

Gabby Street Made Manager of San Francisco 'Missions'

EX-CARD. HEAD SIGNS WITH S.F.

'Gabby' to Come West Soon To Organize for 1934 Season

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 18. (AP)—Joseph Bearwald, president of the San Francisco Mission baseball club of the Pacific Coast league, announced today he has signed "Gabby" Street, who managed the St. Louis Cardinals when they won the world's championship in 1931, as manager of the Mission club.

Bearwald said that Street, who accepted terms offered him on Bearwald's recent trip east, will leave his home in Missouri shortly to start organizing the Pacific coast club for the 1934 season. The Mission president did not disclose the salary involved.

Fred Hofmann, manager of the club during the 1933 season, was offered a position as a player, Bearwald said, but was given his unconditional release when he refused the demotion.

Charles Street, for years familiarly known as "Gabby," broke into baseball at Jacksonville, Ky., in 1900. For several years he played semi-pro ball and then went to the old Central league, getting brief trials with Boston and Cincinnati before coming to San Francisco as a catcher for the Seals of the Pacific Coast league.

Joining the Washington Americans in 1908, Street served as a big league catcher for four years. In this period he gained fame as the regular receiver of Walter Johnson's bullet-like slants.

Street, a weak batsman, dropped from the majors in 1912 and spent some time in the Southern league before enlisting in the army during the world war. He was made a sergeant and came home with a bullet wound in his stomach.

On his recovery, Street made the rounds of the minor leagues, until he was called to the St. Louis Cardinals as a coach. In 1930 he succeeded to the management of the club. Under his leadership the Cardinals won the National league pennant two consecutive years and became world's champions in 1931. Street severed his connections with the Cards early this year because of differences with President Sam P. Breadon.

Bearwald declared Street had signed a one-year contract to manage the Missions and would have full control of the club.

"I am satisfied that I have landed the right man," commented Bearwald.

JOPLIN, Mo., Oct. 18. (AP)—Charles E. "Gabby" Street, who has been named manager of the Mission club of the Pacific Coast league, said at his home here tonight that "I'll be everything on the club but the president, with the power to buy and sell, hire and fire and run the team as I see fit."

The Missions finished seventh in the league the past season, and Street will start immediate work on rebuilding the team. He will attend the annual minor league meeting at Galveston, Tex., next month, in an effort to round up player talent.

"It's going to be one of the biggest jobs I ever tackled," Street commented. "The job is better than a lot of managers have who are piloting tail end clubs in the majors, and the financial possibilities are much greater, as I will be in an executive role as well as the actual team manager."

Street and J. R. Bearwald, president of the club, reached an agreement at a recent conference at Chicago.

Drills OSC Squad On New Plays for Saturday's Game

CORVALLIS, Ore., Oct. 18. (AP)—The Oregon State first team was back in the thick of practice tonight and Coach Lon Stiner concentrated on some new plays he plans to spring on the University of Southern California in the game at Portland Saturday.

Funting also received attention today. Franklin's kicking so far with a nothing phenomenal, has been consistently good. This ability, coupled with his passing and ball carrying, makes Franklin one of the greatest triple threats the Staters have had in years, fans have declared.

Satisfied with the speed in his backfield, Coach Stiner today was attempting to speed up the forward wall.

A light rain fell here today, giving the Staters their first opportunity in a month to get the "feel" of a wet field. Stiner, however, hopes for a dry field Saturday as much, he said, as the visitors do. Practice sessions here have indicated that the Orangemen are planning to take frequently to the air.

Plays in Portland Saturday

Homer Griffith, U. S. C. halfback, whose brilliant playing saved the day for the Trojans in the game with St. Mary's last Saturday. The Trojans meet Oregon State at Multnomah stadium next Saturday.

Oddie Star Won't be in Friday Tilt

WOODBURN, Oct. 18.—Chances of Woodburn high school's football team taking the forthcoming game with Newberg have been diminished to a considerable extent because of the absence of Leo Halter, a fullback, on the practice field of late. Halter, who turned in such a stellar game last Friday and contributed a great part to the defeat of Lebanon, underwent such punishment that he was unable to show up for practice either Monday or Tuesday. He will probably play only a little while, if at all, against Newberg here Friday afternoon.

