Hop markets continued an extremely quiet tone the past week, with no sales of either old or new hops reported from the three coast states, says the Weekly Hop Market Review. Growers are not pressing the hops for sale and the market undertone apears fair-

Quotations are still considered the same as a week ago, ranging from 35 cents to 40 cents per pound to growers. Oregon growers, and particularly those with good quality hops, are showing firm holding tendencies and are either not offering their remaining supplies or are asking 40 pounds. The Oregon crop is now placed at 19,550,000 pounds or 92,750 bales and averaged 1150 pounds per acre. The Washington average acreage yield was 2100 pounds on the 8,190,000 pounds estimated. The California yield is now placed at 9,984,000 pounds, an average yield per acre of 1560 pounds.

RECOVERY IS SLOW

EGG PURCHASE BY

PORTLAND, Oct. 20. (AP) — Everyone in the egg trade was wondering when the government vier shipments away. The price was going to aid the market by making purchases for relief purposes. Action of the government in going to the aid of other farm products has suggested to the egg people that something must be done for them or there's going to be a huge supply of cooler stuff remaining unsold at the end of Fresh egg market was really firm. In general prices were being maintained for top quality eggs but there was such a mixture of so - called extras that it was almost imposible to tell what the price was. Much of the disturbance was credited to outside interests who are flooding Portland with eggs from sections that normally market through Puget sound. .There was no change suggested in the price by the Pacific co-ops or by leading private firms. Market on butter continued to show a waiting attitude with huge cold storage surplusses the chief factor. Much of this was held by interests that refused to sell months ago when demand was good and the stock would have passed into consuming channels. Market on dressed hogs showed further easiness and even weakness for country killed offerings. In fact late trading has been mainly at a loss of 1/2 c from the previous high. Veal and lambs were steady. Beef too. While currant offerings of potatees were a trifle beyond immediate needs of the trade and there was practically no speculative interest, the movement into storage was getting extremely liberal at the source.

Oregon exported 512,165

Of exports through the port of Portland from June to September, inclusive, 3,526,042 pounds went to the United Kingdom; 3,624,076 pounds to Germany, and 2,685,-126 pounds to Poland. The following foreign reports were received this week by the Market News Service: "London - A steady business continues, large sizes especially in good request. Forward quotations show little change from late rates. "Liverpool - There has been more inquiry for al sizes. Spot stocks clearing quickly. Forward position with regard to new fruit decidedly firmer, this particularly applies to the 30-40 and 40-50 fruit which is reported short. "London stocks of prunes September 30, in tons of 2000 pounds: 1933 1472 tons; 1932, 1583 tons; 1931, 1029 tons."

Idaho Shipment Of Potatoes is Over 5000 Mark

Idaho potato shipments up to the middle of October ran over the 5000 car mark, exceeding the movement for the corresponding period a year ago by 1600 cars, Market News Service reports. Digging the crop in the upper Idaho valley is about completed but much of the Twin Falls-Burley crop is still in the ground. The disposition of growers to CHICAGO, Oct. 20. (P)-Extenive wheat purchases for United States government account, and reports of intended board measures to alleviate farming communities' apprehension, helped rush grain prices upward today. In a sudden late wave of buying, wheat, corn, oats and rye (The prices below, supplied by a local grocer, are indicative of the daily market but are not guaranteed by The Statesman) FRUIT AND VEGSTABLES all bounded to the utmost limit allowed during any one day, wheat and rye up 5 cents a bushel. corn 4 cents and oats 3 cents, but big profit taking sales led to > farmers participating in production control, and that loans to be extended on wheat would be similar to those on corn. Simultaneous with price jumps were intimations of radically unfavorable crop developments in Argentina, big export business in Canada and of steps toward dip-violent reactions from the tep.

BOSTON, Oct. 20. (A) - The Commercial Bulletin will say tomorrow: "Demand for wool has been at low ebb this week. Occasional sales are reported but they have been invariably of small quantities. Manufacturers continue to consume heavy quantities of wool but consumption is gradually lessening, in line with general expectations. The trade naturally has come to pause pending a determination of the strength of the buying movement on fall and winter clothing. "Foreign markets are all ruling strong and healthy and prospects of lower prices for wool in the foreign primary markets, look, at the moment, rather remote. "Mohair continues slow. Stocks on spot are rather small. - Some sizeable importations of foreign hair are being made." The commercial bulletin will publish the following quotations: Scoured basis:
