SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 8.—(AP)—Portland rallied in the seventh and eighth innings after being held to three hits in the first six to defeat the San Francisco Seals 3 to 2 here tonight. Zinn and Koupal engaged in a hard-fought duel with the former winning a close decision.

Zinn held Portland in the palm of his hand for the first six frames but Portland pushed over one run on three hits in the seventh and two on three in the eighth for the winning margin. Johnny Moore, Portland second baseman, scored the winning run on Sankey's right field fly after reaching third on a triple.

Stayton Enters Protest on two of Elk Tossers

STATON, Aug. 8.—(Special)—Though it played Sunday's game with the Salem Elks under protest, the Stayton team defeated the Elks 15 to 5 and therefore will not have to carry the protest to league officials. The protest was filed because two players were in the Elks' lineup who had not played on this team previously.

Meyers and Thoma of Stayton struck out eight batters between them and Swegle and Mason of the Elks fanned eight. Wild pitches and errors enabled Stayton to run up its large score, the hitting of the two teams being nearly even.

Keoch of Stayton had a perfect day at bat.

FRED STEELE WINS

SEATTLE, Aug. 8.—(AP)—With a smashing right uppercut to the chin, Freddie Steele, Tacoma welterweight, knocked out Frankie Petrolle, New York, in the third of a scheduled 10-round boxing bout here tonight.

Frank Dolp and Campbell Northwest Qualifiers for National Amateur Tourney

TACOMA, Aug. 8.—(AP)—With par-shattering performances Frank Dolp of Portland and Albert "Scotty" Campbell of Seattle today won the right to represent the Pacific northwest at the national amateur golf tournament at Cincinnati, September 11-16.

Dolp, twice winner of the western amateur crown and a former Pacific northwest champion, captured medal honors in the sectional qualifying play for the third time when he clipped six strokes off par for a new 36-hole competition record of 138 at the Tacoma course.

Campbell was only two strokes behind Dolp in the sectional play, putting together two brilliant 70's over par-72 layout. Dolp was four under with a 68 in the morning and added a neat 70 in the afternoon.

Egan, winner of the championship in 1904 and 1905, turned in a 75-78-153 to assure himself a place in the 1933 event. Stuart Hawley, Oakland youngster, paced the field of eleven with a 73-75-148.

There are innumerable angles to sports which don't make sense, and we have long since ceased to rail against "things as they are" unless there is a chance to remedy them. Take the case of Johnny Oravec. He got his name in all the papers for failing to touch second base, whereas the really important thing was that he drove in three runs.

But here's something else that's strange. Johnny is known to those who officiate at football and baseball games, as one lad who always comes right out, who asked and tells just what happened, whether it's for his side or the other side. And Johnny says he touched second base. Earlier in the game he missed first base and went back to touch it, which is another point on his side of the argument.

If, some sunny afternoon, we should walk down State street and snub any of you fellows with whom we are acquainted—walk right past you with our nose in the air—blame the N. R. A. The final word hasn't been said, but it appears that the government is going to recognize newspaper writers as belonging to the professional class along with doctors, lawyers and college professors. That is in lieu of a 40-hour week and an increase in pay, insofar as the N. R. A. is concerned. So it looks as though we'll have to high hat everybody excepting our fellow-professionals men, as compensation for being deprived of those things.

The Salem Senators are going to practice this afternoon and Friday afternoon, and we rather imagine the boys will all be on hand. Bashor says they'll have to or they don't go to Bend Sunday.

A western railroad carried 500,000 passengers in 13 years without the loss of a passenger's life.

HEIBERT-ADAMS BOUT IS SIGNED

Rough St. Helens Grappler To Meet Milkman on W. Salem Card

Logger Heibert, rough grappler from St. Helens, and Hugh Adams, the Savvies Island milkman, will meet in the only one of the West Salem American Legion's three bouts on the open air arena card for Friday night that has been changed from the lineup announced for last Friday night but postponed on account of rain.

