Checkup of Compliance to Begin That day, Says "General" Ellis

fative on the state industrial accident commission and the second speaker, asserted that "workers have a duty and obligation to perform in this program, by joining with your fellow workers to assist in putting over this NRA movement." He characterized the movement as "a new Magna Carta for labor."

Speaking for Mayor Douglas McKay, Alderman David O'Hara promised to lend his support in getting governmental bodies to participate in the NRA hour and wage plan as soon as possible. He pointed out that Salem was particularly affected by the status of governmental payrolls and that budget management prevented immediate readjustments.

United States Senator Charles L. McNary, who was to have addressed the gathering, telegraphed that he had been ordered by his physician to make no public appearances this month and expressed regret at being unable to be present.

Roy R. Hewitt, local attorney, summarized the national recovery act and declared that it essentially called for increasing the purchasing power of the people. He averred that immediate price increases thwarted the act's purpose.

The fifth speaker, A. M. Church, said "the first thing has got to be bigger payrolls."

Frank Crosier, president, and T. C. Amend, secretary, of the Salem Trades and Labor council sat on the platform, with James Preble presiding over the meeting.

Retail lumber dealers from Albany, Corvallis, Lebanon and all towns in the Salem district will meet at the chamber of commerce this afternoon at 2 o'clock, when W. C. Bell of Seattle will discuss the lumber dealers' NRA code and its administration.

The recently formed Shoe Repairers' association of Salem and the Radio Trade association will hold meetings at the chamber of commerce next Tuesday night. Matters relative to NRA operation will be main discussion.

MEETING OF TRUCK OWNERS IS CALLED

Owners, and at present just 1,033 trucks and busses have been issued P. U. C. plates.
Anderson says talk of losing the $5 license fee is "barracking trouble," and believes that the special legislative session now talked could make a "reasonable law" with a small fee per ton mile and eliminate other unnecessary regulations and requirements.

According to Staehl's comment on the truckmen's opposition to the West bill, Anderson said this was misleading, and commented further:
"The general public can readily see now that this bill passed by the legislature is far worse for the majority of people than the West bill was. But after the West bill was defeated and the four wheeled trailers were permitted to remain on the road, the larger operators known as the Allied Truck Owners appeared to be well pleased with this law when they knew it would throw thousands of smaller trucks out of their way. The yardstick used by the Allied Truck Owners to measure the flaws in the West bill is not used to measure the bill that was passed by the last legislature."

Where are the Beauties of Yesteryear?

The recent marriage of Miss Mary Katherine Campbell, "Miss America" in 1921 and 1922, in New York, inspires the question above. The former Fay Lampher, the most famous "Miss America" of all, who won the title in 1925, is now Mrs. Winfield Daniels, wife of her school days sweetheart, and the mother of a baby daughter. She is happier now than she was when the world was at her feet as the reigning queen of beauty. Not all of our beauties enjoyed such a happy aftermath to their hour of glory. Mrs. Fred Nixon-Nirdlinger, who as Charlotte Nash, of St. Louis, was acclaimed as one of the world's foremost beauties, married a Philadelphia millionaire. He died by a pistol bullet and his widow stood trial for his slaying. Another tragic beauty was Julia Bruns. She rose to the heights on the stage, but finished her career in squalid surroundings, a victim of acute alcoholism.

LAW SCHOOL WILL GAIN ENROLLMENT

Prospective Freshman List Double That of Last Year, Announced

Prospective freshman enrollment in the Willamette university law school has doubled this year, Roy M. Lockenour, acting dean and professor of law, announced yesterday. To date 30 students have signified intention of registering September 18, when classes will start.

Enlarged enrollment, addition of a number of prominent attorneys on the lecture and faculty lists, and improvement of law library facilities give promise of making the coming term one of the best the law school has had in recent years, Lockenour said. Admission to the law school is according to standards of the Association of American Law Schools and requires that the applicant have at least 90 term or 60 semester hours in an approved college or university.

The law school faculty for the 1933-34 semester will, in addition to Dean Lockenour, include C. M. Inman, Willis S. Moore, Ray L. Smith, William P. Ellis, Victor R. Griggs, Walter E. Keyes, A. M. Page, Lyle J. Page, William H. Trindle and Edward M. Gillingham.

On the list of law lecturers for the year are Judge Harry H. Belt of the state supreme court; Circuit Judge James T. Brand of Marshfield; Circuit Judge James W. Crawford of Portland; Judge James Alger Fee of U. S. district court, Portland; State Senator John D. Goss of Marshfield; Charles B. McCulloch, specialist in law of public utilities, Portland; Arthur I. Moulton, specialist in law negligence, Portland; George Mowrey, chief deputy district attorney, Portland; George Neuner, ex-U. S. district attorney, Portland; Albert B. Ridgeway, ex-president Oregon Bar association, Portland; Judge George Rossman, state supreme court; Roy F. Shields, assistant solicitor general for the United Pacific railway system, Portland, and Circuit Judge Robert Tucker, Portland.

and one that we greatly regret, particularly at this time when so many men are in need of employment, that there should be this enforced delay in starting the Salem mill. Nevertheless we shall try to continue in a limited way the work of preparing the Salem mill for operation, in the belief that the courts will sustain the commission's ruling."

