PULLET EGGS TAKE 3-CENT JUMP TODAY

Other Eggs Advanced Cent; Demand Better for dry Onions Reported

PORTLAND, Sept. 12.—(AP)—Effective Wednesday morning, a three-cent raise in pullet eggs will be effective on the Portland market. The price will be 17c. Other grades will be unchanged.

PORTLAND, Sept. 12.—(AP)—Local butter appeared about steady at unchanged price levels. The market was apparently holding its own against the extremely heavy supply of short held storage stuff which tends to lend an undertone of weakness to it. Receipts last week were heavy but little was reported in over the week-end.

Last week's total receipts amounted to 149,565 pounds or 25,110 pounds more than the previous week and 22,000 pounds more than the same week a year ago.

The previously announced increase of 1c a dozen in the price of eggs on all principal grades except pullets became effective today and found the market in a good position. There continued a good demand for to pquality extras for retail channels. Pullet sizes were in somewhat more than ample supply. Total receipts at Portland for the week past amount to 3,867 cases, or 598 cases less than the previous week and approximately 400 cases less than for the same week a year ago. Eggs were fully firm to 1c higher at other coast points. Pacific coast whites were a cent higher at New York.

The peach market generally was fully steady, ranging 90c to $1 for Elbertas and $1.25 on Hales. The demand keeps pace with receipts.

Some dealers reported better demand for dry onions. Most houses are listing 1½c the pound.

Sweet potatoes were down to $2 for the 50-lb. box or 4c net Tuesday.

The country meat situation was about unchanged with most lines quotably steady.

Celery prices were fully steady on the moderate supply available here. The demand was only fair but taking all offerings.

BUILDINGS READY FOR SCHOOL START

SILVERTON, Sept. 12.—When the hundreds of boys and girls return to their classes in the three schools at Silverton Monday, September 18, they will find everything in excellent condition, for during the summer months there has been painting, repairing, cleaning, and in general placing the entire educational plant in first class order.

While no major building construction has been the rule this summer, yet numerous small jobs have been completed as it is the plan of the school board to keep it in as fine a condition as is possible with the amount of money available.

The outside woodwork of all three buildings has been painted. The paint was scaling and this was done as a protective measure. All class room floors have been oiled and the halls and gymnasium have been varnished. The old part of the Eugene Field building has been re-roofed, and was being completed early this week.

In the junior high school building the stairs have been repaired. The steps of these were worn out.

The grounds and the inside and outside of the buildings have been cleaned and every window has been washed.

Superintendent Robert Goetz, who has been in his office during the entire summer with the exception of a ten day fishing trip with his young son, Don, is at the office again this week receiving parents, teachers and students, in an endeavor to assist them with their school troubles and plans.

Mr. Goetz said Monday that there would be from fifty to sixty boys and girls who could not return to school because of the removal of the busses. However, he said, registration in town promised to be larger than last year. The local system will have three and a half less teachers to assist with the work which will practically do the same amount. Foreign languages and art are the only two subjects dropped from the curriculum.

Registration of senior and junior high school students is underway this week.

A teachers' meeting has been scheduled for Saturday, with the general gathering of all teachers at 10 o'clock and a meeting in each building at 2 o'clock.

Teachers at Silverton include: senior high school — Herman J. Kramer, principal; Lou Ann Chase, Warren E. Crabtree, W. A. Gates, Eleanor Schroeder, G. W. DeLay, James Manning, Estora Ricks, Ruth Elliot, Austin Calvin Storey and Mildred McDermott.

Junior high school — Frank J. Roubal, principal; Elaine Clower, Harold Davis, Olivia DeGuire, Ethel Hardie, Marie Klev and Ruth Lawrence.

Eugene Field school — Muriel Bentson, Janice Dunivan, Dorothy Geisler, Lucile Henkle, Blanche Hubbs, Olga Johnson, E. Moore Neave, Hannah Olson, Ruth Scott, Helvie Silver, Katherine Slawson, Florence Story, Evelyn Umphlette and Marion Umphlette.

Monte Pearson, young pitching ace who has come to the fore for the Cleveland Indians this year, started his baseball career as a third baseman.

Profit Taking Offsets Inflation Outlook; Crop Loss Told

CHICAGO, Sept. 12. — (AP)—Despite a fresh advance of 1¼ cents a bushel today, wheat finished at a loss.

Profit-taking late more than offset continued notice of inflation possibilities and of needed rain for northern Argentina, where a repetition of severe crop damage in 1929 was suggested. A handicap to bulls was that United States government crop figures, although confirming major losses in all cereals, were not so low as trade expectations.

Wheat closed unsettled, ⅛-1⅛ under yesterday's finish, corn 1-1⅛ down and oats ⅝-⅞ off.