Heibert and Adams, middleweights, have met before and are known to be well matched. Otis Clingman of Oklahoma and Mickey McGuire of West Salem are matched in the bout which is expected to prove of greatest interest to West Salem fans, as their fellow townsmen made a good showing in his first appearance two weeks ago, and Clingman is recognized as one of the leading middleweights now operating in the northwest.

"Bulldog" Jackson will be on hand again, meeting Dorry Detton. Both of these men were on the opening card at West Salem, against other opponents, and the fans know what to expect.

Pop Bottle Throwing Plays Part in Mat Show; Bennett and Karasick are Winners

Gentleman Al Karasick showed the world of would-be collegiate grapplers the benefit of years of experience by putting down Everett Kibbons of the Oklahoma Agricultural college for two out of three falls in the main event of last night's wrestling card at the armory. Seeing that Kibbons could not handle the Russian Lion, a member of the audience tossed a pop bottle from the balcony into the ring, glancing off the Russian's ankle. Karasick claimed injuries of the worst sort but continued the match.

Karasick, one claimant of the light heavyweight crown, had little difficulty in handling Kibbons as well as Doc Nelson, the referee. He slipped out of Kibbons' holds and applied his own for 11 minutes finally to gain the first fall with a flying mare. Gentleman Al returned intent on finishing the match but was stopped by the pop bottle thrower. Time was called this morning after two days' trial before Judge L. H. McMahan. The court yesterday granted a non-suit against William J. Keen, originally named as joint defendant, but allowed the case to proceed as far as the Greyhound Lines are concerned.

Lewis was a passenger on the Greyhound Lines and got off a stage at Hubbard. He was struck by an auto driven by Keen. Counsel for Lewis claimed the stage line dropped him at a place along the highway where the bus had not stopped heretofore.

BOND FORGERY IS CHARGE IN KANSAS

TOPEKA, Kan., Aug. 8.—(AP)—Developments in a municipal bond forgery case rocked Kansas' capital city today, resulting in the closing of three state banks, and one man was arrested, charged with having a part in the scheme. Ronald Finney, bond broker and son of W. W. Finney, prominent Emporia banker, surrendered late in the day after being charged with uttering $20,000 in forged bonds to the National Bank of Topeka. He was released on $25,000 bond and his preliminary hearing was set for September 5.

Governor Alf M. Landon disclosed that eight issues of Kansas municipal bonds, purchased by the state school fund and held in the vault of the state treasurer, totaling $329,000, had been forged in duplicate, making

UTILITY DISTRICT HEARINGS FRIDAY

Hearing on the petition for the formation of the Clackamas people's utility district which seeks to appropriate 60 second feet of water from Eagle Creek to supply Milwaukie, Gladstone, and seven other cities, will be held at Milwaukie at 10 a. m. Friday. The hearing will be conducted by the state hydro-electric commission of which C. E. Stricklin is secretary.

The existing water projects which have joined in the petition for formation of the utility district include Barwell Park, Clackamas, Mt. Scott, Oak Lodge, Portland suburban, Stanley and Wicki. These districts are now obtaining their water supply from the city of Portland. Officials said a number of protests probably would be filed before the hearing is concluded.

The development contemplates the expenditure of approximately $500,000. Eagle Creek is a tributary of the Clackamas river.

SCHOOL POSITIONS ARE HARD TO FIND

A dearth of teaching positions persist for graduates of Willamette university with a large number of recently graduated students unable to find work this fall. Willamette university officials said yesterday.

Some students are still hopeful they will be placed before the fall term starts inasmuch as a number of high school boards are delaying contracts until they determine how many rural pupils will attend. Abolition of free transportation in several counties have made school boards uncertain about the number of pupils to plan for.

Mrs. Mary L. Fulkerson, county school superintendent, said yesterday that almost all positions in the rural schools have been filled. Some applications for jobs are nevertheless being received almost daily.
