

Cougar Outplays Golden Bear but is Held to 6-6 Tie

Wave of Upsets Leaves Michigan Only Major Team Unbeaten, Untied

SECOND SCORE LOST ON FLUKE

Sarboe - Christofferson and Keefer - Williams Pass Combinations Click

RODGERS FIELD, PULLMAN, Wash., Oct. 21. (AP)—Riding on the mighty passing arm of Phil Sarboe, their quarterback, Washington State's Cougars outplayed California's Golden Bears in their conference football game here today, but lacked the drive to give them more than a 6 to 6 score.

Thus was upheld Washington State's tradition of never having been beaten on the home field since Coach O. E. Hollingbery took charge in 1926, as more than 16,000 spectators, including Washington's governor, Clarence D. Martin and 1,000 "Cougar dads" howled themselves hoarse in the stands.

Rated as the under dogs, the Cougars opened their sensational passing drive in the first quarter to score their touchdown. Sarboe shot pass after pass into the waiting arms of Ted Christofferson, the tow-headed sophomore giant from Honolulu, who crossed the goal line. The last heave was for 10 yards, and Christofferson dashed eight more to score. Dahlen, halfback, attempted to place kick, but the ferocious Bears broke through to smear the try for point.

Thoroughly enraged and a bit bewildered by Sarboe's great passing and punting, and unhappy over a puzzling new shift used by the Cougars, the Bears snarled into the second period. Their drive was not to be denied. Early in the period Jim Keefer, fullback, passed 30 yards to Arleigh Williams, left half, for a first down on the Washington State two-yard line. Williams smashed through, but was stopped on the goal line. His next drive went over. Reedy, sub quarter, fumbled the snapback for the attempted place kick for conversion. He recovered quickly and headed for the goal line, but was hauled down by three Cougar tacklers on the two-yard line.

Washington State's passing gave it a great margin on yardage gained, and was mainly responsible for the nine first downs counted. Washington State gained 211 yards on all types of play, while the Bears were making 177. The Bears counted eight first downs.

Nothing has been seen here to equal the terrific power hurled against the Washington State line in the few times that the Bears got going. They smeared Washington State's forwards neatly, and were able to open holes for good gains when they were on—but their moods were fleeting.

In the fourth period, with Sarboe's passes clicking again, Washington State saw another touchdown go bloomy. Ed Brett, sub end, blocked Williams' punt on the California 25-yard line. He scooped up the ball, squirmed through his own and enemy players, and raced goalward. Halfway down the field he had nothing between him and the goal. Four yards from heaven, he stumbled and fell on his face.

Washington State attempted to advance through the line, but found the Bears in one of their rare holding moods, and were stopped on the one-foot line after four smashes.

Sheridan Beats Dallas B Squad On Muddy Field

DALLAS, Oct. 21.—Bob Kutch's Dallas high school B squad kicked a team a little too big Thursday afternoon and went down in defeat at Sheridan, 20 to 0. The Sheridan high team did its scoring in the second and third periods. The teams battled fairly even during the first and last quarters with Dallas making three strong attempts at the goal line but only managing to get within the Sheridan 19-yard stripe.

The second Sheridan touchdown came in the third quarter after Dallas had carried the ball to the Sheridan five-yard line. A fumble gave Sheridan the ball and on the second play one of the barks went 95 yards for a touchdown.

Troop 5 Scouts Defeat Troop 4

The Troop 5 Boy Scout football team defeated Troop 4 gridsters, 40 to 0, Saturday. Troop 4 however was handicapped by having only eight players in action. A return game will be played next Saturday at 10 a. m. Harrison, Seamster, Smith and Wedel, the Troop 5 ball carriers, were outstanding.

DOC SPEARS LOSES

IOWA CITY, Ia., Oct. 21. (AP)—Three long years of bitter disappointment were wiped out today by a powerful and deceptive Iowa football eleven, which overwhelmed Wisconsin 47 to 7, before 39,000 home coming fans.

California will pay $69,430,350 as its share to the school districts of the state this school term.

PACIFIC SLAYS WHITMAN JINX

Badgers Win for First Time in History, 14-12; Race Far From Settled

N. W. CONFERENCE
Puget Sound	2	0	1,000
Linfield	1	1	500
Pacific	1	1	500
Whitman	1	1	500
Albany	0	1	500
Willamette	0	1	500
C. of Idaho	0	0	500

WALLA WALLA, Wash., Oct. 21. (AP)—A flashy little quarterback, Balfour "Hoot" Gibson, tried in vain to push back a heavy Pacific university team today and almost did it, but Whitman's Missionaries went down to defeat, 14 to 12, in a northwest conference game.

