

Larry Wolfe's Team to Play College of Pacific at Stadium

SPORTS PLAYERS FOR STAGG MIX

Normal Eleven Opens Season Friday in Clash With Stagg's Pacific

MONMOUTH, Sept. 20.—Oregon Normal school's opening football game with College of the Pacific, Stockton, Calif., will be played Friday night in Multnomah Stadium, Portland, and Coach Larry Wolfe has been busy this week perfecting the fighting machinery of his tricky Teachers to mow down the defense of Pacific. Wolfe has not decided upon the final lineup as competition for each position is "wolfish," with at least two good men ready for each berth.

Wolfe has been alternating Jimmy Newgard and Denny Braid at center. Both men are former Jefferson high school players, Newgard having earned his letter there a few years since. He has a slight advantage for starting lineup due to his greater experience. Wolfe has been alternating Ken Bowers, Tom Carey, Ted Cottingham, Putz Arens, Fat Kelley and Tom Preece in guard positions, with Braid barking signals from the guard position also.

The tackle situation is well covered by two last year lettermen, Max Allen and Lloyd Gustafson, with Joe Murphy, Harold Ystad, Roy Gunderson and Ray Leonard as understudies for first call. At ends four lettermen: Squires, Phillips, Benjamin and Johnson with two recruits, Mitchell and Olcott are on the spot.

Abundant material in the backfield is headed by five lettermen. Tibbia and Red Puchanan who are punting the ball assiduously are competing to fill the gap left by Pete Gretsche, star punter for the Wolves the past two seasons, who will shine among the highlights of Willamette's lineup this season. One find of the season for the Wolves is Wilson Graham, a new man who is being groomed for one of the back berths due to his superior passing form, having previously played the wing position. Paul Franzen, high scoring backfield man from the Portland interscholastic league of last year, shows up promisingly and doubtless will be called upon during the season to show his stuff.

"Midget" Jimmy Clark, always ready to give his fever pitch to see action in the big Friday night game, Letterman Bruce Mahan and Hugh Edwards have been alternating as signal barkers, and Harry Scroggins, Don Goode and Al Wismer are fighting to hold their laurels of last season. Interest in the fever pitch over this opening game with the visiting team headed by the grand old man of American football, Alonzo Stagg, who was forced out as director of athletics and head football coach at the University of Chicago last October after forty years of service. Additional impetus is given the local boys through a recent rumor that College of the Pacific's team defeated Stanford university behind closed gates early last season. When Stagg and Wolves are let loose in the Multnomah arena there should ensue a battle royal.

STOCKTON, Calif., Sept. 20.—(AP)—Amos Alonzo Stagg, veteran football coach of the College of the Pacific here, today selected 23 men whom he will take to Portland, Ore., tomorrow to meet the Oregon Normal school Friday night. The game will be the first of the season for Pacific and will serve as Stagg's debut in Pacific coast football.

On the eve of his squad's departure, Stagg emphasized passing plays as he called his players. The team, he says, is not well enough organized yet to operate running plays effectively.

BOYS' CLASSES START AT Y.M.C.A.

Full Program of Activities Outlined; Schedule Begins Next Saturday

Boys' activities at the Y. M. C. A. for this winter will get under way Saturday when gym and swimming classes open. The classes will be divided as formerly, with several new ones being added. The cadets will include boys from nine to ten years of age, and the prep boys from eleven to twelve years.

A tumbling class under the direction of Fred Smith will be organized and will include grade school and junior and senior high boys. It is planned that the class will put on shows for the Y. M. C. A. during the winter. Ten boys, selected for their ability from the various classes, will be organized into the Junior Leaders. They will be given special emblems and will assist the instructors in the various sports and in club work. They will hold their first meeting September 29 at 4:00 p. m. A Junior life saving class for boys will be held from 4:30 to 5:10 on Fridays, starting September 29.

Although swimming classes for high school students in connection with their regular physical education work will not be held this year, Willamette students will have this privilege. The high school swimming class will not be held until Monday, October 2.

Following is the schedule for the boys' gym classes which will get into effect Saturday. These will be followed by swimming. Cadets, 8:30 to 9:15 Saturday morning; prep 9:25 to 10:15 Saturday morning; junior high, 10:25 to 11:15 Saturday morning. The following schedule for swimming classes will be used: Beginners, 4 to 4:30 Tuesday and Friday; cadets, 4:30 to 5:15 Thursday; prep, 4 to 4:50 Thursday; junior high, 4 to 4:50 Tuesday; high school 7 to 8 Monday and Thursday.
