

Day by Day at SCHAEFER'S

For twenty years Schaefer's have been the candy special store of Salem. The policy of selling popular candies at low prices for high quality is still the same after these 20 years. For this weekend our special is Wrapped Molasses and Peppermint chews—25c a pound or 2 pounds for 43c. Incidentally we have a plain wrapped box of the highest grade chocolates for only 50c the one-pound box.

The State Fair was great, but we ate too much and we ate unwisely. Schaefer's Dyspepsia Tablets gave relief by just chewing one of the tablets and swallowing with water. 50c a box.

At the present time a vast change is occurring in the drug business. For example the price of rubber is fast advancing with the result that any replacements that we make at the present time will be at a higher price. If you are in need of a hot water bottle we are offering a fresh, full life bottle made by the U. S. Rubber Co. and guaranteed for one year. This is a regular 75c bottle for 39c while the stock lasts. We also carry a complete line of higher priced rubber goods including 90 ounce bottles that are guaranteed for 5 years.

This is the official Penslar Remedy Store for Marion County. You will find these preparations of highest quality and guaranteed to be exactly for what they are sold and represented to be.

AWARDS ARE MADE AT POULTRY SHOW

One of Biggest in History Of State Fair; Salem Entries do Well

The task of judging and placing the awards in the poultry pavilion at the state fair was completed Wednesday night by the four judges, James Nichols, and Charles S. Brewster, Portland, and Ben F. Keeney, Eugene. It has been one of the largest and best poultry and pigeon shows ever held in connection with the state fair and that there is a decidedly renewed interest in poultry keeping has been demonstrated every day by the number of valuable exhibition fowls that have changed hands and the number of orders for poultry received by leading exhibitors for future delivery.

As usual the largest single class in the show is the entries of Barred Plymouth Rocks, with Rhode Island Reds a close second. A surprise is that White Plymouth Rocks are third in numbers this year which indicates this old popular general utility fowl is staging a real come-back.

Buff and Partridge Plymouth Rocks and almost every variety of Wyandottes are in evidence this year, while Buff Orpingtons, Brown and White Leghorns, Black, White and Buff Minorcas, Australorps, White and Black Jersey Giants, Buff, White and Partridge Cochins, Brahmas, Anconas, French Houdans, Polish, Faverolles, Cornish and Pit Games are out in large numbers.

The bantam show is unusually good and the pigeon department shows many new and rare breeds this year. One of British Columbia's leading fanciers made a large entry which had the Oregon and northwest breeders secured stiff until the awards were placed, when it was revealed that the local pigeon breeders came in for their full share of awards. In fact, a Salem fancier, Arthur Edwards, carried off the highest awards in every class in which he had pigeons entered, which proves conclusively that no better pigeons are bred anywhere than in Oregon and Salem in particular.

Washington state as usual has a large number of fowls in the chicken, waterfowl and bantam departments and as usual will carry home a full share of the awards, and Oregon breeders will return the compliment at the big Puysall fair show September 18-24.

There is always the keenest, but most friendly competition in the leading northwest shows between the Oregon and Washington breeders and neither state can make a big show the desired success without the cooperation of the other.

In the turkey department four breeds are out in goodly numbers—Mammoth Bronze, White Holland, Narragansett and Bourbon Red, while waterfowl—ducks and geese—comprise a large and noisy exhibit as usual.

Superintendent Fred A. Johnson, of the Western Washington Fair Poultry Show, has spent the week at the fair here assisting Oregon's pioneer poultry show superintendent, Edward Shearer, who announces that this is his 17th year in this work and his 40th show, while Johnson claims a few more to his credit.

Special Awards
The special much coveted awards in the various classes are as follows:

Grand champion fowl of the show, a Dark Cornish pullet owned by Henry Welsborn, Portland, Ore. This fowl was also grand champion at the Gresham fair last week.

Asiatic class winner, Light Brahma hen, entered by Dr. H. K. Stockwell, Salem.

Best in English class, Dark Cornish pullet, owned by Henry Welsborn, Portland.

Best in Mediterranean class, White Leghorn cock owned by W. H. Jarman, Tacoma.

Best five males in the show, Rhode Island Red cockerels owned by J. B. LeGett, Canby.

Turkey Awards

Mammoth Bronze turkeys—Mrs. Ed Sauter, McMinnville, 1st old tom, 1st, 2nd and 3rd young tom, 1st old hen, 2nd old hen, George Chrisman, Seilo, 1st, 2nd and 3rd young hen, 1st and 2nd yearling toms.

Narragansett turkeys—J. G. Woelke, Silverton, 3rd young tom, 3rd and 4th old hen, 3rd and 4th young hen, Robert R. Gibson, Eugene, 1st and 2nd yearling tom, 2nd young tom, 1st and 2nd old hen, M. Hynes, Silverton, 3rd young tom, 5th young hen.

Bourbon Red turkeys—Mrs. Nellie Butler, Hillsboro, 2nd young tom, Mrs. Alice Howell, Hillsboro, 1st and 2nd old hen.

The average trip by an air traveler is now 701 miles, compared with less than 50 miles four years ago.