Ansel Cornell's men, showing superiority in power plays, and far better interference than Whitman, kept the ball in Whitman territory during most of the game. They started things by recovering a fumble from Whitman after the kickoff, and rushed the ball over with reverse plays for the first touchdown in the initial seconds of the game.

Pacific's victory at Walla Walla Saturday, an upset which served to slay a "jinx" and set a precedent for it was the Badgers' first defeat of the Missionaries since the Northwest conference was organized on its present lines, also constituted a warning that the conference race is not over by any means even though a couple of presumable contenders have been defeated.

College of Puget Sound alone remains undefeated and is impressive showing against U. of Washington suggests that it will remain that way, but the Loggers face a tough schedule from now on. This week they play another non-conference game with Bellingham Normal, but the following weeks show College of Idaho, Whitman and Pacific as their opponents.

Willamette will prepare this week for the Linfield game, boosted to major proportions by the Wildcats' impressive victory over Pacific a week ago; but Henry Lever's boys have already been preparing for the Bears for a week, remaining idle this week-end.

Reports from McMinnville stress the effectiveness of Lever's backfield quartet, Helsler, Booth, Barrett and Voll, and particularly the facility at tossing and catching passes.

Irish Champion To Fight Under Dempsey Banner

CORK, Ireland. (AP)—Jack Doyle, the Irish boxer who punched his way by a series of one and two round knockouts to a fight for the British heavyweight crown is going to America to be trained by Jack Dempsey.

Dempsey already has mapped out a program for Doyle, who will take on a series of minor contests at first to improve his ringcraft. Doyle was unbeaten until he met the British champion, Jack Peterson, last July. He lost the fight on a foul after continually being warned by the referee and was suspended for six months.

He has a good singing voice and with his dark wavy hair, massive figure and boyish features was the idol of women fight fans in England.

Until restored by the 1933 legislature, legalized betting on horse races had been absent from Texas for 24 years.

Oregon State Achievement In Halting Trojan Victory String, One of Big Shocks

(By the Associated Press) MICHIGAN'S mighty Wolverines continued their triumph march through midwestern football ranks yesterday, just about the only outstanding national championship contender to survive a wave of upsets that took heavy toll among the elect.

While the Wolverines were battering Ohio State into submission, 13 to 0, and making it appear that the Big Ten title was at their mercy for the second consecutive year, Pitt's golden Panthers, Kentucky, Harvard, Notre Dame and Illinois, among other favorites, were beaten while Southern California and California were tied.

Pitt, aiming at another trip to the Rose Bowl, found itself more than overmatched at Minneapolis and went down fighting before a powerful Minnesota outfit, 7 to 0, while Notre Dame disappointing in its first two starts, bowed to Howard Harper's Carnegie Tech Tartans, 7 to 0, as a forward pass produced a touchdown in the first minute of play.

Illinois' drive back toward the football heights was halted by Army's light but speedy eleven in a big intersectional duel at Cleveland, 6 to 0. Harvard, fell before Holy Cross' mammoth outfit, 10 to 7, while Kentucky, a heavy favorite, was beaten by the Generals of Washington and Lee, 7 to 0.

Except in the case of Kentucky, all these games involved rivals so closely matched that the possibility of the favorite's defeat had been foreseen but there were few, if any, who would have ventured to believe that Oregon State would hold Southern California's Trojans, victors in 25 successive contests, to a scoreless tie. Washington State likewise upset the dope on the west coast by playing California to a 6 to 6 stalemate.

Indians Have Hard Tussle Beating Dons

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 21. (AP)—Lashed to a fighting fury by the stubborn defense of a highly underrated foe, Stanford's Indians flashed a daring aerial attack in the closing minutes today to break a deadlock and defeat University of San Francisco Dons 20-13.

On the short end of a 13-7 score in the last quarter and badly outplayed by a lighter and supposedly weaker eleven, Stanford cut loose with a slashing attack that snatched victory by a close margin.

The touchdown that tied the score saw Maentz, left half, stumble over the line from the six-yard line after three previous downs had gained only a yard.

Four minutes were left to play when the Indians started on the winning drive. Held on the line 38 yards from goal, Stanford statisticians took to the air. Jack Hillman, sub fullback, rifled a flat pass over the center to Reiser, sub halfback, and just as the latter was about to be tackled he tossed a lateral to Moscrip, end who dashed some 20 yards to score. Moscrip added the extra point with a place kick.

Bing Crosby, nationally known "crooner" was an ambitious football candidate at Gonzaga University, Spokane, not so long ago.

Uclans Show Real Power, Beat Loyola

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 21. (AP)—University of California at Los Angeles blossomed out with a surprisingly strong offense today as the Bruins swept through to a 20 to 7 victory over Loyola university at Memorial Coliseum.

