IMPROVEMENTS FOR SALEM SUGGESTED

Recreational Facilities are Urged, Bearcat Boosting; Drunk Driver hit at

Suggestions for improvements for Salem which the chamber of commerce might boost formed the program at the chamber luncheon yesterday and included a variety of interests.

Dr. M. C. Findley, just home from a two-weeks medical meet at Chicago, deplored the lack of an Oregon exhibit at the world's fair, and urged that if the fair is continued another year, as is now a possibility, that Oregon have some worthwhile display.

Mrs. Winifred Herrick avowed the town is backward in its traffic management, and urged the chamber to support a move for traffic signals, operative in the downtown sections at least during the busiest hours and on Saturdays.

Erud. Erickson warned against the drunk driver, whom he declared a potential murderer, and said the chamber could do no better work than putting its strength behind a move to tighten down on Cases Settled—Cases against Gordon Harden and Stanley Hogate, arrested for driving trucks without the public utility tag, were disposed of in justice court yesterday when their attorney pleaded guilty for them. Each was fined $25 and costs and the fine remitted and defendants placed on six months' probation. Costs of $4.50 were paid by each defendant.

Judges Assigned—Chief Justice Rand of the state supreme court Monday assigned Circuit Judge Hendricks of Gilliam county to substitute for Judge Sweek at Pendleton. Judge Hendricks also will preside at a case in which Judge Knowles of Union county is disqualified. Judge Walker of Yamhill county has been assigned to Washington county to substitute for Judge Bagley.

University Plans to Greet Alumni
Chapel, Games, bag Rush
Play Included; Affair is November 3-4

With homecoming at Willamette university only two weeks distant "we're through with planning and starting to act," said William Mosher, student manager of the homecoming program, yesterday. Copies of the Collegian, student weekly newspaper, carrying invitations to attend the rally of old and new graduates November 3 and 4 will be mailed out early this week to hundreds of former students.

Homecoming activities for undergraduates start in the "sma" hours of November 3 when freshmen under upperclass supervision conduct the annual campus cleanup, largely a matter of raking leaves.

An attempt is being made this year to furnish a more complete program for returning alumni than has been offered for a number of years. To emphasize the relationship between the alumni association and the student body an alumni chapel is scheduled for the first event. Friday evening Theta Alpha Phi, national dramatic honorary, will present "Servant in the House."

Calling to the attention of former students the rise in importance of intramural sports at Willamette, the championship baseball game will be played Saturday afternoon as one of the homecoming features.

Alumni will gather at 5:30 in the Masonic temple dining room for their semi-annual banquet. Chief attraction of the homecoming and one which it is supposed will draw a record crowd will be the Pacific-Willamette football game under the Sweetland lights at 8 p. m. Saturday, November 4. Between halves freshmen and sophomores will stage the traditional bag-rush with the wearing of frosh caps and ribbons at stake. This year's trenchcap with its long tassel is said to be particularly irritating to first-year men and a genuine scrap is anticipated.

Fraternity and sorority houses plan various functions for their returning members in the way of luncheons and breakfasts. Mosher will go to Portland one day this week to talk with members of the Portland Alumni club in preparation for the big weekend.

The two dozen paintings shown are: "Scotch Broom Near Fort Stevens," "Wallowa Lake," "Sand Dunes and Scotch Broom," "June in the Sage Brush Country," "A Mountain Meadow," "Tide Land Sunset," "Autumn Aspens" of which there are three paintings; "The Land of the Jack Pines," "Scotch Broom and Dunes—Morning," "Winter on the Umatilla," "The Little Valley," "Klamath Lake," two scenes; "Nitrate Cliffs, Leslie Gulch, Malheur County," "Early Morning, Eastern Oregon," "Johnson Street, Pendleton," "Avalon Ranch Hay Lands," "Kiger Gorge, Steens Mountains," "October," "Fossil Buttes, Eastern Oregon," "Bog Kalmia, Cascades," and "Bloomington Camas."

Chamber Arranges Program for Red Hills' Grangers
The following program has been arranged by the chamber of commerce for the Red Hills grange meeting at the Liberty school house tonight and will be in charge of Carl Abrams. Address by Major C. A. Robertson on "The Situation in Europe"; vocal solo by Mrs. W. J. Minkiewicz; flute solo, Betty Minkiewicz.

Receivership of National Caused By Stock Losses
The Combs Insurance agency of Portland, general agents for the National Life Insurance company of the United States of America, have received word from Ernest Palmer, state insurance director for Illinois, that the recent receivership of the National Life has been brought about by the greatly depreciated value of bank stocks held by the company.

"The character of the company's loans cannot be determined," the receiver said, "until an inventory is made." But following the court action last Monday, Mr. Palmer stated that the state department of Illinois had confidence that reorganization or reinsurance could be effected with little delay and with no ultimate loss to policyholders.

"The Combs agency will continue to look after the interest of Oregon policyholders."

MINISTER EXHIBITS OREGON PAINTINGS
Paintings of Melville T. Wire, Albany Methodist minister, are on exhibit in the fireplace room of the city library this week, and in connection Mr. Wire will give an informal talk there tonight at 8 o'clock. The Salem Arts League and Woman's club are sponsoring the display.

The paintings show that the artist has sought the four corners of the state for his subjects, which range from the golden Scotch Broom found in profusion along some coast areas to the sagebrush and nitrate cliffs of eastern Oregon.

