A fine of $5 and costs was levled against John Banick, who had been arrested for operation of a motor vehicle on the highway while gainfully employed without having Oregon license plates attached to his vehicle. Theodore F. Foster was fined $2 for driving at night without headlights. His fine was suspended on condition that he not do it again. Because he was arrested for hunting game birds without a hunting license, Carl Wampach was fined $25 and costs after having pleaded guilty. The fine was suspended provided he pay the court costs and refrain from again breaking the state's hunting laws. For driving a car with four persons over 12 years of age in the front seat, K. L. Grant paid $5 fine and costs.

NEW YORK, Oct. 18. (AP) - An advance in wheat proved insufficlent to keep stocks from sliding today and prices in Wall Street's leading market again veered downward rather sharply.

The steel shares took little comfort from word that ingot production had tumbled 5 points to a nation - wide average of 39 per cent of capacity, some 20 points under the July peak. U. S. Steel preferred slumped nearly 6 points while the common was down 6 1/2. Bethehem's senior issue was off 714, the junior 2 %. National Steel lost

New York Central, breaking 30, closed with a loss of more than 3 points, the Union Pacific declined as much. American Can, Western Union, Celanese, American Commercial Alcohol, Firestone, Allied Chemical, Chrysler, Santa Fe and U. S. Industrial Alcohol were off 3 to 4 or more, while American Telephone, Goodyear, General Motors, Westinghouse, Southern Pacific, Sears Roebuck, Du Pont and Union Carbide yielded in the neighborhood of 2 to 3. National Distillers flopped 64 and U. S. Smelting 51/2. The average loss, 3.6 points, was smaller than that of Monday. Volume was reduced to 1,733,570 shares, some 700,000 under Tuesday's turn-
