story of the fair two squads of Boy Scouts had pitched tents in the camp ground Friday. Purchased livestock parade is feature.

Besides the announcement of special awards in the boys' and girls' club department, yesterday's program provided the purchased livestock parade, one of the feature events of each state fair, which was held on Lone Oak track preceding the afternoon races. Included in this parade were virtually all the animals which won the highest honors in the judging competition. The parade was one of the largest ever held at a state fair in Oregon.

The Grand Army of the Republic and drum corps spent Friday at the fair as the guests of Director Gehlbach. Members are T. M. Kellogg, Portland, and Henry Hopkins, Newberg, and Ray Scott, Beaverton. The official band for the day came from McMinnville, under direction of P. P. Olds. This is the tenth year that Mr. Olds has attended the fair.

F. R. CANCELS TRIP; EYES CUBA STATUS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—(AP)—While an American vessel dashed to a new trouble point in Cuba today, President Roosevelt cancelled plans for a weekend fishing trip to stay at the White House and watched the tense situation.

Attention of the president and the state department focused on the momentous unfolding of efforts at Havana to settle the island's governmental problem and restore stability.

To the state department late in the day, Marquis Sterling, who was named ambassador from Cuba by the now fallen De Cespedes government, brought word that the fatal section of leaders was "proceeding favorably" and under the apparent determination to stick to its task until a plan for forming a government has taken shape.

Considerable importance, too, was attached to information that Foreign Minister Fuig of Mexico had sent a message to Argentina, Chile and Brazil asking for their cooperation in bringing influence to bear on the present Cuban authorities to maintain order and protect lives.

Tammany Foe is Killed When He Walks in Sleep

VENTON, N. J., Sept. 8.—(AP)—The Rev. Dr. Charles H. Parkhurst, militant reformer of the twenties, who twice drove Tammany tiger from New York city hall was killed in a fall today as he walked in his sleep.

The 91-year-old Presbyterian preacher, who had retained in his twilight years the vigor of speech that characterized his utterances in middle age, fell about fifteen feet from a second story window in the home of his nephew, Winthrop Parkhurst. He died in an Atlantic City hospital.

Bakers in Seven Cities Asked Why Bread Prices Up

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—(AP)—Bakers in seven cities today were asked by Dr. Fred C. Howe, consumers' counsel for the farm administration, why bread prices are so high in their towns.

The request for information on why the retail price of a pound loaf of white bread in Atlanta, San Francisco, Savannah, Scranton Pa., and Seattle where one cent or more above the average for the country was made public along with data on bread prices in approximately 45 other cities.

Scene of Tombs Prison Break

Here is the spot at New York's historic Tombs Prison wall where three convicts made a smooth, bloodless escape via the improvised rope shown hanging from the roof. The rope, shown in hands of investigator (inset), was fastened from sheets hung with wire from bedsprings. The fugitives, James McNally, Henry Simmons and Gerard Simonson, were waiting trial on charges of burglary and gun-toting.

Mickey Mouse NOTES

You know that guy that used to be our community singing leader. That's right, Chuckie Wuckie—sometimes called Chuck Bier. But now it's Mr. Charles E. Bier to you. He is now assistant manager of Warner Bros. theatres in Salem. Congrats Elmer.

M. M. C.
Yesterday was my day off so I thought I'd go to the fair, and finally after a hard time getting over the fence I started my tour. Murray Wade Jr. was there, as well as Hattie Coons and her girl friend, and there was Mary Yeager and Dorothy Hardy, and thousands of other members of our club. Of course "Boots" was at the fair, and in just the place you'd expect to find him—among the rest of his clan over at the pig barn. And as I had seen "Boots" my day was spoiled, so I went home.

M. M. C.
Hey! Wasn't the first chapter of the new serial swell?
Today we've got something special besides the feature Slim Summerville in "Under Montana Skies." On the stage were going to have Perry Byrman's famous London Punch and Judy show. Just wait until you see all the surprises he has to offer, and if you want to see something really entertaining—well then attend the club meeting.

GRAIN EXCHANGES' CODE FORMULATED

CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—(AP)—Peter B. Carey, president of the Chicago board of trade, tonight announced approval had been reached on a code for grain exchanges setting up a scale of wages and hours for employees and defining minimum margins for all open futures contracts.

The code does not alter present daily limits on fluctuations of prices, maintaining present regulations, which, however, may be modified from time to time or abolished subject to authority of the secretary of agriculture.

Each exchange under the code requires all customers to maintain at all times, "subject to reasonable regulations as to call and notice," minimum margins on futures grain trading with the following exception:

(1) Members or non-members hedging trades; (2) spreading trades; (3) trades in grain futures on any exchange not exceeding 2,000,000 bushels "to the extent that such trades are offset by futures trades in another grain or in provisions on the same or another exchange."

THINK BALLOONISTS IN REMOTE REGION

CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—(AP)—A belief that four daring balloonists might have landed in some inaccessible, sparsely settled territory in the James Gordon Bennett races was held tonight as airplanes, boats and land crews searched without result.

Six days and nights had elapsed since the two bags floated away from Chicago with four others into territory beset by thunderstorms and heavy winds. The balloons could have remained aloft not much past Monday. There remained a possibility they had landed in so remote a section that word of their safety would not reach civilization for days.

