

Karasick and Lopez Promise Action at Armory Tonight

Johnny Fischer Medalist in National Amateur Setting Record, 141

SPANIARD WILL MAKE HIS BOW

Russian Cast in Villainous Role as Usual and may Get Just Deserts

In old-fashioned melodrama, the villain gets his just deserts in the third act. Not always so in wrestling, but a considerable proportion of the fans turn out hoping he will.

There will be no difficulty in picking out the villain of tonight's piece at the armory, though he wears no waxed mustache and stovepipe hat. "Gentleman" Al Karasick is unmistakably cast in that role, and opposing him will be a new, handsome, young leading man, Dan Lopez, who hails from Mexico but represents the pure Spanish decent citizenry of that country. Lopez is said to be excessively good looking, as wrestlers go, and is a graduate of the University of Idaho.

In private life, "Gentleman" Al is reported to be a friendly, gracious, considerate and even jovial man, kind to his mother and all that, but what's the difference? So are most of the stage and movie villains.

Patrons here haven't seen him humbled for some time, and they figure the prospects are good tonight. While waiting for the curtain to go up on this exciting drama, the fans should be more than intrigued by the "kiss in one" which will be supplied by "Prof." Newton and "Chub" Patchin, the latter a Salem boy who excelled at a number of sports while in high school here and was later a high school athletic coach before launching forth in the strawberry profession.

Preliminary to the appearance of the hero and the villain, there will also be a prologue in which Bob Myers, declared without any successful contradiction so far to be the cleverest midweight on the Pacific coast, will clash with Sailor Franz, who is some 15 pounds heavier and, according to some observers, will need that advantage to keep even with the speedster from Tillamook.

Da'Prem Loaded for Baer

Well, you wanted to see it, and here it is—Primo Carnera, giant heavyweight champion of the world, and Max Baer, foremost contender for his title, in the same ring. But they met under Hollywood Kleig lights, just to provide a thrill for movie fans. The boxers have roles in a forthcoming production. Jack Dempsey, you will note, is the referee.

It Won't Be Long

By BURNLEY

EVEN so, the day is come when the Sultan of Swat—the Bambino, the one and only Babe Ruth—is at the end of the trail that leads to—well, that remains to be seen. The Babe is past his days of glory. The man who collects the highest salary in the game, and who made millions of dollars for the American League to earn it about to take the final bow. He's well over the hill now, and around the corner lies retirement. It may take a while for the corner to be turned, but the inevitable is there. There has been a lot of talk about managerial jobs for the Babe, but it appears that these chances are fading, just as the Babe is fading himself.

Barney Ross Keeps Crown In Desperate Battle With Canzoneri, Former Champ

POLO GROUNDS, NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—(AP)—Barney Ross, fighting with the fire of a zealot, saved his lightweight title from returning to desperate little Tony Canzoneri tonight in a fifteen-round battle that surpassed in savagery anything the lightweight division has seen here since the historic duel of Benny Leonard and Lew Tendler years and years ago. For fifteen rounds, with scarcely a moment for a long breath, two of the fastest, most desperate hitters among all the little fellows fought each other to a frazzle in the struggle so close, so shifting in its roaring tide, that in the end only the split decision of Referee Arthur Donovan and the two judges retained the crown for the burning-eyed, aesthetically faced scrapper from Chicago's ghetto. Thus Ross saved his title as he won it from Canzoneri in ten rounds in Chicago in June, by a narrow margin, as a crowd of 40,000 throbbed about the ring and howled in protest. Round after round they ripped at each other, first one then the other weakening, then coming back, then fading off again under a punching storm that never gave the huge crowd a quiet moment. Judge Arthur Kelly voted when it was all over for Canzoneri by a margin of eight rounds to seven while Judge Harold Barnes gave the defending champion a decisive edge with nine rounds won, two lost and four even. It was up to Referee Donovan to decide then, and he cast his vote for Ross, giving him eight rounds, Canzoneri four, with three even. Donovan said he took the sixth, eighth and ninth rounds from Canzoneri because of low blows, thereby accounting exactly for the margin by which Ross was declared the winner.

Hardware Nine Junior Kitball Champs of City

The Square Deal Hardware team clinched the junior kitball championship of Salem Tuesday afternoon by defeating the Kay Woolen Mills juniors 8 to 6 in the final game of the season. The Square Deal team, sponsored by W. Cohen, proprietor of the firm whose name they carried, had a highly successful season, winning 10 out of 11 games played. Members of the squad were Percy Meter, catcher; Lawrence LeBouef, pitcher; Robert Seales, first base; Robert Miller, second base and captain; Donald Stubberfield, third base; Daniel Kadatz, shortstop; Abraham Steinbock, left field; George Davis, center field; Robert Hauser, right field; Weldon Allbright and Mendal Shusterwitz, utility.

