

Two Long Shots Win, Cause Boom in Race Wagering Here

EIGHT EVENTS LISTED TODAY

Mutuels pay $169 and $156 Stimulating Interest; All Races Close

By CLAYTON V. BERNHARD
Portland-mutuel wagering at the state fair races reached a new high mark Thursday when more than $1,000 was paid into the windows, two numbers paying more than $150 in two different races, and spirited contests marked Portland's day here.

The dope sheet was completely upset in two contests resulting in the payment of $169 and $156 in different events, causing the more than $1,000 fans to reach a peak in frenzied climax. Wagering during the day doubled that of the best previous day and the races themselves proved thrillers.

The upsets occurred in the fourth and sixth races. In the former all the dope favored Dick Smith, Sandy Man or Watauga, none of which came into the first four places in the five-eighths mile run. Motor Bell, at 20 to 1 odds, owned by Z. B. Bennett and guided by H. Scourge, came in first to pay the high price on the night.

Ruth's Babe, another dark horse came in second while Sig Morgan placed third. Several tickets were out with these numbers as well as combinations.

In the sixth race, the second place horse paid the big money. W. Chap, not at all figured, followed the favored Broom Lady to the finish. Three bettors collected in big style on this race while several others collected near the century mark on combinations.

The distance horse, Krackerjac which won the governor's derby on the opening day of the fair, but failed to place in the mayor's race yesterday, today won by a length the wreath presented in honor of Mrs. Julius L. Meier. Mrs. T. A. Livesley of Salem presented the wreath in the absence of the governor's wife, G. Tille, owner of the horse, accepted with thanks and R. Allen, jockey, bowed to the crowd.

But it was this same jockey in the last race upon whom was claimed a fever after bringing in the winning horse, Passalong. Jockey Froggatte claimed he was held on the outside stretch until he was passed and as a result his mount, Deep River, came in second. The judges did not disqualify the horse but sent Allen back and prohibited him from riding further during the present meet. A perfect nose-to-nose start featured this race.

All other races were close, and without mishap. Ochoco Lass was left at the barrier in the third race, but finished with the bunch. Eight races will be run today, Farmers' day at the fair, it was announced.

Summary (Pay-off on basis of $2 mutuels):

AMERICANS FIGURE IN ITALIAN GAMES

TURIN, Italy, Sept. 7.—(AP)—United States track and field athletes today won one title in the national inter-university games in Mussolini stadium, took second place in another event and qualified two men for the finals in two others.

Henri Laborde, of Stanford, won the discus throw to set a new meet record with a toss of 48.9 meters (160 ft. 5 1/2 in.) while Johnny Morris, of Louisiana State, qualified for the finals of the 110 meter-high hurdles and Ivan Fuqua, of Indiana, qualified for the 400 meter dash final.

The lone American setback came in the 300 meter-run where Joe McCluskey, former Fordham ace, was passed in the last few yards by Umberto Certal, of Italy. Certal's time of 8 minutes 43 seconds also set a new meet record.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 7.—(AP)—Hurling shutout ball as he made his big league debut, Johnny Margum, rookie right-hander, pitched the Athletics to a 6-to-0 victory over Cleveland today, giving the A's two straight in the four-game series.

Appearing on the mound for the first time since Connie Mack brought him from Louisville, Ky., in the American association, Marcum held the third-place Indians to five hits, struck out four men and showed coolness and steadiness in the pinches for his victory.

CARNERA TO MEET EQUALLY TALL FOE

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7.—(AP)—Hugo Primo Carnera, (April's) champion and Jose Santa, who while not casting an elephantine shadow like Carnera stands six feet eight inches in the air, will share three rounds here tomorrow night in an exhibition featuring Promoter Tom Gallery's regular boxing show.

It will bring together two of the bulkiest boys in the business. Carnera, who makes the scales creek at a point somewhere over the 260-pound mark, has not lost any weight while playing a featured part in a recent picture filming at Hollywood. The towering Portuguese, Santa, is in the 240-pound class.

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 7.—(AP)—Sacramento accomplished a couple of things tonight worth special mention.

First of all, the solons defeated Portland 6 to 1. It was the second straight win and the first time in 30 days that the team chalked up two in a row.

Secondly, Ed Bryan won his first game since early in July, halting a streak of 11 straight defeats. Despite this record, he has turned in 19 victories for the year.

And lastly, Dolph Camilli boarded a plane for Chicago right after the game to join the Cubs in the windy city tomorrow.

Young Gridster Hurt But Auto Is Given Blame

OAKLAND, Cal., Sept. 7.—(AP)—In a critical condition with a fractured skull and a broken leg, Wesley Welsh, 14, of Marshfield, Ore., was an early-season football victim today—but an automobile was to blame.

