1919 TRANSACTION SAVES MAN'S FARM

Grateful Friend Made by L. M. Johnston in Alaska Pays off Mortgage

Louis M. Johnston of Silverton is rejoicing a second time over a real estate deal he handled during his "sourdough" days in Alaska in 1919 for an Oklahoma man whom he had at that time never met. For this deal the results in the Oklahoma oil fields has redounded to turn back a tide of ill fortune that threatened him.
Johnston found it impossible to make payments on a mortgage on his farm in the Waldo Hills district, but refused to quit trying. Accompanied by an elderly man who wore a dingy blue suit and a big hat, a diamond in his necktie and a nugget on his watch chain, Johnston Thursday walked into a Salem loan office and tossed on the desk a sheet of currency that saved his farm.
Johnston was broke—flat broke, and that's what brought Nick Thomson on a run from Oklahoma City to help his chance acquaintance.

In 1919 Johnston was in Alaska, a qualified sourdough who had entered the real estate business at the town of Hyder. One day a letter came from Thomson in Oklahoma, whom Johnston didn't know, requesting that he sell a piece of property near Hyder, keep what he wanted for commission, and return the balance.
"I had a chance to sell it for $900," said Johnston. "I guess I could have sent Nick Thomson a hundred dollars and he would have been satisfied. But I knew it was worth more than that."
"Then the Gugenheimer Mining company located nearby and wanted to know what I would take for the Thomson property. I answered that I had no idea what it was worth."
"Well, I said, 'it ought to be worth $60,000.'"
"The upshot was that a year after I had been offered $900, the Gugenheimers bought it for $40,000."

Four years ago Johnston invested $19,000 accumulations in a farm in this county, but hard luck piled up—sickness, separation and death all visited his family. Last week foreclosure was started.
"You're not going to take it," Johnston said he told them, knowing it was just talk.
He hopped a freight train to Portland, borrowed $2 and hitchhiked to Seattle. "I went down where the Gugenheimer boats dock," he said, "hoping I would see someone I knew. I didn't."
"And I couldn't find a sourdough who had any money to loan. Then I thought of Nick Thomson, the man I had befriended—hardly remembered what he looked like."
"Just send word to Oklahoma City. Everyone knows him and advised a sympathetic listener."
"I did. And right away his answer came back. 'I'm on my way.'"
A sourdough hotel proprietor furnished Johnston a room, and Thomson settled that bill before he brought Johnston to Salem where the $7500 worry was cleared.

A committee will have an authentic history of the Dayton Block House printed and framed and put on the historical old blockhouse, used at Grand Ronde in the Phil Sheridan pioneer days and moved to the Dayton park more than 20 years ago.

A White Elephant benefit bridge party was planned for one evening next week on the R. D. Johnson lawn.

Refreshments were served by Miss Lena Stilwell and Mrs. Cleve Gell, the committee in charge of the meeting. The next meeting will be held at the Orr Goodrich home.

Woodburn—Fred Nelson, bride-elect, was honor guest at a kitchen shower at the Austin home, with Dorothy Austin as hostess.

Guests of the evening were Gelta Mae Hunt, Roma Kallink, Jessie Sims, Bertha Thompson, Margaret Mochel, Thelma Anouby, Ann Barton, Mrs. Gerald B. Smith, Mrs. John P. Hunt, Mrs. T. C. Poorman, Mrs. Elbur S. Sims, Mrs. H. M. Austin and Miss Nelson.

Miss Nelson has announced that her marriage to Donovan Gray of Albany will be in August. She has been the inspiration of many pre-nuptial affairs.

'Spooky Tavern' Well Presented, Jason Lee Cast
A crowded house last night greeted the presentation of "Spooky Tavern" by the Jason Lee players. The clever melodramatic comedy of college life brought its full share of excitement to the enthusiastic audience which filled the church auditorium of the Jason Lee church.

The play, directed by Miss Beulah Graham, was well cast. The parts of Joyce Wingate, Ralph Channing and Bedelia, taken by Mary Lois Driggs, Keith Middlemore and Claraburn Burns, were especially well acted.

School District Funds Warrants Previously Held
Salem school district has just paid off $1700 worth of warrants marked "unpaid for want of funds." It was reported at Clerk W. H. Burghardt's office yesterday. The warrants were numbers 4023 to 2043.

The remaining $1300 of the $3000 the district recently received from Smith-Hughes funds will be used in paying $1200 interest September 1 on two Leslie junior high school bond issues sold in 1927. Of the original $120,000 Leslie issue, $48,000 remains to be paid and of a $10,000 issue for the same school, $4000 is outstanding.

25 Head of Jerseys Sold To Los Angeles Dairy at Price Average of $100

WOODBURN, Aug. 4.—John Fick left this week for Los Angeles with 25 head of his prize registered Jerseys. They have been sold to the Valley Dairy company, the deal being handled by E. A. Rhoten of Salem. The price was approximately $100 a head.

The Valley dairy is also interested in buying a few loads of Guernseys and Holsteins to use on their large dairy farm in the south and their representative is with Rhoten in making the selections.

The Ficks bought their first registered Jersey in 1912, purchasing a cow and heifer calf from A. D. Gribble, Canby, Ore. With the exception of one other cow they have not purchased any cattle, other than herd bulls; and since the date of their original purchase they have sold over 200 head of Jersey females for over $20,000, and now have approximately 100 head left on the farm. They sold one bull for $1000. He went to Japan.

As a result of carrying on with the dairy herd their farm is now very productive, and the fields are loaded with heavy crops of grain and hay and they have a large, handsome herd.

Rosedale Has Daily Bible School; Crop Harvest Well Begun
ROSEDALE, Aug. 4.—A daily vacation Bible school is being conducted at the church and will extend to August 13. Twenty-one children enrolled the first day and it is expected the number will increase.

Several from here attended the Christian Endeavor conference at Twin Rocks last week. Loganberry picking is about through and some have been haying though the dampness has put an end to that for the present.

SUNDAY WORKERS MEET
KEIZER, Aug. 4.—The Sunday School Workers' council of the First Christian church of Salem held a conference and pot luck dinner Tuesday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Cole. A wester roast was enjoyed over the new rock fireplace. The council, numbering 85 was composed of officers, teachers and other workers in the Bible school.