Coach Gil Oddie has been forced to make some changes in the backfield because of Halter's absence. He has shifted Bob Boyle, right half, to fullback, and installed Hugh Boyle, Bob's little brother, in the right half post. Skiller and Jackson remain at left halfback and quarterback, respectively. The new combination is still a bit stiff and may prove to be unable to cope with the Newberg outfit.

Although Newberg was defeated by Lebanon 12 to 0 earlier in the season, reports are that since then Newberg has improved. The Newberg boys are reputed to be very fast. Vic Wetzel, ex-Oregon star, is the new coach at Newberg. Last year Woodburn barely nosed out Newberg 13 to 6.

WASHINGTON LOSES BUFKIN WAIVER

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 18. (AP)—Prof. Hugh C. Willett, head of the faculty representative of the Pacific Coast conference said the majority had voted against waiving the transfer rule in the case of Burl Bufkin, University of Washington football player.

Faculty representatives for Southern California, Prof. Willett at first declined to make a statement on the grounds that he had promised Washington to keep the result in strict confidence. His statement:

"At the request of the University of Washington, the Pacific Coast conference has voted on the question of waiving the transfer rule in the case of Burl Bufkin.

"The majority of the conference members voted against the waiver.

"Mr. Bufkin may become eligible for further competition upon completion of a year of residence work at the University of Washington."

Burro Tumbles Down Mountain With Load, Deer

PENROSE, Colo., Oct. 18. (AP)—A fall off a mountain with a 200-pound deer strapped to its back is just a tumbling exercise for a Rocky mountain burro.

When the animal fell 50 feet off a cliff, J. L. Haland and Edgar Keller crawled down to recover their deer and put the burro out of its agony if they found it alive.

The burro was grazing, unhurt.

TROJANS LEAVE FOR PORTLAND

Bring 37 Players North for Game With Oregon State Saturday

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 18. (AP)—After an unexpectedly hard workout against Oregon State pass plays, Coach Howard Jones bundled thirty-seven of his University of Southern California football players, including the halt and lame, into a special train tonight headed for Portland where on Saturday they meet the Beavers.

Particular attention was given to the Oregon State aerial attack after Cliff Hurd, Trojan scout, reported that Norman Franklin, Beaver halfback, is "the best" he had seen in years. It was Franklin who completed seven of eight throws against San Francisco university last week.

Evidence that Coach Jones expected to encounter trouble was seen in the fact that he added two more ends to the list of players he announced yesterday. They are Bob Matthews, who was transferred from quarterback to fullback and then to the wing position, and Bob Turner.

This also was taken to indicate that Capt. Ford Palmer was not expected to be in shape to play against Coach Lonnie Stiner's team. Palmer was in suit this afternoon but did not participate in the workout. Bob Erskine, tackle, did not suit up at all, and while Curtis Youel, center, was in uniform, he saw no action.

Dallas Vies Friday With Newport Hi

DALLAS, Oct. 19.—Dallas high will tackle Newport high here Friday afternoon in her third game of the season. Dallas managed to beat out the Lincoln county team last year by the margin of a safety winning 2 to 0.

The locals appear to be headed for the same record they tried for last year and have kept their goal line safe so far. Last year Dallas played five games without having its goal line crossed and then lost out when Canby pushed across three touchdowns to win.

Shreeve will have about the same squad on hand for the game with Newport as the one that played Philomath but it is doubtful if two of the regulars will be in shape to play. Bennett and Hildebrand are suffering from injuries received in the Philomath game and may be kept on the bench this weekend. The squad for this game will be composed of McMillan, Coon, Layher, Petre, Blakely, Card, Friesen, Peters, Stevenson, Pleasant, Kliever, Koelgren, Conwell, Breon and Fischer.

The complete Dallas schedule for the remainder of the season is: October 20, Newport, here; October 27, Molalla, there; November 3, Gervais, there; November 11, Independence, there; November 17, Alumni, here; November 24, Woodburn, here; November 30, Amity, there.

