"No Favor Sways Us: No Fear Shall Awe" From First Statesman, March 28, 1851 THE STATESMAN PUBLISHING CO.

CHARLES A. SPRAGUE . . . - Editor-Manager SHELDON F. SACKETT - - - - Managing Editor

Member of the Associated Press sciated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for publica-news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in

> ADVERTISING Portland Representative Gordon B. Bell, Portland, Ore, Entered at the Postoffice at Salem, Oregon, as Second-Class Matter. Published every morning except Monday. Business office, 215 S. Commercial Street.

Eastern Advertising Representatives

SUBSCRIPTION RATES: Mail Subscription Rates, in Advance. Within Oregon: Daily and Sunday, 1 Mo. 50 cents; 3 Mo. $1.25; 6 Mo. $2.25; 1 year $4.00, Elsewhere 50 cents per Mo., or $5.00 for 1 year in advance.

By City Carrier: 45 cents a month; $5.00 a year in advance. Per Copy 2 cents. On trains and News Stands 5 cents. Hark From the Tomb!

WHAT voices are these that sound from the tomb? They profess to be republican voices; although the republicans were buried as deep last November as John Barleycorn was some years back. The voices are those of Jim Watson, one of the victims of the landslide; and of William E. Humphrey, who hangs desperately to a seat on the federal trade commission.

Watson gave an address recently on "Back to the Constitution". It was an attack on the "new deal" and designed as a rallying cry for the scattered and bewildered republicans. Watson laid to with gusto; and apparently thought the people were still interested in the constitution in this country.

Bill Humphrey challenges the authority of the president to remove him from the trade commission; and claims to make the "sacrifice" in the interest of republican principles. The law created the commission as a bi-partisan body; barred removal except "for cause". Humphrey asserts the president is out to appoint a Wisconsin progressive as his successor, and denies that such a person is qualified to wear the label of republican.

In the face of these eruptions party leaders shown no sign of gathering behind these self-anointed standardbearers. In fact Patrick Hurley grabbed a "mike" as soon as Watson blew off to assure the country that he was back of NRA, etc. Significantly no republican has stepped forward to defend Humphrey's right to his office.

The reason is that there is no hope for the republican party in the leadership of men like Watson and Humphrey. Each may be right in his position; but the country has no faith in these apostles of standpatism, who still think chiefly in terms of partisan success. Pres. Hoover followed counsels of such advisors to his own hurt. New names, new faces must come to rejuvenate the republican party as an effective force.

Plenty of material is at hand for a party of opposition. This material should not be mere obstructionism, nor the harping criticism of "back seat drivers". It should look forward and not backward. It should challenge the "new deal" not in terms of tradition, but in terms of sound principles for the economic and political future of the country.

Watson should merely turn over in his political grave and resume his sleep. Humphrey will fizzle like a firecracker and then go out. The republican party needs its own "new

Indian Summer

THE BEND BULLETIN disagrees with a La Grande observer who locates Indian summer, not in October, but late in November, or even December in some regions. Judge Sawyer quotes from the book to disprove the assertion; and that will prove reassuring to those who have been enjoying the fine October weather which prevailed the first third of the month. Over here fog has been gathering; but in the Bend and La Grande country they still revel in abundant sunshine, tempered with haze which marks Indian summer.

The Bend editor sets no dates for the season we denominate Indian summer, and puts it at any time in the fall when "mild, calm, hazy weather". And he goes on to cite "Thoreau, in his notes on the meteorological conditions in Massachusetts during the 10 years, 1851-1860, records the occurrence of Indian summer weather on dates all the way from September 27 to December 13-a range of 77 days. If the La Grande resident cares to read the "Narrative of the Canadian Red River Exploring Expedition", he will find data bearing on Indian summer weather which started one year on October 5 and lasted to November 20. J. W. Schaeffer, of the United Sttaes weather bureau, some years ago published an analysis of the weather records at Milwaukee, Wis., showing that Indian summer weather varied widely at that place in its date of occur-

"The origin of the term Indian summer still remains in doubt. The earliest known use of the term was an entry dated October 13, 1794, in the journal of Major Ebenezer Denny, kept in western Pennsylvania. That date, October 13, is significant in disproving the contention that the term is only applied to ideal weather occurring in early winter."

