Dealers Must Register—Registration of a dealer is a regulatory provision, and issuance by the secretary of state of a set of dealers' plates upon registration and receipt of the $25 registration fee, is one of the considerations received by the dealer for such registration and payment. Attorney General Van Winkle held in an opinion handed down here yesterday, "I am of the opinion that it is compulsory for a dealer to register, and therefore, to pay the registration fee of $25." Van Winkle said. The opinion was requested by Hal E. Hoss, secretary of state.

DEMPSEY-WILLARD FEUD IN FADE-OUT

A feud, said to have existed since 1919 when Jack Dempsey battered Jess Willard into insensibility and took his heavyweight laurels away, was publicly ended recently at the Main Street Gymnasium, in Los Angeles, when the two former heavyweight champions met in the center of the ring and cordially acknowledged each other's greetings. The "referee" (center) is Jimmy McLarnin.—International Illustrated News Photo.

MANAGER PLAN IS BACKED BY M'KAY

Business Organization for City Essential, Mayor - Informs Kiwanians

Declaring "nobody but a fool would be a mayor now," Douglas McKay, incumbent mayor, renewed his plea for a city management form of government before the Kiwanis club Tuesday noon.

McKay said the present Salem government was one of 15 men, "all honest and willing" but none able because of the press of private affairs to devote adequate time to city affairs. "Our government system is antiquated," McKay declared. "It is a relic of horse and buggy days." The mayor declared he was not "mad at the council. They're fine fellows. I'm too busy to carry groceries," McKay stated, referring to the council's refusal to put a city management form of government on the July 21 ballot. "Nevertheless I'm still for a city management plan and I'm going to continue for it."

The mayor said he was convinced a city organization might well follow the plan of a corporate business: stockholders being the citizens, the board of directors a small elected group determining policies, and the president or manager, the administrative head of government. McKay said he did not think a commission form of government as satisfactory as an aldermanic-manager form. He said he favored abolition of wards in Salem, a smaller council, closer coordination between departments and a determined move to reduce costs of government.

"Business does not function properly unless there is supervision or competition," the mayor declared. "In the city government there is neither. In private business the sheriff get us if we do not function properly; in public business here all we do is make up the deficit by levying more taxes. The boys in the council have no one to tromp on them. In business unless we are efficient we get kicked in the pants."

McKay said he would not be a candidate for city manager, had no candidates in mind and was perfectly willing to select a manager, when and if one was chosen, "on merits."

"Some people say a manager form is all right if we 'get the right man,'" McKay stated. "I say we can get the right man. We may have to go through a trial and error period but we can get the manager in time. If we don't like the man we first pick, fire him and get another; that is what is done in business."

Reach for a Lucky - for always Luckies Please!

I can't help feeling that "Toasting" makes a difference

I do not treat my choice of a cigarette lightly... for, as with other little niceties of life, my cigarette is a matter of intimate concern with me. After all, I do place my cigarette between my lips! And so, when I say "Luckies Please" — I am paying a tribute to that immaculate feeling I have when smoking a Lucky. And that is my own individual reason for saying "Luckies Please!"