YOUNG GOLFERS SET FAST PACE

Somerville Third, Goodman Ties for 7th; 150 is Needed to Qualify

By ALAN GOULD
KENWOOD COUNTRY CLUB, Cincinnati, O., Sept. 12.—(AP)—Two youthful collegians won a record smashing fight today for the qualifying medal of the United States amateur golf championship with Johnny Fischer of Cincinnati and the University of Michigan, triumphant by a slim stroke over Pat Sawyer of Minneapolis and the University of Minnesota.

Fischer captured the low scoring honors for the second consecutive year with the new record figures of 72-69—141. His closing 69, two under par, equaled the new competitive course record for Kenwood, nosed out Sawyer and lowered the tournament qualifying record by one stroke. The mark of 142 was set in 1924 by D. Clarke Corkran of Baltimore, equaled twice by Bob Jones, in 1927 and 1930, and by Fischer just a year ago.

Fischer and Sawyer, with 72 each yesterday, both started their final qualifying round two shots behind the pace-setters, Ross Somerville, of Canada, defending titleholder, and young Jack Munger, of Dallas, Tex. Munger faded from the pace-setting picture, Somerville, who will start match play defense of his title tomorrow in the first of two 18-hole rounds, shot the best qualifying score of his career, 70-73—143, but it was only good enough for third place.

Tied for fourth place at 144 each were the seasoned Gus Moreland of Dallas, Tex., and two newcomers, Jim Millward, 20-year-old Madison, Wis., entry, and William R. Long, a young Austin, Tex., bank clerk. Millward started the day's fireworks with a 69, the first time 70 has been broken on the remodelled Kenwood course.

Johnny Goodman, of Omaha, 23-year-old national open champion, had to be satisfied with a tie for seventh place with Frank J. English of Denver. Goodman missed at least seven chances for birdies, posting 72-73—145. Two more tournament records were smashed when it finally developed that 36-hole scores of 150 marked the qualifying limit and that a playoff was needed among an even dozen who finished there. Tomorrow morning the twelve in the 150 bracket will battle for eight places. Two Pacific northwest stars, Frank Dolp of Portland and Scotty Campbell of Seattle, went out of the fight for a place in titular play by a close margin. The lanky Portland took a 78 today for a 36-hole total of 152 and Campbell came in with a 75 for 153.

'STRANGLER' LEWIS STOPS CANTONWINE

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 12.—(AP)—Ed "Strangler" Lewis won over Howard Cantonwine, Portland heavyweight, in their main event wrestling match here tonight on a foul after each had taken a fall. Cantonwine, weighing 225, won the first fall with a "stopper" in 21 minutes and Lewis, 245, gained the second in two minutes with a series of headlocks. A minute after the start of the third session, the Portlander tossed Lewis to the mat and then stamped and kicked his opponent until the referee awarded the bout to Lewis. Robin Reed, 145, Reedsport, Ore., wrestled to a draw with Noel Franklin, 150, Pocatello, Ida., in the three-round feature event with neither gaining a fall. In another three-rounder, Bob Myers, 161, Tillamook, Ore., had

AUSTRALIA LEADS EXHIBITION MEET

LAKE FOREST, Ill., Sept. 12.—(AP)—Australia led America two to one at the end of the first day's play in the Davis cup exhibition matches at Onwentsia club today. Adrian Quist sent the Aussies into an early lead by disposing of Keith Gledhill, lanky United States star, in the opening singles match, 3-6, 6-2, 6-3, while in the battle of 17-year-old Frankie Parker, America's "boy wonder" of tennis, outmaneuvered the equally youthful Vivian McGrath in straight sets, 6-4, 6-2. McGrath atoned for this setback by teaming with Jack Crawford veteran Australian Davis cup winner, to sweep through Parker and Frank X. Shields, the giant New Yorker, in four grueling sets, 6-8, 6-4, 6-4, 6-3.

Thirteen Bobbles and Many Wild Pitchers Mark Ducks' 17 to 9 Win Over Oakland

PORTLAND, Sept. 12.—(AP)—The Portland Beavers stayed in the coast league pennant race tonight by defeating Oakland 17 to 9, in a wild and weird exhibition of baseball. The two teams accounted for 13 errors during the contest. Salinsen started on the mound for the Acorns with a seven-run lead gained by his teammates in their half of the first off Hal Turpin, but the Beavers came back in their half and hammered the Oakland hurler for five before he was relieved by McEvoy with but one out. Portland added another in the second and then went two ahead when they scored three of McEvoy in a wild outburst of hits, walks and errors in the fourth. Oakland tied up the game again in the next inning on three Portland errors but the Beavers came back in the half to score four more and were never headed. Fieber, who replaced McEvoy in the box for Oakland in the fifth was so wild that he walked nine men and hit the grandstand with four pitches in his three innings of hurling. Portland 17 17 5
Salinsen, McEvoy, Fieber, Gabler and Rajmond; Turpin, Wilson and Palmisano.