There should be no quarreling on the question. 'Tis enough that the pleasant, lazy days come in the autumn. They are ours to enjoy, though they may be tinged with the depressing knowledge that they will not last long. If Indian summer comes, can winter . . .?

Chicago and New York

X7ITH the stir about moving the stock exchange from New York to Newark to avoid city taxes, Chicago steps forward and makes a bid for the business. The Oregonian sees in this a challenge of Chicago to the supremacy of New York and opines that "business supremacy of the Atlantic coast is a relic of colonial days".

The Ogn. doesn't seem to know that New York has already lost its supremacy in business. It has moved farther down the seaboard to Washington where politicians now run the works. One reason for this is the impotence of New York leadership in the business crisis. The bankers there were so engulfed in "new era" theories they couldn't see any clouds ahead. When the storm broke they were so busy hunting a refuge for themselves they deserted the bridge to get a seat in the first lifeboats.

But Chicago will not be much of a threat. Its banks all but cracked up in the strain. Chicago will always be a big slaughterhouse town and railroad center; but as we view it, it is less of a threat to New York than it once was,

Living in the midwest, we recall that everything centered about Chicago. Coming to the northwest we found Chicago's influence didn't extend beyond the Rockies. Instead the business out here was with New York. Merchants even in small towns went to New York once or twice a year to buy goods. Bank clearings were chiefly with New York. The Panama canal has injured the interior like Chicago and built up the littoral. Ships tie us with New York even more closely

New York's supremacy may be a hang-over from colonial times; but it promises to persist, unless Washing all its functions.

aneville is looked to as a means of relief for Oregon,-but a California firm got the first contract.

"THATS MY BOY" BY FRANCIS POSTPLAN

hero, has been traced from his humble home in tiny Athens, a midwest factory town, through high Yale was protesting the decision: colleges and through two years of backfield glory as a superstar at Therndyke, rich and historic eastern university. He's the idea of fandom, the pet of society, the service of the servi Therndyke, rich and historic eastern university. He's the idel of fandom, the pet of society, the envy of back - home neighbers, and "my boy" to his adoring Mom and Pop. To the former, he's still her little Tommy and to father, well—

Tom's manners and clothes annoy he hished the goal.

Tommy made six; Barton three kicked it—high and true over the posts, with ten yards to spare!

The Dall was passed; Tommy kicked it—high and true over the posts, with ten yards to spare!

The Dall was passed; Tommy kicked it—high and true over the posts, with ten yards to spare!

The Dall was passed; Tommy kicked it—high and true over the posts, with ten yards to spare!

The Dall was passed; Tommy kicked it—high and true over the posts, with ten yards to spare!

The Dall was passed; Tommy kicked it—high and true over the posts, with ten yards to spare!

The Dall was passed; Tommy kicked it—high and true over the posts, with ten yards to spare!

The Dall was passed; Tommy kicked it—high and true over the posts, with ten yards to spare!

The Dall was passed; Tommy kicked it—high and true over the posts, with ten yards to spare!

The Dall was passed; Tommy kicked it—high and true over the posts, with ten yards to spare!

The Dall was passed; Tommy kicked it—high and true over the posts, with ten yards to spare!

The Dall was passed; Tommy kicked it—high and true over the posts, with ten yards to spare!

The Dall was passed; Tommy kicked it—high and true over the posts, with ten yards to spare!

The Dall was passed; Tommy kicked it—high and true over the posts, with ten yards to spare!

The Dall was passed; Tommy kicked it—high and true over the posts, with ten yards to spare!

The Dall was passed; Tommy kicked it—high and true over the posts, with ten yards to spare!

The Dall was passed; Tommy kicked it—high and true over the posts, with ten yards to spare!