Mickey Mouse NOTES

Hello!
M. M. C.
Yes, I had a swell time, thank you.

M. M. C.
But one thing that surprised me very much was that there isn't one Mickey Mouse club in Seattle running in the summer time, and those that run in the winter time don't have any interest in them. Maybe it's because the boys and girls in that town aren't like those here. Well, me for Salem.

M. M. C.
I'm awfully sorry "Boots" had to be master of ceremonies last Saturday, but I couldn't get anybody any cheaper than I paid "Boots."

M. M. C.
Yes, it is quite warm.
M. M. C.

On the program last Saturday were Barbara Duncan, Priscilla Simpkins, Marie Stutesman, Dean Arent, Emma Miller, Curtis Whittle, Bootsie Woodsie, Jane Lama, and Barbara Lea Cherry.

M. M. C.
The annual Oregon Statesman, Mickey Mouse club Pet Parade, and dress up contest will be held Saturday morning, September 16. Start thinking about it and I'll tell you more about it later.

M. M. C.
Not long before it's Mickey's fifth birthday.

M. M. C.
We're going to have an adaptability tryout today. I'll tell you all about it at the matinee this afternoon.

M. M. C.
The special feature for this afternoon with the regular feature Slim Summerville and Zasu Pitts in "Her First Mate" will be "Wings of Adventure." The title suggests a good picture.

M. M. C.
Remember that we keep it very cool at the matinee.
So Long,
ZOLLIE.

OREGON RECOVERY BOARD ORGANIZES

senger as secretary of the Oregon and Idaho district board, called the state board together.

A decision was reached to take immediate steps to organize counties of the state behind the Blue Eagle emblem of the NRA. The chairman was authorized to contact existing city and county organizations to coordinate their work with the state program.

The functions of the state recovery board are to be supplemented by a state recovery council, for which a member from each of the 36 counties will be sought.

The state board is responsible to the Oregon-Idaho district board, which reports directly to Washington.

The board agreed today to adopt the county system of organization for Oregon. County members of the state council will be responsible for organization of all communities in their counties. The state council of 36 members will be advisory to the state recovery board.

"This board has the power at will to advise, report and act when requested by NRA," Hines said. "The state board creates it and it acts as field inspector for the state board."

He told them there was a new element in their troubles. The N. R. A. program, he said, would raise prices and make it impossible for the farmer to buy, unless his condition were improved immediately.

The terms of the plan, as he presented it, were:
The government would buy enough pigs, light hogs and sows due to farrow in the fall to remove from the markets between 600,000,000 and 700,000,000 pounds of live pork. This would be done "as rapidly and effectively as possible," and the farmers would be paid prices "which encourage cooperation."

GRAM EVIDENCE FOUND IN CUBA

Eight Soldiers Held After Bodies of Political Prisoners Found

toms collections have fallen off sharply. The dock workers' major demands, including wage raises, decreases in the weight of sugar bags, abolition of ferries and a requirement that ships anchor in mid stream instead of docking, have been met.

Shipping interests contended the strike was being prolonged by communists. The relationship of the United States to Cuba should be one of "mutual profit," President de Cespedes said in an interview today.

"We desire you to buy our sugar and we want you to be our best source of supply for many things," he said. "We want to be your largest customer if possible. The importance of having a sugar supply at your door was made evident during the war, and this should make the United States interested in maintaining good conditions in Cuba."

C.C.C. TO OPERATE SIX MONTHS MORE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18—(AP)—The Civilian Conservation Corps will be maintained at full strength for another six months but president Roosevelt hopes many of the men will find jobs to make way for others to enlist.

Mr. Roosevelt was advised there was enough work ahead to employ the 314,000 men for the full year.

However, he is writing a personal letter to the men asking that they make an earnest effort to find regular employment so that their places can be taken by others desirous of going into the forests.

If any of the men are unsuccessful in finding regular work after a honest effort, Mr. Roosevelt is willing that they shall re-enroll for the second six months. He asked today that the army and forestry service find locations for 450 new camps. This number will be moved from the deep snow regions during the winter, but it will be necessary to locate all of them in the south.

State police announced Friday that they had not found any clue to the unidentified man who was detected early yesterday while attempting to set fire to a store at Mehama.

The officers spent virtually all of Thursday combing the hills in the Mehama vicinity. Clarence Bass, light watchman at the store, fired two shots at the man.

A can of gasoline abandoned by the prowler is being held by the police.
