

PRESS MUZZLED BY ORDER IN GERMANY

Drastic Laws Aimed at Jew And "Atrocities" News; License Reporters

BERLIN, Oct. 5.—(AP)—The reich today threw out the window the principle of the freedom of the press as understood in America, set up the death penalty for the circulation of treasonable articles and placed German newspaper workers under the thumb of the authorities.

A series of drastic laws passed by the cabinet and signed by Chancellor Hitler made the publishing of treasonable articles abroad or the introduction of them into Germany punishable by death and made journalism a licensed profession in which Aryanism and Nazi patriotism were set up as necessary qualifications.

Penitentiary sentences ranging up to five years were provided for those distributing "atrocities" or anti-Nazi material.

Dr. Joseph Goebbels, minister of public enlightenment, who claimed to believe other nations of the world would copy the plan within the next five to seven years explained in those words:

"The concept of the absolute freedom of the press is pronouncedly liberalistic and proceeds not from the people in its entirety, but from the individual." This, he said, did not mean the newspaper profession would be fettered, but rather only that the state moved in and took the place of the publisher.

"It is the absolute right of the state," Goebbels continued, "to supervise the formation of public opinion and see that it does not pursue paths leading away from the common weal."

"The more freedom of opinion that is conceded to an individual, the more it can harm the interests of the entire people."

"The conception of freedom of opinion in its absolute over-estimate has been badly shaken throughout the world."

"The German press hereafter must be single-minded in will and many-sided in expressing this will."

To give teeth to the new classification of the newspaper profession, a system of registration will be introduced. Through this Dr. Goebbels' department can keep a close watch on the situation. Rule-breakers will be booted out. Special courts will deal with the cases.

Only German citizens of Aryan ancestry, those who have not married non-Aryans and those who have not lost their public rights will be permitted to "influence public opinion," and these must swear not to write so as to "weaken German military idealism, Kultur, or faith, or offend religious feelings."

Foreign correspondents will not be affected.

Elliott Departs For South; Long In Business Here

Sidney B. Elliott left Wednesday night for San Francisco announcing to his friends that his plans were indefinite but that he probably would not return to Salem.

Mr. Elliott had been engaged in the banking business in Salem for the past 20 years. He came here just a young man, purchased an interest in the Salem Bank of Commerce and served in the capacity of vice-president and manager of that institution until it was sold to the First National bank of this city in 1929.

He is considered one of the most able bankers in the northwest and his leaving Salem is greatly regretted by many of his friends. Mr. Elliott spent the best part of his life in Salem and discharged his responsibilities with noteworthy fidelity.

They will be married in December.

RECEIPTS OF GAS TAX ARE HEAVIER

Gasoline tax receipts for the first eight months of 1933 aggregated $4,632,658.78 compared with $4,327,359.62 during the same period in 1932, Hal E. Hoos, secretary of state, declared in a report issued Thursday.

The increase of $305,270.17 for 1933 was said to be due largely to the additional one-cent per gallon gasoline tax authorized by the 1932 legislature. Gasoline sales for August, 1933, totaled 16,428,823 gallons, or an increase of 1,190,220 gallons over the same month a year ago. Gasoline tax receipts in August, 1933, increased $213,892.56 over those for August, 1932.

Non-resident motor vehicle registrations for the first nine months this year aggregated 71,324, as against 90,760 for the entire year 1932. Hoos said these figures indicated that there would be a slight decrease in non-resident motor vehicle registrations this year when compared with last year.

DIVORCE CHARGE GOES INTO DETAILS ON EXTRACT; COMPLAINT GIVES OLD BAR TALE ONE BETTER

Life for Olga Cautfield was not ten nights in a barroom; almost every night was like a barroom experience, according to her extended divorce complaint filed late Thursday in circuit court here.

Naming Earl T. Cautfield, as defendant, Mrs. Cautfield recites occasion after occasion when defendant's inability to leave drink alone caused her humiliation and distress.

"Plaintiff rendered life a veritable nightmare of harrowing experience," "life became utterly unendurable," "defendant could not leave liquor alone; he was intoxicated every day from February, 1932, to Christmas"—these are some of the phrases from the charges.

Mrs. Cautfield says at one time her husband assaulted her and threatened to kill her with a gun he had. On one occasion she grew so afflicted, Mrs. Cautfield declares she was forced to have her own husband arrested and jailed. Cautfield would come home, his wife asserts, dead drunk and totally unable to handle himself. He would go to bed with all his clothes on, frequently becoming

BRITISH WAR DEBT OFFER UNDECIDED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—(AP)—British and American spokesmen discussed world economic conditions today as a prelude to their study of methods of solving the London government's war debt problem.

Sir Frederick Leith-Ross and Sir Ronald Lindsay, representing Great Britain, met Dean Acheson, under-secretary of the treasury, and Frederick Livesey, assistant economic adviser to the state department, for a brief and thoroughly informal conversation.

With the time of the next meeting left indefinite, Acheson, Secretary Hull and Under-secretary Phillips of the state department, went to see President Roosevelt late in the day.

The possibility arose that the British were not prepared at this time to make a definite offer for settlement of the $4,465,810,000 debt, but will formulate their proposals as the study proceeds and they are enabled to determine American views on delicate points involved. Sooner or later, however, Washington officials expect a lump sum offer to be made.

Vocational Work For Handicapped Persons Planned

Training of physically handicapped persons for suitable jobs will be undertaken in every community in Oregon, according to announcement made Thursday by Oscar I. Paulson, state supervisor of vocational rehabilitation. The service will be available to persons above 16 years of age.

Careful examinations to determine the adaptive capacities for industrial and vocational training will be given and those susceptible to rehabilitation work or vocational guidance will be given every possible aid. The training will be largely practical.
