PEAR PURCHASE BY HUNT'S CONFIRMED

Confirmation was given here yesterday of southern Oregon reports that Hunt Brothers cannery here this week purchased 1000 tons of pears in Douglas county at $15 a ton. This deal presumably marks the opening of pear buying, as no other deals have been reported.

Whether it sets a market for the year is a question, as recently pear growers from the larger northwest producing areas have attempted to settle on a $20 per ton selling price for this year. The same figure has been talked for peaches, which last year sold at an average price of $6.50 per ton.

Canners in session in Seattle this week agreed to purchase their requirements at not less than $15 for No. 1s 2 3-8 inch Bartletts and $10 for No. 2s. This canners' agreement was reached on provision that the adjustment administration protect canners by bring California and other Northwest canners, including co-ops, into line on buying prices.

Hunt Brothers will start their 1933 pear pack about September 1. Work at the big plant here is virtually at a standstill, save for some cherry pitting on the maraschino deal. This year more cherries are being pitted here than in past seasons, this work being done with mechanical equipment. The brine cherries are being shipped out about as fast as pitting is done.

ROTARIANS WILL BE POTATOES' TARGETS

The women aren't going to be left off the sports program for the Rotary picnic Tuesday night at Hazel Green park. In fact, judging from the lineup made Friday by the committee, the women are pretty apt to make sport of some of the Rotarians.

For the women's sport program includes, among other things, a "potato throwing contest with selected Rotarians as targets." Other events so far arranged include a nail driving contest and potato spoon race.

George G. Brown, Otto A. Hartman and C. E. Wilson, the Rotary committee named on the women's sport program, met at luncheon Friday with Mrs. William McGilchrist, Jr., president of the Rotary auxiliary, and Mrs. George W. Hug to plan these sports events, which will follow the 6 o'clock dinner.

O'DUFFY CALLS OFF BLUE SHIRT PARADE

DUBLIN, IRISH FREE STATE, Aug. 12—(AP)—General Owen O'Duffy, organizer and leader of the Blue-shirted national guard, today cancelled a parade scheduled for Sunday announced as in honor of three late Irish leaders after the government had issued an order banning the demonstration.

O'Duffy announced that instead he was planning organization of church parades the following Sunday.

The national guard leader yesterday announced plans for the parade in which he made it clear it would be in uniform a move to which President Eamon de Valera said he was opposed.

The parade was announced to be in honor of Arthur Griffith, president of the dail eireann, who died August 12, 1922, of Michael Collins, chief of the provisional government, who was shot and killed ten days later, and Kevin O'Higgins, Free State minister who was assassinated July 10, 1927.

Fears had been expressed that violence might result.

C. C. C. LADS FROM EAST FIGHT FIRES

TWIN FALLS, Idaho, Aug. 12—(AP)—Civilian conservation corps workers from New York and New Jersey centers, drawn from Porcupine Springs camp, 50 miles southeast of Twin Falls, Friday were fighting a brush fire on the northwest border of the Minidoka national forest, approximately 14 miles south of here.

The blaze that was reported late today to be creeping into heavy timber, is the first in the Minidoka forest area for many years. It started Thursday in brush and moved southward, covering a two mile area by nightfall, when it had about five miles to go to reach the timber.

A party of 60 civilian conservation corps workers which fought the fire throughout the night, was relieved after 24 hours when the Porcupine Springs road construction crew of 80 men was dispatched to the scene at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Toledo Grand Circuit racegoers saw the oldest and youngest big time drivers in action — Steve Phillips, 92, and Gibson White, 18.

LIFTING OF GRAIN LIMITS NEAR

Trading on Saturday Brings Prices to July Minimum

CHICAGO, Aug. 12—(AP)—Brought to a standstill by measures adopted to meet recent emergency conditions, all grains stopped today at the lowest prices possible until August 16.