Forty thousand persons, who watched the Uclans play defensive football in other years, saw a well organized driving attack interspersed with sparkling running passes by Charles Cheshtre, sophomore halfback.

It was this young ball carrier who gave UCLA an early advantage when he flipped a 12-yard pass to Ransom Livesay. He caught the ball on the 20, and crossed the goal line with no Loyola opponent within yards.

CURT COMMENTS

There was no topic of conversation among football fans in Salem, and probably throughout the northwest, Saturday night other than the achievement of Oregon State in keeping U. S. C. away from its goal line. Just as Frink Callison assured himself of a successful season by directing the Webfeet to a victory over Washington last week, Lon Stiner's first campaign is "over the hump" even though his team loses all the rest of its games, which of course, nobody expects.

Practically everybody who bet on Oregon State won, for points were given in almost every instance. We wonder where the fellows who gave 28 points are hiding out? The giving of points is always foolish business in football, because you not only can't tell what may happen, but you can't tell what the rival coaches have in mind. Sometimes they pull their punches.

Without taking any credit from the eleven Beavers, who did the work, we're in favor of giving a lot to Stiner. The boys stopped Warburton, Griffith et al, but Stiner devised the defense that made it possible. What makes it more impressive is the report from our operative No. 37 that the Trojan weren't "off" but were clicking beautifully but the Beavers just dug in and stopped them.

This week's campaign opens with the statehouse golfers of Salem and Olympia clashing on the Clark county course at Vancouver, Wash. The next big event is Tuesday night's wrestling show, with a couple of big shots, Billy Edwards and Bob Kruse, holding down the spotlight and a couple of rough customers, Sailer Frazzle and Bunny Martin, in the next spot and two home guards on their way to fame, Chub Patchin and Don Sugai, opening the bill.

Tuesday night also, at the Y. M. C. A., a meeting will be held which promises much for Salem's winter sports program. Following the success of kiltball as a crowd-getter last summer, the amateurs said "why not basket ball?" and Tuesday night they will organize. By arranging definite schedules and getting the program before the public, they figure on making this campaign a civic event of magnitude equal to that enjoyed by the soft ball program.

Parrish junior high school's football team will resume its campaign Wednesday afternoon, meeting the Independence high second team on Olinger field. The Parrish schedule, not previously published, also includes: Oregon city there November 3, Leslie November 11, Seio there November 24, Leslie November 30.

Willamette and Salem high have, probably unconsciously, done quite well at avoiding conflicts this season. They haven't played home games the same week end so far, and won't expect November 17 when the Bears are slated to play Albany college and the red and black meets Tillamook. Probably the high school game will be shifted to Saturday, the 18th.

This week their games both fall on Saturday, but the Bears go to McMinnville in the afternoon for that Linfield game and Salem high plays Oregon City here at night.

LOGGER HOLDS HUSKY TO 14-7

Ennis and Sprenger Stars of Puget Sound Attack in Tacoma Battle

TACOMA, Oct. 21. (AP)—University of Washington was held to one touchdown victory by the College of Puget Sound here today, the Huskies winning by a score of 14 to 6 count.

Conceded four to five touchdowns better than the smaller Logger eleven, Washington was forced to place its full strength on the field late in the third quarter to repulse the determined advances of the Tacoma school.

Washington scored first in the second period when Hornbeak, substitute halfback, intercepted a pass at midfield and went to Puget Sound's 30-yard line. Straight football covered the remaining distance to the goal, Matt Muczynski scoring.

Bill Smith converted. Puget Sound counted its touchdown in the third quarter with a drive from midfield, a 15-yard run by Ennis and a 23-yard pass, placed the ball on Washington's two-yard line, with Ennis scoring two plays later through tackle, Ennis' kick for extra point was wide.

Washington marched 80 yards to its final score in the fourth period, with George and Muczynski doing most of the ball-carrying. Muczynski scored on a two-yard plunge, with Smith again kicking goal.

Two Puget Sound players, Jim Ennis at halfback and Jack Sprenger at quarterback, were the outstanding individuals on the field. Washington used substitutes freely, giving no single player a chance to show to a marked advantage.

South Salem's Dragons Defeat Brown's Eleven

Salem sand lot football added another shutout to the list of those played yesterday when the South Salem Dragons defeated Brown's North Salem eleven 6 to 0 on Olinger field. The lone score was made by Lyle Cace who made a 40-yard run to the goal in the last 30 seconds of play. John Auslund was a consistent ground gainer for the Dragons. Donald Allport is captain of the Dragons and Al Brown of the Browns.

The Dragons plan to engage some other team next Saturday.