The two dozen paintings shown are: "Scotch Broom Near Fort Stevens," "Wallowa Lake," "Sand Dunes and Scotch Broom," "June in the Sage Brush Country," "A Mountain Meadow," "Tide Land Sunset," "Autumn Aspens" of which there are three paintings; "The Land of the Jack Pines," "Scotch Broom and Dunes—Morning," "Winter on the Umatilla," "The Little Valley," "Klamath Lake," two scenes; "Nitrate Cliffs, Leslie Gulch, Malheur County," "Early Morning, Eastern Oregon," "Johnson Street, Pendleton," "Avalon Ranch Hay Lands," "Kiger Gorge, Steens Mountains," "October," "Fossil Buttes, Eastern Oregon," "Bog Kalmia, Cascades," and "Bloomington Camas."

Hotel de Minto Patron Arrested, Larceny Charge
William Gates, alias Blackie Gates, took 24 hours in which to enter plea to charge of larceny when he was haled before Judge Miller Hayden yesterday. He is accused of taking a suitcase belonging to Gerald Cramer, a transient who was stopping Sunday night at Hotel de Minto. The suitcase contained a suit, three suits of underwear, a pair of shoes, and razor and strip.

Gates will reappear in justice court at 10 a. m. today. He is in jail in lieu of $500 bail.

PEPCO INSTALLING NEW TONE WHISTLE

Majority of Truck Owners Not Opposed to P. U. C. Truck Law, Averred

Blasts of a strange whistle which will probably be heard within the next day or two need not alarm the populace. For they will be tests made while mechanics at the Portland General Electric company power plant are adjusting a new whistle for signaling its trouble men or others.

The electric company has not found it necessary to operate its steam driven electric generator at the power house here for more than three years because there was an ample supply of electricity from the company's water power plants. However, steam was kept up at the plant because the company was supplying steam to several of the industries near its plant. When, early this summer the company ceased to supply this steam, it meant that there was no steam to work the old steam whistle used to call trouble men at night or on holidays. Occasionally the whistle was also used by the police and fire department to call its men.

Hence, to have available a whistle signal, the company is installing a 208 horn type of whistle operated by compressed air and which has a tone somewhat resembling the tone of the O. E. locomotive whistle.

"This act was first designed to produce necessary highway revenue. The legislature saw quickly that this revenue could not be obtained without equalizing the burdens under the act and providing regulation that would enable the production of the desired revenue by the trucks affected."

"There are in Oregon today no less than six different truck associations, some entertaining similar views regarding opposition to the act. No one of the groups can pretend to speak for any considerable number of actual truck owners affected by the act."

"The majority of truck owners affected by the Oregon motor transportation act have always wanted, and now want, the strictest enforcement of the act, not because they are entirely satisfied with it, but because they believe compliance with the act is the only fair step in light of public interest."

"Should the money which this act is supposed to produce fail to come in, now that the act can no longer be questioned, we are certain that the public, through the legislature, will take still more drastic means to see that trucks pay more revenue. We believe that if all paid what they should pay the sum would be much greater than expected and trucks would then be in a good position to go to the legislature and ask for a reduction in fees. "The public will have little sympathy with the real problems of the truck owner if he continues musing up the issue with threats of recalling every officer who starts out to enforce an Oregon law. The majority of trucks actually affected by the act, as represented by Allied Truck Owners, will continue to oppose these kinds of tactics."

Y Subscriptions Mount to $9100
Subscriptions turned in at the Y. M. C. A. campaign committee meeting yesterday noon totaled $317.50 and brought the total of pledges to over $9100. The required total is $13,250 and the workers are getting a fresh start this week to wind up the campaign.

Eaul Wallace, chairman of the drive, presided at the Monday luncheon.

ALLIED TRUCK MEN DECRY OPPOSITION

Majority of Truck Owners Not Opposed to P. U. C. Truck Law, Averred

Responsible truck operators of Oregon are not backing any recalls or referendum or otherwise opposing the state in its efforts to get in the $900,000 in fees which truck owners owe the state for the use of the roads, states a bulletin of Allied Truck Owners, Inc.

"The responsible truck owners of Oregon have never opposed the enforcement of the present motor transportation act, just declared valid in all respects by the supreme court, and further have used their best efforts and money to help other truck owners see that while the act is not perfect, it is a step in the direction of preserving the state and public interests in the highways and highway transportation."

"This act was first designed to produce necessary highway revenue. The legislature saw quickly that this revenue could not be obtained without equalizing the burdens under the act and providing regulation that would enable the production of the desired revenue by the trucks affected."

Do jangled nerves make you say things you'll regret?

How many times in the course of a week do you snap at someone? If you check very carefully you will probably find that it happens more times than you realize. For one of the dangers of jangled nerves is that the victim so seldom knows about his own condition. It not only hurts others—but himself as well.

The more alert you are, the more high-strung and alive, the greater danger there is of jangled nerves. Get your full amount of sleep every night. Eat regularly and sensibly. Find time for recreation. And smoke Camels—for Camel's costlier tobaccos never get on your nerves.

COSTLIER TOBACCOS
Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE tobaccos than any other popular brand of cigarettes!

CAMELS — THEY NEVER GET ON YOUR NERVES!

How are YOUR nerves?