On that date an absolute fixed minimum level of quotations will be no longer in effect, and trade predictions were numerous today that the markets would then quickly right themselves. Talk was general that any further declines in grain values appeared likely to result in an excellent class of buying, as many traders of late had remained apart from grain operations, while prices have been subject not merely to a daily 5-cent limit up or down, but banned altogether from going below the closing level of July 31.

In something of a general selling rush of buyers, every kind of grain quickly reached the July 31 minimum, and the markets remained in a deadlock the rest of the day, closing flat, wheat 2⅝-3 3-8 cents under yesterday's finish, corn 2 3-8- 3 3-8 down, oats 1-8 to 1 3-4 off.

Today's closing quotations:

Wheat: Sept. 92 1-8; Dec. 95 3-4; May 99 7-8.

Corn: Sept. 49 3-8; Dec. 54 3-8; May 60 1-8.

Oats: Sept. 36 3-4; Dec. 40 1-8; May 44 1-8.

BETTER TRADE IN TOMATOES NOTED

PORTLAND, Aug. 12—(AP)—Pressure against poor grade butter continued on the open market for cubes but top scores were holding up well. There was no change in the price list for the weekend either on the open market or on the produce exchange.

Make of butter continued chiefly below top score which has created a weakening situation for the offgrade while forcing fair strength for extras and standards.

Butterfat values were at least steady.

Trading in the egg market continued to reflect more or less steadiness with the exception of undergrades which were weak.

General maintenance of country meat prices was shown for the day, a condition that has ruled in all lines except beef from the week's opening. Beef remained slow.

Betterment in the tomato market was again showing. Local stocks were insufficient to take care of needs.

Slow opening of the peach trade continued. Retailers were well stocked with California Elbertas and J. H. Hales but appeared to show little interest in Oregon Crawfords.

There was a weaker tone for local potatoes with further increase of offerings.

APPLE CROP SHORT

Apple production in the Yakima and Wenatchee valleys will be lower than estimated early in the season. Present indications are for 11,000 cars in the Yakima section and about 7,500 from Wenatchee.

Record Production is Yakima Forecast; No Mildew now

Pacific coast hop crops all look like bumper yields, and especially so in Yakima, where the estimate now is for the largest and best crop ever raised. Quality and quantity both look excellent.

In Oregon, growers have gotten bravely over downy mildew apprehensions, thanks to warm weather the past few weeks. Now the Oregon crop, harvesting of which will get under way the end of this month, is estimated at 90,000 bales, about a third greater than last year. Had not mildew made some inroads early in July, the crop would likely have reached 100,000 bales.

If present weather conditions prevail, California will come in with a heavy crop, around 50,000 bales. Extremely hot weather in the Sacramento section the last 10 days or two weeks probably knocked 2,000 bales off the harvest, but growers still look for 50,000 bales.

Holdover in all three coast states is at startling low ebb. Oregon has only 992 bales of 1932s on hand; Washington, 946 bales; and California, 1950 bales. This is holdover in growers' hands.

Local hop sales the past week have been largely mixed lots and old ones. Denny McCleary of Silverton sold last of 1928 hops held in Oregon at 18 cents to Hart. The lot was 84 bales. McCleary also sold 50 bales of 1929s at 22 cents to Hart. Hart bought Russell's 1932s at 40 cents and 34 bales from E. B. Fleet at 46 cents. Hughes purchased 86 bales of 1931s from Fook Chung company for 25 cents.

A week ago 800 bales of 1932s were sold in California at 39 and 40 cents.

Medium Quality Fleeces Strong

BOSTON, Aug. 12—(AP)—(U. S. Dept. Agr.)—The first few days of the past week were quiet in the wool market on all lines except medium quality fleeces which were selling in moderate quantity at very firm prices. In the middle of the week a few mills began to buy more freely western grown wool of 58s, 60s and finer qualities. The price trend was very steady on most lines, mediums showing a strengthening tendency.
