbrellas lent splashes of color to the wide green lawn.

At the serving table, centered with blue hydrangeas and sweet peas and draped with tulle into which were knotted gay bouquets, Mrs. C. P. Bishop, Mrs. R. J. Hendricks, Mrs. Lizbeth Waters, Mrs. George Pearce, Mrs. J. T. Delaney and Mrs. Dorothy Eakin of Dallas, presided.

A group of younger women in gay organdie frocks served. Mrs. W. S. Levens, Mrs. C. A. Sprague, Miss Dcrothy Pearce, Mrs. Susan Varty and Mrs. R. W. Hans Seitz representatives of Salem musical organizations, assistgroups of non-bridge players ga- Beechler. thered to chat and enjoy the flow-

Edith Wedding Date Announced

A surprise announcement of more than ordinary interest was Miss Edith Starrett, daughter of Mrs. J. V. Starrett, announced her betrothal to Arthur N. Green, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Green of Portland, and the approaching date of her marriage as August 19. The news was cleverly announced by radio at a bridge paring and freezing several gallons of ty for which Miss Starrett was hostess in her home.