Hollywood 5 12 0
Missions 9 17 1
Campbell, Buchanan, Miljus and Tobin; Johnson and Fitzpatrick.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 12.—(AP)—Los Angeles protected its three game lead today by nosing out San Francisco's Seals 5-4. Fay Thomas scattered the visitors' nine hits and held them to one run until the ninth, when with two out Ostenberg tied the count at four-all with a booming home run. In the Angels' half Thomas won his own game with a screaming single to center that forced Umpire Casey to drop to escape being hit. Lillard's home run in the fourth was his 35th of the season. Gaxella and McMillen also collected homers in the seventh. 4 9 0
San Francisco 5 9 2
Zinn and Bottarini; Thomas and McMillen.

Sacramento 6 13 3
Seattle 5 8 2

New York at Cincinnati postponed, threatening weather.

ZIMMERMAN IS OPEN CHAMPION

Portland pro Shoots 284; Moezel Second, Don Moe Leads Simon Pures

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 12.—(AP)—Shooting a sub-par round of 68 in the morning and coming home this afternoon with a 74, Al Zimmerman, Portland professional, won the Oregon open golf championship here today with a 72-hole total of 284. Zimmerman shot steady golf throughout the tourney completing each 18-hole round yesterday in exactly the same figure he chalked up today.

Joe Moezel, another Portland pro, came in with 143 to add to his 145 of yesterday to take second honors while Zimmerman's brother, Emory, with 289 placed third. Willie Goggin, San Francisco, and Frank Rodia, Seattle, garnered 290's to tie for fourth while another local pro, Ted Longworth of Waverly club, followed right behind with 291, the same figure marked on the card of Don Moe, Portland's Waltercup star, who led the amateurs.

Dr. Cliff Baker, runner-up in the California amateur last month shot a 292 for second among the amateurs and sixth position on the open list.

Frank Shafer of Salem put together rounds of 83 and 82 today to finish with a score of 323, while his fellow townsman John Varley wound up with a total of 341, running into extensive trouble on his morning round.

Racquetees of Salem to Enter Valley Tourney

Harold Beall, Don Sanders and Norris Kemp, local tennis players, have filed entries in the Willamette valley tournament scheduled for Friday, Saturday and Sunday at Eugene. Beall, northwest Y. M. C. Junior champion, is considered to have a good chance to win the junior valley title. Because of a conflict with the valley tourney, it is possible that the city tournament announced here may be postponed a week.

CURT COMMENTS

This is a big week in golf circles, what with the national amateur under way at Cincinnati, the Oregon open just completed at Portland and the Oregon Golf association tournament slated to start today. And then there's the Salem Golf club President's tournament, which may not draw a bevy of nationally famous sport writers here to keep the wires hot, but is of interest to a large number of Salem sport fans nevertheless.

Anyone who doubts that Salem is coming right to the front as a golf center with respect to quality as well as number of divot diggers actively struggling at the same, should take a glance at the roster of 16 originally enrolled in the championship flight of the President's cup tourney. Any one of those fellows is capable of cracking par most any day. It took Bob Taylor, for instance, a sub-par to defeat Bill Stacy in the first round, Stacy's shoot-in-over par.

Still tighter competition is forthcoming in the second round as a way this week. Pairings for the championship flight vs. Woodhouse, whose flight are: Taylor vs. Eyrer, vs. Skelley, Lengran vs. Lynch. In the newly-created first flight the pairings are Stacy vs. Nash, Bonesteel vs. Thompson, McFarland vs. Hendrie, Ritter vs. Victor.

Wrestling interest is reviving here with the arrival of the fall season, and as was inevitable, the living process is further enhanced by numerous challenges hurled at Robin Reed and his world 145-pound championship. One of the most recent comes from George Bennett, the Oklahoma youth who defeated Reed here recently in a non-title match. Bennett figures he can do just as well with the pants-holder at stake, even though he would have to melt a few pounds away. This he should be able to do without too much difficulty, as he weighed only slightly above 150 when he met Reed before. Robin had better get in condition without any delay.

If you doubt the accuracy of our observations that pro fans are creatures of habit, difficult to persuade regarding any change in routine, ask Harry Plant and the young woman who answers his telephones in this office how many inquiries they received Tuesday night from patrons who still thought the wrestling show was to be that night, despite considerable publicity as to the change to tonight.

Favorites in Tilt for National Amateur Golf Title

From among these four golf stars, say the experts, will emerge the 1933 national amateur champion when the smoke of battle has cleared away from the Kenwood Country Club course, Cincinnati. Although some of the prognosticators favor Johnny Goodman, of Omaha, to take the crown, the present holder, Ross Somerville, of Canada, is confident of retaining his honors. Jess Sweetser, of Mount Vernon, N. Y., a former champion, and Maurice McCarthy, of Cleveland, who made such a good showing last year, are expected to supply plenty of opposition.
