In Grange Essay Contest; Homecoming Draws 150 Old Residents

GRAND ISLAND, Sept. 27. — In the annual highway safety essay contest which the Grange sponsors each year, Miss Lorene Tompkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morton Tompkins, won first prize in the state, $5 and a gold medal.

Approximately 150 people attended the second annual homecoming of the Grand Island district, held at the schoolhouse Sunday. A very enjoyable program was given during the forenoon, followed by the serving of a bountiful basket dinner in the basement.

The program included music by Dr. and Mrs. Healey of McMinnville, guitar solo by Miss Shirley Wiley of Portland, selections by a mixed quartet, composed of Mrs. C. A. Rockhill, Mrs. Charles A. Ferguson, D. Lynn Gubser and Charles E. Nelson; short talk by former residents of the district, and the main address by Congressman James W. Mott of Salem.

People were present from Portland, Salem, Eugene, McMinnville, Amity, Dundee, Dayton, Oswego, Philomath, Tualatin, Sherwood, Wheatland, Silverton and Walla Walla, Wash.

The district school opened Monday morning with an enrollment of 16 in the four upper grades and 12 in the primary room, with still a few children to enter.

The first grade has five: Dorothy Letley, Myrtle Rockhill, Muriel Ferguson, Leslie Douglas and Alfred Brigan. The school is in charge of Mrs. T. W. Little, principal, and Miss Lucille Fisher, primary instructor, both of Dayton.

High school students in the district who registered in the Amity union high school the first of the week include: Lorene Tompkins, Mildred Will, Pearl Berger, Marie Miller, Frances and Martha Sanderson and Charles Berger.

Jake Tompkins, Jr., left recently for Corvallis where he will enter O. S. C. as a freshman. Russell Tompkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Morton Tompkins, began his teaching duties Monday morning in the Yampo district near Amity.

Mt. Angel Normal School Has Record Registration; Year's Activity Starting

MT. ANGEL, Sept. 27. — All Mt. Angel institutions of learning are now all launched for the new school year. First schools opened the 19th and the last, the Normal, opened the 26th.

The enrollment in the Normal is the largest in the history of the institution. All first year normals have returned for second year work while the first year class this year is larger than last year's. Students drive to the school or come by bus from nearby towns. St. Louis, Gervais, Brooks, St. Paul, Woodburn, Monitor, Scotts Mills, Silverton and Mt. Angel are all well represented. Numbers of students from other parts of the state and other states board in the normal dormitory.

Preparations for the beginning of school activities are being made. The staff for The Abiqua, the school paper, will be announced this week. Miss Dorothy Schwab, who was elected president of the normal students last June, is arranging for a meeting of the group at an early date.

PRUNE BOOKLETS GO WITH LEGION CORPS

LIBERTY, Sept. 27. — When the Legion drum corps and auxiliary trio leaves Salem Friday for Chicago and the "Century of Progress," they will bear with them as part of the Oregon advertising display 500 prune recipe booklets entitled, "Oregon Prunes. How to Treat Them, How to Eat Them."

These booklets were compiled by the Liberty Women's club and are being sent for distribution at the world's fair to advertise Oregon's prune district and help create a demand for Oregon dried prunes.

A spray of the ripe fruit in color decorates the front cover, and within is a short history of the prune industry, Blossom Day, and the method of harvesting and preserving. The recipes are the tested favorites given for printing in the booklet by women and club members of the community.

The booklet is copyrighted under date of 1930. The club had several thousand printed and has sold them for several years to prune shippers and packers who include them in shipments.
