

JUNIOR DIRECTORS OF Y TO BE NAMED

Five members each from high school and junior high school members of the Y and two from the grammar school group will be chosen. Nominations made by a committee from the junior board have been announced as follows: High school—Phil Brownell, Gordon Black, Wilfred Ruecker, Oliver Glenn, Dayton Robertson, Pete Golsar, David Compton, Arthur Eaton and Robert Hauge; junior high schools—Douglas Chambers, Charles Wiper, George Arbuckle, Douglas McKay, Jr., Hume Downs, Tom Roen, Max Wilhelm and William Laughlin; grammar school—Bill Shinn, Joe Law, Floyd Sanford and Robert McKee.

Electing 12 members for the junior board of directors, junior division members of the Y.M.C.A. hold their annual election Saturday and Monday. Originally scheduled for last Saturday, the balloting was postponed a week so that arrangements might be completed whereby all junior division members could vote.

night and remain open until 9:30 o'clock. The junior board serves in an advisory and executive capacity working with Gus Moore, boys' work secretary.

GOOD BUSINESS TO "BUY NOW"

William P. Ellis, in charge of NRA activities for Marion county yesterday urged residents here to participate in the national buy-now movement.

Increased costs of every factor entering into commodity production and in manufacturing must be reflected in increasing prices," he stated. "It is the part of good business judgment to buy now." Ellis pointed to higher wage scales prevailing under NRA as one basis for the increasing costs of goods.

Ellis yesterday received a ruling from NRA headquarters that there was nothing in the buy now eagle code to prevent an employer from discharging incompetent help to be replaced by competent workers. To discharge employees receiving more than the minimum wages only to replace them by minimum wage-paid employees is in violation of the code, Ellis said.

Employers may require help to attend a reasonable number of sales and educational meetings after hours without counting the time as work done during the week, Ellis ruled. If the meetings, however, are held during regular working hours, the time spent must be paid for by the employer.

FIRST REPORT ON Y DRIVE IS TODAY

Thursday noon workers in the Y.M.C.A. annual membership campaign met for luncheon and for instructions on their work. Today noon the first report of the solicitations will be received. Paul Wallace is acting as general chairman. Team captains are T. M. Hicks, B. E. Sisson, Carl Abrams, C. A. Sprague, C. A. Page, Karl Wenger and Floyd Miller. Rev. Hugh McCallum gave a brief inspirational talk at the Thursday luncheon.

During the next few days teams will call on Salem residents seeking pledges for the support of the Y during the coming year. The Y has succeeded in balancing its budget during the year past by dint of rigid economy, and additional income is needed in order to maintain the work properly.

Bad Weather Cuts Relief Can. Pack

Adverse weather conditions have reduced the Marion county relief cannery pack far below the amount originally hoped for, it was declared yesterday. Whereas the cannery is capable of turning out nearly twice as many cans of tomatoes as of beans per day, early this week only 31,500 cans of tomatoes had been put up, in contrast with the nearly 40,000 cans of beans preserved late in the summer. The condition of the tomato crop has proved discouraging to relief workers and families on the relief, it was stated. Rotting and cracking of fruit has about ended the pack.