Playing a game of "sand-lot" football with friends here, young Welsh made a wide end run, passed in front of the car and was struck down, police reported. He was taken to a hospital.

When Willamette university's gridsters take the field this fall, the color scheme will be cardinal and white, rather than the university's traditional cardinal and gold. No, Spec Keene isn't trying to upset tradition; but it has been found that however admirable cardinal and gold may be on pennants, freshman glee banners and sweaters, there is not quite enough contrast when it comes to football toggery.

Then again, white shows up especially well under the floodlights, and it is customary with football teams to have one set of jerseys predominantly white, for use in case the enemy's colors conflict with the home team's.

There will be cardinal jerseys, and then white jerseys with cardinal stripes; helmets in cardinal and white and cardinal stripes on the trousers. Whether Spec's boys win or lose, they'll look good doing it.

Not many matches have been played so far in the president's cup tournament at the Salem Golf club. In the one championship flight match played to date, Frank Lynch defeated Bert Victor. This was regarded as an upset in some quarters, but we hear Frank has been shooting consistently good golf recently.

Not that we intend to go out and risk our hard-earned kopecks on the ponies—we wouldn't mind the money, you understand, but we always refrain from betting so as to maintain an untrammelled point of view toward all sports—but we sat down last night and tried to figure out an unbeatable system.

Playing combinations is too obvious. But supposing a fellow played first selection on each race, starting Tuesday after the first selections were announced. Planking down two dollars on the top selection in every race the last three days, where would this theoretical bettor have wound up? Well, if he played the favorite straight, he would be $35.50 to the good by now.

But it just happens that first selections won three of Tuesday's races, three on Wednesday and one on Thursday. You can't expect the favorites to win half the time. Taking a safer angle and playing the favorite to show, the theoretical bettor would be only $6.73 to the good; but he would probably have had fewer anxious moments, for the favorite showed in five races Tuesday, three Wednesday and two Thursday.

Each of West Salem Mat Bouts Tonight Promising; McGuire Meets Fast Foe

Fans' attention will be pretty evenly divided at West Salem tonight among the three one-hour bouts on the card which the American Legion post will offer in the open-air arena.

Mickey McGuire always gets in the limelight as a home town boy, and his bout with Dorry Detton is deemed to be an exceptionally promising match because both participants habitually eschew rough tactics, even when victims of such practices; a clean but hard fought bout is in prospect.

In the other two contests, men who have never before appeared in the West Salem arena, but who have done considerable wrestling in this vicinity and are favorably known, will participate; Jack Mitchell, formerly of New York, meeting Otis Clingman, and Thor Jensen, the "Elkton Thunderbolt," opposing Hugh Adams.

Clingman and Adams are already acquainted with the West Salem mat and the fans know what they are likely to do.

Clingman and Mitchell both wrestle in reasonably clean fashion but both are lightning fast. Both enjoy favorable past records, Clingman having been navy champion while Mitchell was once a regular performer in Madison Square Garden.

Fans who insist on mayhem will probably be accommodated in the Adams-Jensen bout. Not only the past records of this pair, but also their attitude toward each other, presage a rough, bitterly fought encounter.

One-armed Golf Tourney Boasts Excellent Shots

EDINBURGH, Scotland, Sept. 7.—(AP)—W. R. Thomson, of Glasgow, who lost an arm in the service of his king, today won the first one-armed golf championship ever held with the highly creditable score of 82-87-169 from a field of 43 British army veterans.

The unique tournament brought out some fine golf with Thomson carrying the green with his drive on a 262-yard hole and another player, A. L. Goundrill, of London, scoring a birdie two on a 140-yard hole, putting his drive eight feet from the pin.

VINES AND ALLISON BOTH BLASTED OUT

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 7.—(AP)—One hundred and twenty pounds of gamecock tennis energy, wrapped up in the diminutive frame of Bryan M. Grant Jr., of Atlanta, Georgia, exploded right under a flock of official noses today and blasted the two-time defending titleholder, Elsworth Vines, jr., of Pasadena, Cal., out of the national men's singles championship.

By scores of 6-3, 6-3, 6-3, that were startlingly decisive in every particular, the 22-year-old southerner sprang the major upset of the tournament, injecting himself unceremoniously into the front rank of American contenders and climaxed a sensational fourth round of play.

Vines' Davis cup mate, William Allison, also was decisively eliminated by the sensational 20-year-old Australian, Adrian Quist, 6-1, 6-3, 6-2. The last two Japanese entries fell by the wayside in a day that was heavy with heat, humidity and surprises.