Rescuers considered possible a theory that the balloons were blown out over the Atlantic. Rescue by a ship would be improbable because the balloonists had no wireless sending equipment to summon aid.

One balloon was the Goodyear IX of Akron, O., with Ward Van Orman, most famous of all American balloonists, as pilot and Frank A. Trotter as aide. The other was the Polish entrant manned by Capt. Francizek Hynex and Lieut. Zbigniew Burzynski, and Warsaw.

Naval Seaplanes Fly 2,059 Miles Through Storms

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—(AP)—Word was flashed to the navy department tonight of the safe landing at Coco Solo, Canal Zone, of six naval seaplanes after a 2,059-mile non-stop flight from Norfolk, Va., completing the longest non-stop mass formation flight in history.

Battling successfully through a gale, five of the ships landed safely at the canal at 6:25 p. m. The sixth plane was nearly an hour behind. The main body completed the flight in exactly 24 hours and 55 minutes. The takeoff from Norfolk was at 5:30 p. m. last night.

Ten Year Prison Sentence Handed Man Caught Here

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 8.—(AP)—A sentence of ten years in the state penitentiary was meted out to Russell Stinson, 27, in circuit court here today when Stinson pleaded guilty to a charge of assault with intent to rob.

Stinson forced Prof. Howard D. Haskins of the Oregon Medical school from his automobile at the point of a gun and then drove away in Haskins' machine, later surrendering to authorities in Salem.

FLOOD MOVES UPON RIO GRANDE VALLEY

HARLINGEN, Texas, Sept. 8.—(AP)—A great flood from its Mexican tributaries surged down the Rio Grande tonight, carrying the threat of levee breaks along the emergency floodway and inundated lowlands to the area devastated by a hurricane Monday and Tuesday.

As the crest passed Rio Grande City, 75 miles upstream, gauges at Hidalgo and Mission rose ominously and the water began to enter the floodway at Mission where it leaves the river and goes miles north of the river's mouth. To Laguna Madre on the gulf.

An aerial survey of the river district above Edinburg revealed a volume of water much greater than was expected last night when the San Juan river, swollen by a 13-inch rain at Monterrey, Mexico, caused a rise at Rio Grande City where it empties into the Rio Grande. The Hidalgo river stage was 21.7 feet and slowly rising.

SEEK SLAYER WHO 'DESERVES MEDAL'

CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—(AP)—James "Froubie" Tribble, 32, former convict described by police as an erstwhile associate of the imprisoned Harvey Bailey, notorious outlaw, was shot and killed today after he and two others reputedly terrorized headquarters of the Chicago teamsters' union.

The body was found in the corridor outside a doctor's office at 1614 West Roosevelt Road. Police investigating reports of a shooting said they found bloodstains on the steps of the union headquarters and bullet holes in the walls. Eight men were arrested for questioning.

Police Captain John Stege said he was convinced he knew who fired the shot that killed Tribble and said: "I suppose we'll have to charge him with the murder to solve the killing. He really deserves a medal, though."

Recognition of Cuba is Denied

HAVANA, Sept. 9. (Saturday)—(AP)—American Ambassador Sumner Welles asked newspapers today to deny reports that the United States had recognized the present Cuban government.

He said the matter of recognition had not yet been considered by the United States.

they should have returned the same night.

Men, who have organized previous searching parties to comb the slopes of Mt. Hood and the Three Sisters, immediately went into action.

Search hindered by fresh snowfall
Eight veteran mountaineers were rushed to the mountain late Tuesday and began a search early the following morning. Yesterday 13 more supplemented the first group and it was this group that discovered the tragedy.

The heroic work of the searchers was hindered by 15 inches of fresh snow that has fallen since Monday and by a 40-mile gale that whipped the snow into large drifts. The elements combined with the almost impregnable climb made the search one of the most difficult in Oregon mountain history.

Approximately 30 searchers in all were on the mountain or at the Ollalie lake basin when the discovery came. They were members of the Hood River, Portland, Bend and Eugene climbing clubs, that hold national reputations for their ability in mountain rescue work.

In Recent Tragedy
Veterans of this Jefferson park district said that the tragedy was the first upon Mt. Jefferson in their memory. Alluding to the fact that the east slope climb attempted had been but by a few of the most experienced, they pointed to that fact as the reason for tragedies being unknown on Jefferson.

Burkhardt, 23 years old, was the son of Dr. and Mrs. D. C. Burkhardt of this city and had been climbing mountain peaks for a period of six years. He was the leader of the climbing expedition. McCamant, 37, was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace McCamant, Portland attorney. John Thomas, 19, the third member of the group, had graduated from a high school here two years ago and was the son of Mrs. Edith Thomas. The youth was an employe of Kerr Gifford & Co.

Army headquarters reported that unarmed marines had landed in Santiago and Cienfuegos for inspection purposes only.

The American embassy said the only sailors or marines coming ashore were parties commissioned to purchase supplies. Non-commissioned Cuban officers explained to the public the purposes of the United States groups in landing and insisted that the presence of such parties did not constitute intervention.
