

LIMITATION OF OLEO IS SEEN

As Result of Negotiations for Marketing Agreement With A. A. A.

While definite word has not yet been received as to the outcome of the national hearing on a dairy processing tax in Washington, D. C., October 16, much has been happening in the past week in the agricultural adjustment administration of interest to Oregon dairy men and wheat growers particularly, says the current review from the Oregon State college extension service.

One of the most significant moves in the dairy products trade is the definite announcement made at Washington that surplus butter will be purchased by the government for relief purposes, thus tending to relieve the excessive storage surplus now on hand. Forseeing such a development, Oregon dairy interests sent A. E. Engbretson, superintendent of the Astoria branch experiment station to Washington to see, if possible, that the Pacific coast is not overlooked in any such market operation.

Another significant move on the "dairy front" is the announcement that manufacturers of oleomargarine are negotiating with the A. A. A. for a marketing agreement, one of the proposed provisions of which is to limit the manufacturers of oleo to the use of domestic fats and oils exclusively. If such an agreement is made effective, it will accomplish at one stroke much that the dairy interests have fought for in the way of tariff restrictions on foreign oils, observers say.

Word on Wheat Checks
Turning to the wheat adjustment campaign, word comes from Washington warning farmers who have signed applications or contracts, against being persuaded by creditors to assign their wheat adjustment checks to them in advance. This, it is pointed out, is a direct violation of the wheat contract.

"The purpose of the wheat adjustment payment is to put this additional purchasing power into the hands of the farmer for him to use at his discretion — not merely to have him assign his adjustment payment to the first creditor that reaches him," says George E. Farrell, associate chief of the wheat section.

Farmers will be paid in county groups in the order in which the applications are received.

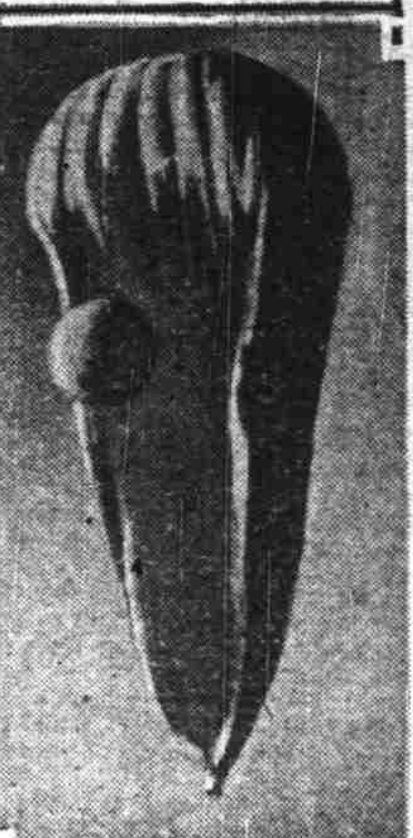

Camera Man is Killed; Horses, Caisson Hit Him

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19. (AP) — William Case, 27, of Brooklyn, N. Y., was killed today when he was run over by six cavalry horses and a heavy caisson while filming a scene at nearby Fort Myer, Va., for a motion picture starring Walter Huston.

It was one of those shots in which the horses appear to be galloping from the screen over the audience. The scene was being retaken when one of the horses, racing across an open field, stumbled, crowding the other horses and directing them over the camera set up just at the edge of the course.

The North Dakota agricultural college has found the rotary type straw spreader an effective device for scattering poisoned bran used in grasshopper control.

At Soviet Stratosphere Ascent

A scene at Moscow air field as the Soviet stratosphere, U. S. S. R., commanded by George Prokofiev (above), started the climb to the stratosphere that broke all previous records by attaining an altitude of 11,800 feet. Note that the bag seems but partly inflated. This is to allow for gas expansion in the sun. The balloon came back to earth 31 miles from Moscow with valuable stratosphere data.

Meldrum Seeks Starting Point Of Human Race

SAN PEDRO, Oct. 19. (AP) — Beginning his 13th year in search of the cradle of humanity, Dr. A. M. Meldrum, noted Scotch-American anthropologist, was outward bound from here today on the Matson-Oceanic liner Monterey, en route to unexplored wilds in northern New Guinea.

From a study of carnelian tribes reported to live along the headwaters of the Sepik river, 700 miles inland, Dr. Meldrum hopes to secure a first definite clue of a forgotten race which he thinks lived on Pacific islands centuries before the beginning of the present melanesian and polynesian races.

Mills Declares For La Guardia, Swats Tammany

NEW YORK, Oct. 19. (AP) — Oden L. Mills in an address tonight pleaded for support of the fusion mayoral candidacy of Fiorello H. La Guardia with an address in which he assailed Tammany hall and asserted the city's government cannot be changed without "cleaning out the machine."

The former secretary of the treasury and prominent republican declared for La Guardia and against Tammany.

LINDY ON MYSTERY VISIT TO PREMIER

LONDON, Oct. 19. (AP) — The mystery surrounding the visit of Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh to England reached downtown street this afternoon when the aviator walked arm in arm from Prime Minister MacDonald's official residence with J. H. Thomas, the dominion secretary.

It was understood that Thomas met Lindbergh at a hotel and took him to No. 10 where they remained 20 minutes.

Downing street secretaries said they knew nothing of a meeting between the prime minister and the American and pointed out that the prime minister was engaged in a committee session.

Ulm Sets Record For Australian Flight, England

DERBY, West Australia, Oct. 20. (Friday) (AP) — Charles T. F. Ulum and three companions arrived here early today and established a new record for a flight from England.

They appeared not at all fatigued and immediately started planning to fly to Sidney tomorrow. They were welcomed by a small crowd despite the hour.

The quartet completed their journey from England in six days 17 hours and 45 minutes, thereby beating by 11 hours the mark of Wing Commander Sir Charles Kingsford-Smith.

Their total mileage from the starting point, Feltham, England, was 9,520.

can said that he had a "high respect" for Joseph V. McKee, the independent candidate and that he would make "a good administrator under normal circumstances."
