GERMANY PREPARING FOR WAR, ASSERTED

Hazen Tells Chamber Group United States is Butt Of Ill Feeling

Visible preparations for war are being carried on today in Germany—a nation where only the wives and mothers have their thoughts on peace and a place where literally thousands of persons gather for the mere changing of the guard at the tomb of the unknown soldier. Such is part of the picture which David W. Hazen, Portland Oregonian writer, brought yesterday noon to the Salem chamber of commerce gathering.

Hazen does not believe that war preparations include thoughts against the United States, a country which Germany regards as "butting in" to smother victory away from the fatherland in 1918. He said that retaliation against the United States is an economic war, which is already being waged and which is successfully excluding every American-made item from Germany. Hazen recently spent two months in Europe, and in the 27 German cities he visited, the only American-made article he found Germans to be possessed of was a bottle of catsup. He found German's don't even travel on American-owned steamships.

The idea of a "poor Germany," Hazen showed as a myth, a mere word-habit. In every city he visited he found much building activity—even beyond the wild scramble of boom days in this country. Much of the building is being done with American money—with no intention to repay.

Commenting upon the present Hitlerism, Hazen says Germans apparently think the present government is there to stay. There's absolutely no freedom in that country; even the visitor's letters out are opened and censored. Hazen said he did not salute the Nazi flag or the Hitler soldiers, and he met with no ill fate, as has been reported in cases of some foreigners. The Portlander attributes this to the fact that, while he did not salute, neither did he open his mouth against Hitlerism.

"Hitler is a good man as far as I can see," Hazen said in telling of the iron ruler and the manner in which he gained control of the country on 52 per cent of the vote.

The Hitler brown shirts are marching constantly in the streets of German cities and especially Berlin. And while the thoughts of German men are on war, the women do virtually a hundred per cent of the farm work, as is the case in Poland also.

In line with visible preparations for war, Germany during the time Hazen was there definitely started to break the Versailles treaty with respect to building of airplanes, and this move Hazen believes no power but was tested in 1931. In Essen, where big munitions plants are located, every picture seen about the walls and buildings is a war picture; and in Essen, he said, has been made that there is kept the formula for the worst poison gas that man can produce. A mechanically controlled airplane—a leap ahead of the radio-controlled one—is being perfected in Germany, Hazen said he was informed.

Gets Non-Suit—A voluntary non-suit was granted the plaintiff yesterday in the case of G. F. Kurtz against Arthur E. and Dora L. Cummings. Judge L. H. McMahon signed the order.

Y. Committee Meets—The executive committee of the annual enrollment week for the city Y. M. C. A. will meet this noon at the Y building.

Seven Students From Salem on Linfield Rolls

Seven Salem students are this year enrolled at Linfield college: James Beall, Mable Alsop and Lois Cochran, freshmen; Win Jenks, sophomore; Zaida Harlan, junior; Janet McAllister, senior, and Fred Broer, special student. The freshmen along with 180 others are beginning work under the new unified plan study which embraces oriented work conceived with the idea of developing well-balanced citizens who are able to take care of themselves in a changing environment.

The new course has evidently found favor with the entering men and women. They are intensely interested in learning how to fit themselves for an existence that has become infinitely more complex. Linfield has made it possible for such a large number to continue their education through a policy of spreading part-time employment to as many students as possible. Citizens of the town have cooperated through the chamber of commerce in furnishing work.

FIRST CLUB MEET OF YEAR SUCCESS

LABISH CENTER, Oct. 9.—About 125 persons attended the first community club meeting on Friday night. Due to the inability of the Salem chamber of commerce to present the program as scheduled, a program of local and outside talent was arranged by the club secretary, Mrs. Harvey Akor. Finances of the club were reported to be in good order. Receipts last year totaled over $50, and disbursements about $25.

The program included vocal duets by Louise and Eloise Brawles, duet by Veve and Doris Clinton, vocal solos by C. B. Ashbaugh of Brooks with guitar accompaniment; sketch by the Brawles sisters; violin and piano numbers, Earl and Margaret Ishaam, and guitar and violin duets, Joe Norris and Mr. Ashbaugh. Funeral services for Louis Garbarino were conducted in Portland at St. Michael's church Saturday morning. Garbarino, who was an uncle of Joe Garbarino of this place, died Wednesday. Interment was at Vancouver, Wash.

$1 Verdict Won By Jenkins From Joe A. Engeman

A verdict for one dollar was awarded G. W. Jenkins by a circuit court jury at 6 p. m. yesterday. Jenkins having sued Joe A. Engeman for $147 for wages allegedly due him. Both men live near Silverton. Jenkins also won $25 as attorney's fees.

Today the case of Reynolds against Hain involving a claim for personal services, will come up for trial.

Yesterday's case marked the opening of the October term of court before Judge L. H. McMahon.

BOARD OF REVIEW PLANNED, SCOUTS

An innovation for Boy Scouts of the Cascade area council will be introduced October 12, when a Scout board of review will be held at the First Christian church at 7 o'clock.

The board of review is a direct examination for advancement, and will take the place of the less lengthy examination which heretofore has been held immediately preceding the court of honor ceremonies.

Candidates who pass the board of review examinations October 12, will be presented at the court of honor to be held October 18 at the county courthouse, starting at 8 o'clock.

Parents are especially urged to attend the board of review work Thursday by scoutmasters, who have taken initiative in the more extended examinations for bestowing awards.

Sister's Funeral Attended, Kelso, By Mrs. Arnold

Mrs. Jessie Arnold of the Statesman office returned yesterday from Kelso, Wash., where she was summoned by the death Friday of her sister, Mrs. Waldo Harris. Funeral services were held at Kelso Sunday.

Mrs. Harris was known to a number of local residents through her visits here with her mother, Mrs. Dora L. Leighton, and her sisters, Mrs. Cornele Stuttsford and Mrs. Arnold. She leaves, besides the widower, two children. An infant child was buried with her.

Mrs. Stuttsford did not attend the funeral, as it was necessary for her to remain with her mother, who has been seriously ill for some days.

Blaze, Leslie Church—The congregation at the Leslie Memorial church, Myers and South Commercial streets, was disturbed Sunday night by the arrival of the south Salem fire engine. The crew was called out to extinguish a chimney blaze at the church. Bonus Commission Sues—The Veterans' State Aid commission yesterday filed suit here to collect a first mortgage from G. E. Croissant and several others. Principal of $1246 on a $1400 original loan, together with interest and costs, is asked.

IT TAKES HEALTHY NERVES TO WIN THE WORLD SERIES

21 out of 23 GIANTS WORLD CHAMPIONS Smoke CAMELS

(Right) "GREAT TEAM WORK and healthy nerves carried us to the top," says Bill Terry, brilliant Giants' manager. "A check-up of the team shows that 21 out of 23 of the World Champion Giants smoke Camels."

(Left) "I LONG AGO learned that Camels are the cigarette for me," says "Blondy" Ryan. "I like Camels better, and they don't get on my nerves."

(Above) "JUMPY NERVES and home runs don't go together," according to Mel Ott. "So I stick to my Camels when I get a minute to enjoy a smoke."

(Below) "I CAN'T RISK getting rattled nerves to smoke Camels," says Carl Hubbell. "I like their mildness and I know they won't interfere with healthy nerves."

A MATCHLESS BLEND

IT IS MORE FUN TO KNOW
Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE tobacco than any other popular brand.