The Dall was passed; Tommy kicked it—high and true over the posts, with ten yards to spare!

The Dall was passed; Tommy kicked it—high and true over the posts, with ten yards Tommy and to father, well— Tom's manners and clothes annoy the yeteran glassworker who secretly, however, rates his boy on a par with Pop's supreme political favorite, Al Smith, Before Thorndyke had put a high hat sort of halo on him, Tommy's best girl was Dorothy Whitney, daughter of was Derothy Whitney, daugnter or to play.
the richest and most important Dorothy was hanging on her fa Tommy has met Elaine Winthrop, society artist and daughter of a Wall Street magnate. More glit-a senior but in the final game on Thorndyke's schedule, Yale gets a and was off down the side lines, cut Expectancy hung over the hubbub, 14-0 lead in the third quarter, Capt. back into the field and seemed when an Eli lineman calls "Jeff" an "old pre". . . That was the spark that touched the TNT. the Randolph went berserk . . . the Pilgrims are now in touchdown "Pass!" The Thorndyke crowd deposed. distance, pounding the Bulldogs. . . .

CHAPTER THIRTY-FOUR

could do nothing with it; the surg-ine Pilerim forwards threw back "Pass!" And this time Harlow two charges-Harlow's punt was leaped high in the air and interhurried and Barton returned it to the Yale 45.

Again the pounding continuedon fourth down.

"This is the play that counts," Charlie Whitney said. Jerry nodded. dyke 17-yard line. "Come on, Jeff, old boy-show 'em your stuff." Dorothy, almost shivering in excitement, seized Jerry's arm, clung to it.

Tommy made three yards. Thorndyke was jubilant, on the field and in the stands; on the next down a pass; stopped Tommy on a the tacklers in, tossed laterally to quickly to save time, dropped back him. Barton and then dashed straight and threw an undisguised pass "Y for the corner in time to take out straight down the field; Yale had two men at one swipe as Barton the receivers intelligently covered

The kick for goal was blocked. The kick for goal was blocked. perate, sidelong lunge and caught
The score was Yale 14, Thorn-the ball as he sprawled—held it.

The Thorndyke stands moaned unstoppable juggernaut; could Ran- for a moment, then swung his arm dolph keep it moving? It stalled; a first down pass was | Charlie Whitney cried: "That almost intercepted; Randolph was tackle was eligible—what a spot stopped—then, while Yale began to to pull it—if there's only time. breathe easier, Tommy threw a long Come on, Tommy."

pass down the middle; Barton led A substitute was rushing out cept, spilled Barton. The field judge ran to the spot yards back of the center. The ball Die where the men collided, waved his was on the 17-yard line, almost di-The colorful career of "Big Jeg" arm down the field — interference rectly before the goal posts.

Randelph, now a national football down on the Value and Thorndyke had first The crowd waited, husbed. Everydown on the Yale 24.

he kicked the goal.

Yale 14, Thorndyke 18. As the Pilgrims ran excitedly back to their 40-yard line to kick the richest and most important Dorothy was hanging on her facitizen in Athens. But in New York, ther's arm now as Tommy's kickto leave. She smiled, sleepily, at off again sailed over the end zone. Dorothy. Yale put the ball in play on its 20wall Street magnate. More gut-yard line once more—could not gain and students of Thorndyke were

"Pass!" The Thorndyke crowd a short one into the flat—two des-Within their 15-yard line the lided—and the ball hit the ground. Yale defense stiffened - a fourth A universal groan gulped from the guised in a sheath of white satin. down pass went into the end zone. mass voice of the crowd. Tommy, seeing Dorothy and her Yale had the ball; but the Bulldogs tried his end sweep again but was father, stopped at their table; the > cepted on his 40-yard line. The action continued swiftly-

