Report Says 5000 Killed in Hurricane; Official News is Lacking

(Continued from page 1) Potosi, 175 miles inland, said the win reached a velocity of 125 miles an hour and the civil hospital, railroad station and the customs house were levelled. Another report said nearly every building in the city was either destroyed or unroofed. It was feared hundreds had been buried alive when their homes collapsed. Flood waters from the Panuco and Tamesi river invaded the city, causing additional deaths and damage.

Cardenas itself was hard hit. A telephone call from there said 26 persons were known to have drewned and it was feared additional residents perished when the railroad dam collapsed, flooding the city. A stream of mud six fee deep poured into the outlying sections, preventing search for additional victims.

The National railways estimated damage to their lines in the vicinity of Tampico at nearly $1,-000,000.

A relief brigade under the direction of Vasconcelos boarded a special train for the stricken city tonight. The detail carried food and relief supplies.

Governor Turribiates of San Luis Potosi was directing relief work in Cardenas.

Tampico, with 36,000 population, is a very old city of Aztec origin on the Mexican coast, approximately 150 miles south of Brownsville, Texas. It is situated in the southeastern corner of the state of Tamaulipas, at the mouth of the Panuco river. The city is built in a low, unhealthful locality, surfounded by marshes and lagoons.

Its development in recent years was due largely to the finding of petroleum nearby and the tankers of several large cil companies frequently make it a port of call." It is the terminus of two railroads and is the commercial outlet for all of the northeastern Mexican states.

HONOR SUZZALLO

SEATTLE, Sept. 25 .- (AP)-While on the shores of Lake Washington the state university prepared for a new term under new leadership, Dr. Henry Suzzallo, president of the Carnegie foundation for the advancement of teaching, and president of the university from 1915 to 1926, died today of heart trouble. He was 58.

In accordance with his wishes, there will be no funeral services. The body probably will be cremated tomorrow. Meanwhile a movement was started to name one of the new buildings on the campus, possibly the library, which he had visualized as the "soul" of the university, after him. It was during his incumbency that the brick buildings of Gothic