Philomath and Scio Will Battle In First Game

SCIO, Oct. 18.—The Scio and Philomath high school football teams will mix at Philomath Friday, October 20. This will be the first game that Scio has played away from home this season.

Coach Keltner announces that the starting lineup for this game will be much the same as that in the Junction City game last Friday. Lukenbach, who has a bad ankle, will not be in the starting lineup and may not be in the game at all.

The lineup will be as follows: center, Trollinger; guards, Gallegly and Madaras; tackles, Ashford and Walters; ends, MacDonaid and Sims; backs, R. Wuarry, Todd, Davenport and Miller. Todd will call signals.

Northwestern and Stanford in 0 to 0 Game

Thirty-five thousand fans turned out in Soldier Field, Chicago, to see Northwestern University battle Stanford. Photo shows Maetz of Stanford with ball, going for a 12-yard gain in the first quarter. No. 23 in the picture is Moscrip of Stanford making a path for him.

The Big, Bad Wolf

Harry KIPKE - COACH OF THE STRONG MICHIGAN ELEVEN - CAN THEY RETAIN THE BIG TEN TITLE?

Willis WARD - GREAT NEGRO TRACK STAR, PLAYS END ON THE WOLVERINE TEAM!

Dallas B Squad Plays Sheridan Gridders Today

DALLAS, Oct. 18.—Bob Kutch will take his Dallas high B squad to Sheridan Thursday afternoon to play the Sheridan high gridders. This will be the second game for the B squad and should prove a real battle. Sheridan was on the regular Dallas high schedule for several years and always put up a real battle, with honors being about even over a period of years.

This year, Sheridan cancelled its game with the A squad but later scheduled one with the second string. Kutch plans to use about the same lineup as beat Parrish junior high here.

Ray Razes Dwelling House at Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 18.—Another local landmark disappeared when Mr. Ray tore down his long deserted residence, built some 20 years ago. The house has been empty for several years now. He does not plan to rebuild.

Outpoints Schoenrath

DUSSELDORF, Germany, Oct. 18. (AP)—Vincent Hower outpointed Hans Schoenrath in a 12-round fight for the heavyweight championship of Germany here tonight.

Salem Composer Gets Radio Debut For Two Numbers

Two songs written by a youthful Salem composer, Roy Mack, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Mack, are just off the press and are being sung this week over the air. They are "Rosemary" and "Heaven in Your Eyes," both of which K. O. M. will sing over KOMO, Seattle, Triple network, Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Both words and music, including ukelele arrangement and orchestra, for the two songs are the work of young Mack.

Two more songs by Roy are now in the press: "Some Day for You, My Cherie," being published by Charles Harrison, and "Remember the Night," coming off the Ted Browne press, Chicago. The two songs now on the market were sung over KGW yesterday afternoon by Clarence Tolman.

Roy has written 25 songs so far, and has a natural ability, the words and music coming as easily to him as handling a pen does to the author of talent. He has been writing songs since he was 16 years old.

Another local touch to the song "Rosemary" is the cover picture of Rosemary Hoffman, a Salem girl. The dress which she wears in the picture was designed by Roy's mother.

Suver Couple is Host at Dinner On Anniversary

SUYER, Oct. 18.—Mr. and Mrs. Jay Thomas are entertained at a dinner Sunday at their home in honor of their 20th wedding anniversary.

Those present were, Mr. and Mrs. George Thurman and family, Mrs. F. O. Needam and family, all of Salem; Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Harris and daughter, Ruth, J. F. Fields, Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Govey and family, Ruth Van Buskirk, Wilmer McElvaine, of Elkins, Alfas Thomas of Junction City, Geroldine Howard, Eugene, and Blain Thomas, and the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Thomas.

In the morning the men enjoyed a pheasant hunt.

OPERATE 400-ACRE FARM FAIRFIELD, Oct. 18.—M. B. Lucas and family have come here from Elkins, near Monmouth, to operate the 400-acre Updoff farm near here. They are milking a dairy herd of 24 cows, and intend to concentrate on the dairy angle and grain raising.