Harlow, faking a punt on first and the Thorndyke gains became down, ran ten yards and crossed the folds of a napkin and poured bigger; the crowd awoke to the midfield; he tried two running a drink. "Take it, Tom-it'll do you threat; when the period ended it plays, stalling for time-then dar- good." was Thorndyke's ball on Eli's 16- ingly gambled with a pass which yard line with one yard to make Barton almost intercepted but could not quite reach. Harlow kicked out of bounds on the Thorn-

> Charlie looked at the clock. Two minutes to go. "That's the end," he said, despairingly. "That one point will beat stands were up again. Substitutes arms and melted into his mood. It while Yale was exultant. It would streamed on the field for both teams was strangely peaceful; the music take more than one touchdown to -one of them a hulking, awkward and the people and the place drifted tie: Yale was receiving the kickoff; tackle. There was no doubt about away. at the worst it could hold the ball, the play to be called-Yale spread to protect against the pass, covered Tommy kicked off over the goal the eligible men - but the ball line. Yale put the ball in play on floated along near the sidelines; the its 20. Harlow and Verger were awkward tackle galloped along, thrown back; Thorndyke's line was completely alone-he reached for charging so fast Harlow decided to it, hugged it with the grace of an play safe and punt on third down; elephant. The head linesman ran it went outside on the Pilgrim 42. to the spot as players from both The 70,000 spectators were tense, teams gathered excitedly. The Thorndyke's attack had been an referee talked to the head linesman you think-"

Yale was vibrant now-knocked dragged another over the goal. -but Barton made a quick, des- here is envying me."

toward the Yale goal.

catch it; Harlow, coming to inter- waved him back. Thorndyke lined them curiously. up. Barton took his position ten field goal.

Spanish Serenade

"Did you get excited?"
Jerry shook his head in amazement. "Frank Merriwell is back." Dorothy turned to watch the riotoff, the crowd, all standing now, ing crowd. Freddy was jumping up looked to the clock on the score-board. There were four minutes left one of them holding a silver flask aloft, Elaine Winthrop was gather-

That night the victorious alumni in two plays and again punted. Bar- celebrating. Dorothy sat at a small ton caught the ball on the dead run table with Jerry and her father. Then, as if by signal, a mighty headed into the clear space on the cheer swept through the ball room, opposite side of the field—but he The orchestra swung into the was brought down by Grogan with strains of the Thorndyke Victory

Jeff Randolph had arrived; he danced with Elaine Winthrop; his wailed. Tommy faded back, lobbed face was flushed and he seemed embarrassed: but he did not smile, Elaine was almost gaspingly lovely, her slim curves only faintly dismusic ceased and they sat down. "Nice going, Jeff," Jerry said.
"Thanks, Jerry."

Charlie Whitney rested his hand on Tom's shoulder for a moment, then brought a flask from under

He looked tired; his eyes were dead and lustreless; his face was bruised; one eye was slightly puffed. Dorothy avoided his gaze until it became embarrassing; then she met his eyes.

"Will you dance, Dot?" She had not danced with him for three years; he moved freely, faultlessly; she felt smaller in his arms; she realised how much he had grown in that time. People play Tommy started wide, sucked sweep - then Tommy, working were watching them; calling to

> "You're quite the hero, Tom." "We were lucky." "I'm greatly honored. Every girl

"Please, Dot-not tonight." First down on the Yale 40-the she felt the warm strength of his

"Why are you so nice tonight?" "Why are you?" "Because you were so marvellous today, I suppose. "And if I hadn't been?"

Something in his voice annoyed her. She lifted her head and said swiftly: "Listen, Tom Randolph, if

He smiled indulgently as he would at a child of whom he was fond, caught her close and danced furiously, as he had when they were in high school. When they returned to the table Dorothy was suddenly aware that her father, the ball a yard too far, turned to from the Thorndyke bench. Tommy Elaine and Jerry were watching

Affair at Woodburn Designed For Best Ever: Committees at Work

WOODBURN, Oct. 13. - Committees for the big annual Armistice day celebration given by the Woodburn American Legion post were appointed Wednesday night when that organization met in the armory to lay plans for the aftair, which promises to be even better than ever this year,

The feature of the afternoon will be a football game between the Chemawa Indian school team and the Woodburn high school eleven, on the local field, Principal speaker for the morning program will probably be Sid George of Eugene.

