Work on Lewis Hall House Progressing; Old Residence Lost: SILVERTON HILLS, Sept. 4.—Work on the new home on the Lewis Hill place here is progressing rapidly. The old house burned to the ground in June and Mr. Hall, himself a carpenter, at once began the erection of a new home. The house is of English design. It will have five rooms downstairs and three upstairs. There will be a full basement and complete modern plumbing. Mr. Hall, who has the assistance of Mike Peterson, has the basement completed and the first floor laid. He hopes to complete the framework by next week. In October, Mr. Hall said, he hoped to have the house sufficiently completed to move into, as living in tents during the rainy season is not comfortable.
