

MORE MEN NEEDED IN PINE INDUSTRY

Present Volume of Output and NRA Requirements Cited by D. T. Mason

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 22.—(AP)—Approximately 5000 additional men will be needed in the western division of the lumber industry to maintain the present volume of output and payrolls in the division will be increased $12,000,000 as the result of the national recovery code for lumber, David T. Mason, general manager of the Western Pine association, said here today on his return from Washington. D. C. Mason went to the national capital to assist in drawing the lumber code. Declaring that the "question was settled harmoniously" and expressing the belief that "we have a workable code," Mason was optimistic about the outlook. "With the code in effect," he said, "it is expected the cost of production will be increased about 33 per cent, the increase amounting to about $5 a 1000 feet. Because of this fact, one of our chief problems will be to educate the buying public with the increased cost. In the code, the Western Pine association was designated as the "agency of lumber code authority" to administer the code in this division.

"The control of production will be placed entirely in the hands of the association. On the basis of expected consumption, the association will determine a production quota for the territory. Assignment of allotments from the division quota will be made by the agency to each operator in the division."

He added that the association will attempt to find an average cost of production, and on that, a minimum price will be based, with no one allowed to undersell the set price. He said no profit will be figured, as the principal object is "cost protection."

DAVIS GOING BACK FOR ARMS PARLEY

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Aug. 22.—(AP)—President Roosevelt made a final effort for success of the troubled world disarmament parley today, sending Norman H. Davis back to Geneva to seek an elimination of weapons of offense and an international armaments control commission.

Mr. Davis, after his three hour talk with the president, departed hopeful but neither optimistic nor pessimistic over the future of the 18 months old parley, agreeing that the political and psychological conditions in Europe were probably the answer to a solution.

While he did not discuss today with the president the French plan for an armaments commission, Mr. Davis said it fitted in with the ideas of Mr. Roosevelt and with some modifications would win United States support.

Mr. Davis believed the time between now and the reconvening of the parley October 16 would tell the tale.

There was no doubt here that the disturbance over the proposed German-Austrian alliance was one of the main political problems to be faced but there was no intimation of the attitude of this administration toward that.

Texas Repeal Fight Warm

Determined that the Lone Star State shall remain dry, Senator Morris Sheppard, called the "Father of the 18th Amendment," is making a whirlwind tour of the State, exhorting its citizens to stand fast against the flood of wet sentiment that has swept 21 States into the repeal fold. On the other side former Governor Jim Ferguson is telling the State to "support the President," intimating that repeal is an essential part of the New Deal. Considerable weight is carried by Postmaster General James Farley, exhortation to the voters to join the repeal column. As Farley has the dispensing of Federal patronage, his advice is not to be taken lightly.