The parade, to take place in the morning, will probably have the following entries: Hubbard community band, the "Hunray Seven" band, the Howitzer company, 186th infantry, Woodburn Legion post, Woodburn Legion auxiliary, Spanish - American War Veterans, G. A. R. veterans, Gold Star mothers, fraternal organizations, the Legion Junior team that won northwest championsihp this summer, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, and a pet parade. There will also be a costume parade, according to present plans. Prizes will be awarded to appropriate costumes.

Committees Named Dr. John M. Hanrahan has general charge of the arrangements. The various committees are:

Parade, O. S. Olson, chairman, H. M. Austin, Milton Coy; military police, A. S. Adams, chaiman: refreshments, H. Stinson, chairman; decorations, Sam Yoder and O. S. Olson; dance, A. G. Glatt, chaiman; football game, S. F. Scollard, chairman; gates at football game, H. F. Butterfield and A. E. Miller; reviewing stands, H. S. LeFebvre, chairman; window decorations, A. J. Beck chairman; cashier, L. C. Buchner; publicity, Rodney Alden, chair-

STUDENTS SELECT

Seventh Grade Pupil on Visit To Japan: Lease Perrine Place

student body of the Hayesville school has elected these officers for the quarter: President, Allen Smith; vice-president, George Salto; secretary and treasurer, Sachiko Furujama, and sergeant, Daniel VerHagen.

Mrs. Chester Goodman of Eugene has been visiting her mother, Mrs. Burr Teel, who is confined to a Calem hospital. Mrs. W. McMelleon, who has been visiting her daughter in Tacoma. returned Wednerday accompan-ied by her grandson, Donald Marken.

Mr. Walter Fisher and daugher are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Ed Ward during Mrs. Fisher's convalescence. I. W. Bontrager is risiting his nephew, Ed Fowler and family, at Sacramento, Calif.

To Plant Onion Seed Raymond and Willard Claggett of the Keizer district have rented the Farrine place and expect to put a large acreage of it n onion seed.

Mr. and Mrs Thomas Redden are moving from McMinnville into the Simons house on the Claxtar road. Their daughter, irs. J. E. Brown and small son Bobbie, of Sacramento, Cal., will be with them until they are setled satisfactorily.

Hiroshi Shishido, a seventh grade pupil, left this week with his mother for a three months' visit in Japan. They took the boat from Seattle.

MT. ANGEL, Oct. 13. - The new students of Mt. Angel normal and academy were guests of the old students at a welcome party given in the school aduitorium Wednesday evening at 8 clock. Rev. Father Alcuin, rector and Rev. Father Vincent, assistant rector were guests of

The party opened with a grand march of both old and new students down the auditorium. The program included: Blanche Horskey, address of welcome; song by old collegiates; an original poem, "Freshies" by Mary Jo Weishaar; vocal solo by Agnes Walker; playlet, "The Ghost of a Freshie" played by Eugenie Hemshorn, Mary Grosjacques, Helen Piennett, Bernice Gilles and Rose Wolf; song by the vocal club.

Refreshments and dancing followed. A few tables of cards were played. The entertainment was under the direction of Sister M. Beatrice, director of the school orchestra, and Sister M. Eleanor, senior matron, had charge of the refreshments.

Junior Band Talked For Mt. Angel Youth

MT. ANGEL, Oct. 13. - Mr. Hittner, officer of the Mt. Angel band, visited St. Mary's school toto organize a junior orchestra among the boys and girls of the sixth, seventh and eighth grades.

Comment

From Other Papers

A GOVERNOR CANDIDATE It's not too early to pick out a man for governor. Not that it will do much good, but then it some other difficulty. The myth of big business and a successful business man in office as the key to a successful administration in the governor's office has certainly been given a severe setback, if it has not been entirely exploded. It is rather hard to conceive how we could be getting less for our money than we are in Oregon as far as the governorship is concerned.

