

FARM LEADERS ON UNION'S PROGRAM

DALLAS, Oct. 19. — Approximately 50 people attended the regular quarterly meeting of the Folk county Farmers union at the Mt. Pisgah local hall in North Dallas today. A delegation of members from Marion county were guests.

Regular business was taken up at the morning session and reports of committees and locals were heard. Several resolutions were also adopted by the group. Speakers at the meeting were Dr. W. A. Schoenfeld of Oregon State college, who spoke on the NRA and AAA; Senator Sam Brown, who spoke on farm problems; Max Gehlar and Dean Walker. The afternoon session was open to the public and several visitors attended. A potluck dinner was served during the noon hour by women of Elkins local.

West Salem News

WEST SALEM, Oct. 19. — The eighth grade of the West Salem school is staging a lively vocabulary contest with prizes to be awarded at its close. Lyle Thomas is the teacher and principal.

The Capital Bargain and Junk company was issued a building permit to erect a building at an estimated cost of $100 for storage purposes. I. Saffron is proprietor and M. G. Clark the builder. The room will be a one-story structure 36 by 37 feet and in addition to this new building they will move the warehouse on adjacent lots forward, place neat fencing about the property and generally improve the premises. Within the new house they are storing a large tubular steam boiler.

Because of a severe frost in the Stayton neighborhood, where the tomatoes were grown, the Cleary-Hillman Packing company will close the 1933 pack today. Some fruits and many vegetables were canned this season and the cases are being shipped as rapidly as the labeling can be consummated. The crews of women workers have completed their canning and only the regular winter crew will be on duty from now on.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Scott, newlyweds from east of Salem moved into the property at 1231 Ruge street Wednesday, with the privilege of buying. Miss Ruth Maers was hostess to her dancing club at the home of her mother, Mrs. Emma Maers, one evening recently. Guests at the Pete Harms home 1154 Third street are Mrs. Harms' folks, Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Loewen and a family of Cavalier county, North Dakota, who will spend the winter and hope to locate hereabouts. Visiting at the G. E. Mishler home 550 Rosemont avenue is her father, L. H. Irwin of Alberta, Canada. The Mishlers motored to Canada and brought the father home with them for a visit. Last year they made the same trip and brought home the mother. The Mishlers have just purchased and moved into the residence on Rosemont.
