

MILLER LAND PARK AT LAST

With Mayor's Vote Breaking Tie in Woodburn Councilmen's Vote

WOODBURN, Oct. 4.—The former Nick Miller property at the corner of First and Garfield streets is now officially a city park. Tuesday night at a meeting of the Woodburn city council the resolution providing for the creation of a city park out of the property now belonging to the city was passed, though not without difficulty.

Councilmen Fred Miller and G. F. Wright voted against having the question put to a vote. Councilmen Miller and Wright, west side representatives, voted against the park, while G. Clark and E. Mattson voted for it. Both Mayor B. H. Broyles voted with Clark and Mattson, breaking the tie.

Appoints Committee
Clark moved the resolution be put on final passage and Mattson seconded the motion. Broyles afterward appointed Clark and Mattson as members of the park committee, as provided for in the proposal.

It was reported by the street commissioner that work of repairing sidewalk trunks on Hardcastle and Gatch avenues has been started. Tuesday night, October 31, was set as the date when the city's budget will be scrutinized by the taxpayers.

No funds were provided for sending Woodburn's city health officer to a state convention of such officials, to be held in Portland, October 24 and 25.

PROMINENT SUVER MAN IS SUMMONED

SUVER, Oct. 4.—Elmer E. Fredrickson, 46, a prominent farmer of the Suver community, died at 3:30 a. m. Thursday. Mr. Fredrickson went to Corvallis two months ago for treatment for trouble which developed last March.

He was born at Wakefield, Neb., March 15, 1893, the son of Gust and Anna Louise Fredrickson. While still a small boy he moved with his parents to Texas, where the family remained until they located in Oregon in 1901, near Suver. He was employed by the S. P. & S. railroad for two and one-half years, and later operated sawmills in the valley until he engaged in farming. He was married to Eva B. Kester on October 15, 1915.

He was a member of Valley lodge No. 11, Knights of Pythias, of Corvallis; the Modern Woodmen of America, at Suver; the Brotherhood of Locomotive and Engineers, and was master of the Suver grange.

Besides his widow, he is survived by three daughters, Frances Louise, Florence Alleen and Eva Margaret, all at home; three sisters, Mrs. R. L. Chamberlin of Monmouth, Mrs. Rollie L. Miller of Canby, and Mrs. Bernard Lindland of Molalla, and five brothers, A. N. Fredrickson of Corvallis, Gordon E., of Aurora, O. F., of Independence, Homer A. and Harry O., of Canby.

Funeral services were held at the Koenig memorial chapel in Corvallis, Saturday.

West Salem Dads Hear Loan Report On River Problem

WEST SALEM, Oct. 4.—At the last meeting of the city council, C. A. Guderman made a report of his findings in regard to use of federal funds in river work for the sewage problem. After discussion it was decided to wait until other cities on the river above West Salem acted before definite action be made.

A letter from the Buetler-Quistad Co. was read requesting a vacation of Lincoln streets that they might use it for purpose of piling lumber held in excess storage and it was voted to allow them that privilege until the street is needed for transportation.

Yellowed Deed to Land Bears Signature of 17th President, Andy Johnson

NORTH HOWELL, Oct. 4.—Interesting indeed, especially to lovers of the antique and unusual, is an old deed in the possession of E. B. Fletcher, who owns a land grant of 640 acres, surrounding the present North Howell grange hall and church.

This deed, or patent as it was then called, was made out to Isaac Headrick and his wife, Margaret Headrick, who came to the Oregon country in 1847 and settled on the land, later deeded to them by the U. S. government, the description being sent in to Washington from the land office at Oregon City. The deed itself is dated May 1, 1866, and is signed by President Andrew Johnson. It is written in long-hand, the careful penmanship being characteristic of that period. When a recorder's office was established in Salem this deed was recorded there when John E. McNary, recorder, and Frank Waters, deputy, signed it, November 5, 1892. The old house on the Fletcher corner is the site of the Head-

HUBBARD FRESHMEN GETTING INITIATION

HUBBARD, Oct. 4.—Initiation of the Hubbard high school freshmen began with a mock entrance examination, Tuesday morning and will culminate in the freshmen reception, Thursday night. Each day during this period of time the freshmen were made to comply with certain rules, such as walking upstairs backwards, crawling on hands and knees and wearing ridiculous clothing. During the first five minutes of each class and during activity period the freshmen were made to perform stunts for the amusement of the upper classes.

The success of the initiation is largely due to a committee composed of Gladys Ingalls, Beatrice Claypool and Gerald Hershberger. The unfortunate freshmen, 15 in number, are: Marjorie Rich, Jungnickel, Polly Holcombe, Elaine Wilson, Donna and one Sloat, Fritz Lemcke, Forrest Hartzler, Charles Knight, Harley Hostetler, Gordon Boje, Ernest Zelinka and Warren Hatcher.

DALLAS RESIDENTS HEAR MORE OF NRA

Avis Lobbell and James Mott Speak at two Meetings There Tuesday

DALLAS, Oct. 4.—Dallas citizens were fully informed of the purpose, responsibility and achievements of national recovery act, Tuesday, when Miss Avis Lobbell spoke to the members of the Dallas Woman's club in the afternoon, and James W. Mott, representative in congress from this district, addressed a group of Kiwanian and chamber of commerce members in the evening.

Miss Lobbell told of the money to be spent in Oregon under the public works program, the number of persons returned to employment under the NRA and especially stressed the responsibility of the women for the success of the entire program and the "buy now" campaign. More than 50 members were present for the first meeting. Mrs. Bruce Spaulding sang two solos, accompanied by Mrs. William Swindells. Mrs. Oscar Hayter, Mrs. W. V. Fuller, Mrs. W. G. Vassall and Mrs. Lillian Johnson were hostesses for the tea hour.

At the evening meeting, Mr. Mott outlined the manner in which the national recovery legislation was prepared, presented and passed by congress and the effect of federal regulation of private business. Dinner was served at 8 o'clock by women of the Methodist church. W. L. Soehren, president of the Kiwanian club, presided. S. A. Archibald, T. B. Hooker and Earle Richardson were appointed as a nominating committee to present the names of officers to be elected at the meeting October 14, at which time the silver cups will be presented to the outstanding 4-H club boys and girls of the county.

Brooks Community Club Meets Today; Fete Faculty 6th

BROOKS, Oct. 4.—The first meeting of the Brooks community club will be held in the clubhouse Thursday afternoon. Plans will be made for the coming year and everyone is urged to be present.

A reception and program will be held in the Brooks schoolhouse Friday night, honoring the new teaching staff. All people in the district are urged to come. The young people of the district will put on the program.

Mrs. Martha Vinton, granddaughter of Isaac and Margaret Headrick is the only direct descendant still living on the old donation land claim. Only two others, so far as can be ascertained, can lay claim to the same distinction.

These are W. H. Stevens, whose home is on the land taken up by his grandfather, and A. T. Cline and Lulu Cline Weisner, whose homes are on the land deeded to their father.

Moon Magic on Memorial Mount

The charm of moonlight lends an added beauty to the gigantic profile of George Washington, carved out of solid granite on Mount Rushmore in the Black Hills of South Dakota. This is the first moonlight picture ever made of the national memorial which is being carved out of the mountain by Gutson Gorgium, world-famous sculptor.