There is absolutely no leader-ship. Neither right nor wrong. Whenever a question comes up of any significance, whether it is to build a shed on a state-owned building or the policy the state should take on some important national issue, the governor appoints a committee to solve the the matter is the bigger the comproblem, and the more important mittee he appoints and the bigger order of nothing done is delivered to the state. Among those who are certainly eligible is Senator Ed Bailey, who made the race three years ago. Senator Bailey has a lot of qualifications, chief of which is his earnestness and clean honesty. He about completed and calls for the knows about state matters after Girls' league party on October 13; two terms in the senate, and it Hallowe'en party, October 27; seems to the writer that Oregon carnival and variety show No. 17; two terms in the senate, and it ought to give this aggressive the junior prom Dec. 22; senior young man a chance to demon- night Feb. 10; girls' night March strate what he can and will do. -Sheridan Sun.

KEEP IT STRAIGHT

John Kelly writes a most interesting column for the Cregonian but not always does he get als facts straight. In Wednesday's output, for instance, one finds a statement that is quite contrary to fact. Furthermore, it is one that is critical of Herber: Hoover who seems to be one of John's pet : eeves. Every so often John takes a G'g at Hoover and, as in this instance, he is often By R. N. A. Group at Scotts in the wrong. "A year ago," says John, "the Hoover administration declared no one would starve-and left relief to the states and communities." The Roosevelt administration, John suggests, is going to do something altogether differ-

Well, the fact is that the Hoover administration did not leave relief to states and communities. A relief fund was set up and disbursed to the states and by them HAYESVILLE, Oct. 13. - The to the counties without strings other than a showing of need and a requirement of proper accounting. The Roosevelt relief, on the other hand, is in large part to be supplied only to those states that raise money themselves. That is why Oregon faces the need of a special legislative session.

There was no need of any speial session under Hoover. Let's keep these things straight. Bead Bulletin.

INDEPENDENCE, Oct. 13 .for construction here of a fire- nounced. proof warehous, as result of facts given the chamber of comand children, Richard and Ethel, merce meeting here early this week by President R. M. Walker. Due to high rate of fire insur> where the insurance is over three-fourtus lower.

ance here, bulk of the local hops

Calendar for Year Shows Variety of Activities for Students

might serve to divert minds from MILL CITY, Oct. 13 - Organitation of the Girls' league of the high school has been completed. with Shirley Horner being elected president, Dortheen Dunivan. vice president, Helen Bodeker treasurer and Helen Elliott, secretary. Miss Marguerite Looney is league adviser. This evening the members will enjoy a party at which only the girls of the league will be present. During the year, possibly in March, they will present a program for the public.

Thursday evening the seniors of the high school enjoyed a wiener roast and the same evening the juniors gave a surprise party for Dortheen Dunivan whose birthday it was. In addition to the members of the junior class a number of other friends of Miss Dunivan were present.

Boys Do Cooking The boys' class in cooking is progressing nicely. At present the boys are working on biscuits, muffins and cup cakes, and bid well to out-class the girls in the culinary art. There are 14 boys in the cooking class,

The calendar of school activities for the high school is just 13; loud sock day and basketball banquet March 30; boys' chorus April 13; annual play May 11; annual exhibit May 18; and senior-junior banquet May 30.

Mills: Frank Brosig Injured in Fall

SCOTTS MILLS, Oct. 13 .-Scott Camp No. 6112, R. N. A., entertained several members of the Molalla lod e Wednesday. A potluck dinner was served. Molalla guests were Mrs. Ida Karney, Mrs. Eva Heth, Mrs. Bertha Klecker, M.s. I sther Weiner. Mrs. Alm . Douglas. An additional guest was Mrs ter of E er. Frank Brosig sustained severe ruises about the head and shoulders Thursday when he fell while ricking apples at the L. S. White place.

