

JACKSON COUNTY HAS NO REPRESENTATIVES

Four Vacancies Unfilled if Law not Made Empowering Governor to Appoint

Unless the legislature enacts a law authorizing Governor Meier or the county courts to fill the four vacancies now existing, Jackson county will have no representation in the lower house at the special legislative session which has been called to convene in Salem on Monday, November 20. The time for calling a special election to fill the vacancies prior to the extraordinary session already has expired.

Two vacancies in Jackson county resulted from the appointment of Earl B. Day as county judge and the recent departure of E. C. Kelly for Washington where he has accepted a federal position. Neither Kelly nor Day has filed a formal resignation with the secretary of state.

There also are two vacancies in the state senate. One of these involves Linn Jones, formerly of Oregon City, who has accepted the office of secretary of the state board of pharmacy. Jones recently filed his resignation in the state department. The other vacancy is in Washington county where Edwin Allen recently accepted the office of assistant postmaster at Forest Grove. Unless Allen retires from this position he will not be eligible to serve in the senate during the special legislative session.

Gordon Eligibility Questioned
The eligibility of Herbert Gordon, representative from Multnomah county for several terms, also has been questioned in letters received at the state department. Gordon is now employed as a special deputy in the building and loan division of the state corporation commission.

Attorney General Van Winkle's in an opinion handed down on December 8 of last year, held that Gordon was not eligible to serve both as a legislator and deputy in the state corporation department. Gordon continued to serve during the last legislative session, however, and his eligibility was not questioned in the house.

The records show that Gordon was appointed special deputy, in charge of the Prudential Savings and Loan group on October 15, 1932, and served in that capacity until December 31 when he was succeeded temporarily by Miss W. M. Duncan. She served until March 10, the day after the legislature adjourned.

Gordon was reappointed to the

Swastika's in the Navy Now

The Nazi swastika now goes down to the sea on ships, as this photo shows. Here is a closeup of the bow of the German cruiser "Karlsruhe," showing the familiar emblem which is now borne by all ships of the Reich Navy. The swastika is surmounted by an eagle with wings outspread, a concession to once-imperial Germany.

Firm Grip on Liquor Import Planned; U.S. Visions Lever To Obtain Trade Concession

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19. (AP)—Foreseeing trade advantages which might be gained from America's potential consumption of foreign wines and liquors if prohibition is repealed, the administration is denying all applications for importation permits.

At the same time a general study of various phases of the office on February 21, while the legislature was still in progress. Van Winkle's opinion read: "It is my opinion that any member of the legislature who accepts an appointment as special deputy in charge of a savings and loan association, cannot also hold his seat in the legislature."

Reports that Charles H. Carey, state corporation commissioner, had threatened to resign because of Gordon's activities, were not accepted seriously by other state officials. Governor Meier, in a statement issued recently in Portland, branded the reports as unfounded.

SAN MARTIN LOSES ABC SOCIETY HELP

Radical Group Declares it Gets No Cooperation, Will Not Support

By JOHN P. MCKNIGHT
HAVANA, Oct. 19. (AP)—The militant and numerically strong ABC radical secret society, one of the chief supporting factions of the Grau San Martin government when it took control of Cuban affairs, tonight announced it was withdrawing its support from the present leaders.

The announcement caused the belief to spread that a new crisis is facing the regime which succeeded that of Carlos Manuel de Cespedes.

Armand Rodas, leader of the society, said its members who are heavily armed and supplied with uniforms, are continuing to cooperate with Colonel Fulgencio Batista's army, but reliable reports from other sources said a break was imminent.

"The ABC is disgusted with the government's proceedings," Rodas said. "It lent its support disinterestedly, and got nothing from the participation, now it is withdrawing."

The ABC radical (ABCR) is the offshoot of the ABC student organization, and is not identified with the latter.

Another leader of the ABCR, Oscar de la Torre, was conferring with President Grau San Martin tonight, with the bare possibility that difficulties may be patched up.

Meanwhile, a spokesman for the nationalists clarified the position of that political organization tonight by saying "The nationalists refuse all participation and responsibility in this government."

There were new rumors in the capital of a revolution in the east and soldiers were guarding highways leading from Havana searching all automobiles.

problems to be met in the event of repeal is progressing under the direction of various governmental officials involved.

Attorney General Cummings said today he planned to make a ruling soon on the legality of liquor advertising in newspapers. His associates are assembling a compilation of the laws which may become effective should the 18th amendment be voted out.

Customs and internal revenue officials are gathering data on liquor stocks, estimated consumption, taxes and tariffs and the revenue yield of these imposts when set at various levels.

The decision to continue the ban on imports was reached by President Roosevelt after consultation with state department and treasury officials. On the one side of the question was the dwindling supply of domestic stocks and on the other the benefits which might be obtained later by lumping the imports and trading them for foreign markets for American industry.

Although liquor supplies have been greatly reduced by sales through drug stores since prescription limits were removed, officials estimated that by "cutting" what remains demand could be satisfied for several months.

A total of some 4,000,000 gallons of aged liquor will be eligible for sale next year. This can be multiplied from five to ten times by cutting. In addition, the justice department has ordered that seized liquors be not destroyed. These are to be tested and if satisfactory may be placed on the market to augment the legal supply. Liquor consumption in the last full pre-prohibition year—1917—was 167,000,000 gallons.

Negotiations of reciprocal trade agreements is a foremost part of the Roosevelt program. With several nations anxious to sell liquors and wines here, the administration is hopeful that in return an outlet may be found for American products, thus stimulating business activity here and increasing employment.

FOREIGN INVESTORS AGENCY IS PLANNED

(Copyright, 1933 by the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 19. (AP)—President Roosevelt was understood tonight in authoritative administration sources to be ready to set up during the next three days a voluntary non-governmental organization to aid American investors in collecting defaulted foreign bonds.

The agency, it was said in treasury and diplomatic circles, would be similar to the British council of foreign bondholders and entirely independent of the government, with all its efforts devoted to aiding the owners of bonds of other countries, good and bad.

Establishment of the organization as an independent entity was represented as decided on to avoid diplomatic shoals and to prevent any possible unpleasant feeling in debtor countries that might be aroused by governmental direction.

In deciding on this course, the administration discarded a provision in the securities law for establishing a bondholders' corporation under the federal trade commission.
