Bald Men Will Grin When Others Follow Fashion, Get Permanents

By D. H. Talmadge, Sage of Salem

THE Tennessee Pioneer association is holding its annual picnic at McMinnville today. I've met up with some pow'ful fine folks from Tennessee and I know some pow'ful fine folks who are living there now.

A right smart weather growler gets as much inspiration from 90 degrees of temperature (office hours from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m.) as he used to get from 90 degrees of temperature (office hours from 6 a. m. to 6 a. m.) in certain other parts of the country. Still and all, there were groans intermingled with the erstwhile growls, which same are missing now.

A man of 70, without relatives, friends or money, committed suicide by throwing himself in front of an automobile near Grants Pass a few days ago. An opportunity here for some brilliant worker in humor to say something funny. The incident was certainly as funny as the comedies we see now and then at the movies, and a bit funnier than any one of three or four announcers who inject cheap puns and mechanical wisecracks into an occasional news reel or travel film, which otherwise would be enjoyable. (Not aimed at you, Mr. McNamee.)

Of course, there are heaps of folks who have never acquired the gentle art of minding their own business. Sometimes it seem too bad that this is so. Just the same, dear friends, it is well that we deal not too harshly in our thoughts with those meddlers who are actuated only by kindly, even though misguided, motives.

Kip Brickles says to me he's just took notice his hair is getting mighty thin—recoons he'll be plumb bald before it gets to be the fashion for men to have permanents, and he ain't carin' much.

A feature of the theatrical week in Salem—which city, by the way, now has five theatres, a new one, the State, having been opened during the past week—was the appearance (not in person) of Ann Harding. This young woman has attained, with a few other young women of the silver talking screen—perhaps five or six—that point where the public is no longer indifferent to her talent, is no longer content with mild praise of the "good enough" sort, but either declares itself in terms of enthusiastic praise or not at all. This is, perhaps, the most dependable indication of true dramatic power.

Thanks to Jimmy J. for a cockroach. Jimmy labored for a time under the impression that he had found a rare bug. Anyhow, it was a very nice cockroach—for a cockroach.

Possibly there is nothing in which exists greater difference than the "atmosphere" of mercantile establishments, unless it be cities and towns.

One Cent a Day Brings $100 a Month

Over One-half Million Dollars Already Paid in Cash Benefits

One cent a day ($3.65 per year), invested in a National Protective Policy, will now buy more insurance benefits than can be secured from any other company for any amount up to $10 per year.

This new policy, paying benefits up to $100 each month or $1,000 to $1,500 at death, is now being sold to all men, women and children, between the ages of 7 and 80 years, whether employed or not.

The benefits for auto accidents of $100 a month (instead of the usual $50 a month) is said by many to be alone worth the entire cost of $3.65 per year. Yet this is but one of the many features of this new and unusual policy.

The National Protective is the largest and oldest company of its kind in the world. It has paid over six hundred sixty thousand dollars ($660,000.00) in cash to thousands of its policyholders when cash was most needed.

Send No Money

For 10 days' free inspection of policy, simply send name, age, address, beneficiary's name and relationship to National Insurance Co., 746 Pickwick Building, Kansas City, Mo. No medicinal examination or other red tape. After reading policy, which will be mailed to you, either return it or send $3.65 which pays you up for a whole year—365 days. Send today while offer is still open.

CATHERINE HAENER FUNERAL OBSERVED

INDEPENDENCE, Aug. 5.—Funeral services were held here this week for Mrs. Catherine Nuxoll Haener, wife of A. J. Haener, a prominent hop grower, who died at the family home in the Hopville section southeast of Independence July 29. Services were held from St. Patrick's church in Independence with Rev. E. J. Murnane of Corvallis giving the requiem mass, and interment was in the Catholic cemetery at Mt. Angel.

Mrs. Haener was born November 11, 1888, at Effingham, Ill., her parents being Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand Nuxoll. When she was 18 the family moved to Green Creek, Idaho, later going to Ferdinand, in the same state, where she was married to Mr. Haener October 18, 1904.

The family home was maintained there until 1916, when Mr. and Mrs. Haener and other members of the family went to Washington and finally coming to Independence six and one-half years ago.

Besides the husband Mrs. Haener is survived by four sons and five daughters. They are: Ray, Bertha, Mrs. Clifford Jones, Mrs. Gay Menke, Delbert, Alfred, Ella, Virgil, Dorothy Ann, all residing in this locality excepting Mrs. Jones, whose home is in Newberg. There are also five sisters

Almond Crop Be Fair, Report

A fair crop of almonds, slightly larger than last year's, is reported by Alderman Sam Hughes. Although almond trees are not generally considered well-suited to this climate, Mr. Hughes has been successful in raising them on a small scale; he has two trees on the corner of Chemeketa and 18th streets. The feathery pink blossoms in the spring are as much a reason as the good quality nuts produced, for retaining the trees, his neighbors believe.

AT YACHTS FOR FORTNIGHT KINGWOOD, Aug. 5.—Mr. and Mrs. Rollin Beaver and Mrs. Mary Beaver are spending the first half of August at the newly erected summer home of the Beavers at Yachats.