Mrs. Vina Losinger received word of the birth of a daughter, Arlene Mavis, to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Losing : of Roshold, N. D., Septembs: 23. This is Mrs. Losinger's first grandchild, and incidentally was born on the grandmother's tirthday.

Visits Old Friends J. J. Dot; of Hubbard, oldtime resident at Crooked Finger, has been visiting M: and Mrs. H. H. Inser of that district this

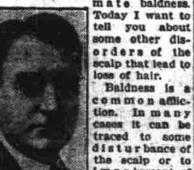

The large packing plant which burned to the ground early Sunday morning, was built in 1920 at cost of $10,000. Earl Fearcy of Salem has been operating it Petitions will be presented to the the past few seasons. Whether it Southern Pacific company asking will be rebuilt has not been an-

ON HUNTING JOURNEY HAZEL GREEN, Oct. 13-Edward Hashlebacher, Leo Zielinski, A. C. Burk, Joseph Garberino and are taken to Salom warehouses, Louis Wampler will leave the last of the week for a hunting trip to Klamath county. They will be the It will h asked that the fire- guests of Mr. Wampler's father, proof warehouse have a storage Marion Wampler, who has a lodge capacity of 25,000 bales of h .-- | on Klamath lake,

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D., Though this disease has been rec-United States senator from New York
Former Commissioner of Health, regarding its cause or cure. It was New York City

NOT LONG ago I discussed the druft may cause thinning of the hair original thesis. and lead to ulti-

Dr. Copeland

Many authorities regard baldness of other families escape it.

You may have observed a child without any hair at all. This is called "congenital alopecia". Many of hair are usually caused by lack children are born hairless and go of proper hygiene of the scalp, carethrough life without any. This is through life without any. This is lessness in the use of hair brushes doubtless the effect of heredity. It and combs, and the neglect of minor is a strange affliction, the cause of which has never been determined.

Bald Patches

Some persons have baid spots in order that is often difficult to cure nusual places on the scalp. Indeed, there may be many bald patches. This condition is called when it does it is usually white. The on a woman's face?

regarding its cause or cure. It was first described by "Celsus," a Greek physician, in the year $ B. C. Strange prevention and cure of dandruff. It treatment outlined by the modern was pointed out that neglect of dan- textbooks differ little from Celsus'

"Tinea favus" is another strange mate baldness and unusual affliction of the scalp. Today I want to The scalp is covered with a yellow tell you about crust and the affliction leads to a some other dis- marked loss of hair. The disease is orders of the encountered in children as well as scalp that lead to adults. For many years little was known about the cause and treat-Baldness is a ment of this ailment. Successful common afflic- measures have since been introduced tion. In many for the cure of this rare disorder.

Ringworm Infection

Perhaps the most common cause the scalp or to of loss of hair is infection of the mpairment of scale. This may be traced to a germ the health. In or parasite, Parasitic infections are some instances, usually found in children. worm" is such a disease.

"Tines capitis" is the medical name for an infection of the scalp comas hereditary. This belief is con-firmed by the prevalence of baidness cured by completely shaving the in certain families, while generations scalp and the administration of carefully supervised X-ray treatment. Infections of the scalp which may lead to temporary or permanent loss disturbances of the hair. Permanent disfigurement can be prevented by prompt and careful attention. Neglect may lead to a chronic dis-

Answers to Health Queries

ecia areata". Occasionally hair E. R. Q.-Can anything be done to may return to these bare areas and arrest the growth of superfluous hair affliction is not necessarily limited A.—For further particulars send a to the scalp, but may involve the regions of the beard, eyebrows or mus-- (Copyright, 1983, K. F. S., Inc.)

FIRST GRANDCHILD HERE | nouncing the birth of a grand- Massie, of Toledo. This is the first Mr. Hittner will talk to the chil-HAZEL GREEN, Oct. 13.—Mr. sor. Charles Dean, son of Mr. and child in the home and the first dren at the school next Monday and Mrs. Robert Massie are an- Mrs. Raymond Boone, nee Verla grandchild of the Massie family. at 1 p. m.