Fellowship is Church Feature

Fellowship night will be observed at the First Congregational church tonight, in keeping with a series of such gatherings being held in all Congregational churches in the state.

At 6:30 o'clock tonight, members of the church cabinet, their wives or husbands, will meet for supper, when Dr. C. H. Harrison, superintendent of the state conference, will speak. At 7:30 o'clock, all members of the parish will meet in the worship room, where addresses will be given by Dr. Harrison and Rev. T. A. Dungan of Portland.

Persons who desire employment on the Bonneville dam project...

Persons who desire employment on the Bonneville dam project, other than those to be employed directly by the government, should file their applications with the United States employment service, and not with Major F. C. Williams, head of the corps of army engineers. Williams notified Senator McNary in a letter received here yesterday.

Williams declared in his letter that approximately 99 per cent of the men to be employed in constructing the dam would be on the payrolls of contractors and would not be hired by the government. Under the regulations of the national recovery act these men will not be allowed to work more than 30 hours in any one week, and shall be paid a reasonable wage for their services.

Major Williams estimated that approximately 2000 men would be employed on the project early next year. The dam work at any one time, would be on the payroll later in 1934.

Farmer Promises Cornpone, Lassas As Chamber Treat

At an early luncheon of the chamber of commerce the members are going to have a treat of cornbread and genuine sorghum—Oregon grown. This will come as result of a visit made to the chamber yesterday by H. A. Penny, route eight, who brought in a sampler of the cane sorghum he is turning out from his 40 acres of cane grown near Chemawa, between Quincy and Hopewell.

Incidentally, Penny says he will have his plant in operation next Sunday all day for the benefit of those interested persons who wish to drive out and see the conversion of the cane into syrup.

So far, Penny has turned out about 1,000 gallons of sorghum, which is said to be equal to the best eastern offerings.

RUTH MAY TAKE HELM OF YANKS

Col. Ruppert Says He Must Wait Two Years at Least

NEW YORK, Oct. 18. (AP)—Babe Ruth may be the next manager of the New York Yankees but he will have to wait at least two years for the job, Col. Jacob Ruppert, owner of the club, said today. The contract of Joe McCarthy still has two years to run and there isn't likely to be a change even when it expires unless he runs into difficulties piloting the Yanks in the next two seasons.

"I think Ruth will make a splendid manager," Ruppert said. "He's settled down and is very serious about his future. He's talked about managing a team. I'd like to keep Ruth with the Yankees, but I'll not interfere if he gets a chance to better himself."

Ruppert added he hadn't given any consideration, yet to Babe Ruth's contract for next year and as for his becoming manager, "who can tell what will happen in the next two years?"

COVERED WAGON FOR LEE CENTENARY

Plans for the Jason Lee Centennial celebration in Salem next spring are taking shape under the direction of Dr. Sheldon of the board of home missions of the Methodist church. Cooperating with him is R. J. Hendricks of this city, who is chairman of a committee of Willamette university trustees preparing for the celebration.

Early in the spring a motor drawn covered wagon will start from the east for the Oregon country. The group accompanying the "prairie schooner" will begin the trek at Wesleyan university, Middletown, Connecticut. It was here that President Fisk first interested Jason Lee in the wonders of the wide open Oregon country.

The band of travelers will slowly follow the Old Oregon Trail. They will arrive in Salem in the early part of June. Here a joint meeting of the Oregon and Northwest Washington conferences of Methodist ministers and laymen will officially open the Centennial program which will last into the autumn months.

It was far back in 1834 while Jason Lee and his Christian adventurers were penetrating the Oregon wilds that Willamette university was being born. An Indian school established in 1834, followed by the Oregon Institute in 1844—a secondary school for white persons—laid the way for the founding of Willamette university proper in 1853. Thus came into being the first school for white people west of the Missouri.

CONTRACTORS WILL HIRE DAM WORKERS

Persons who desire employment on the Bonneville dam project, other than those to be employed directly by the government, should file their applications with the United States employment service, and not with Major F. C. Williams, head of the corps of army engineers. Williams notified Senator McNary in a letter received here yesterday.
