Old Wedding Gowns Will Be Shown Tonight

An affair of great interest tonight is the bridal gown display sponsored by the A. A. U. W. at the home of Mrs. Frank Spears on Chemeketa street. There will be two modelings during the evening, the first at 8 o'clock.

Proceeds from the benefit go to the state fellowship fund. Mrs. Lewis Griffith is general chairman.

The musical program, which will be the same for both showings, will include two vocal solos by Gladys McIntyre Thomas, "I Love Thee" by Grieg and "O Promise Me" by De Koven; a trio composed of Mrs. Hubert Reddy, Mrs. George Rhoten and Gladys McIntyre Thomas, accompanied by Mrs. Max Rogers singing the bridal music from "The Rose Maiden" and the bridal chorus from Lohengrin. Ruth Marcia Brown will play wedding marches throughout the modelings.

Thirty-two gowns will be shown dating back to 1854. The procession will be led by Little Sybil Spears, who will carry a doll wearing a dress made in 1825.

Sproeds Entertain at Shower Party

A delightful affair of Sunday night was a shower and party honoring Mr. and Mrs. Pete Sproed of Brooks given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Sproed in South Salem. Gladys and daisies provided the decorative note.

The evening was spent in visiting and games and a cake, decorated with a bride and groom was served at the refreshment hour.

Present were Mr. and Mrs. Pete Sproed, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Meyer, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Steward, Mr. and Mrs. Anton Phan Jr., Her an Sproed, Mrs. Hilda Hones, Mrs. Amelia Burger, William Phan, Harry Sproed, Misses Ruth and Helen Hutchins, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Sproed and Miss Marie Harris, Miss Ila Estelle and Edelbert Holstead, all of Falls City, and hosts, Mr. and Mrs. J. Sproed.

Missionary Society To Meet

Mrs. Wayne Henry of Zena will entertain the Missionary Society of the Calvary Baptist church Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Cars will leave the church at 2 p. m.

Mrs. Ed Bingenheimer is in charge of the program which includes special music by Rev. Earl Cochran and Mrs. Charles Davis. Costumes from China, India and Japan will be displayed. Mrs. Jack Billeter will lead the devotionals. Assistant hostesses will be Mrs. O. N. Gookins and Mrs. James McFullo.

Pattern

By ANNE ADAMS

Sister has come to the conclusion that getting apples and making her own frocks is just the very best way to keep in trim for school activities. And right she is—here's a frock that's loads of fun to make! ## Orchestra Rehearsals of Interest to Music Lovers

By Mary Talmadge Hedrick

A great deal can be said in favor of the worm's-eye view of passing events. Meaning, of course, that the worm not only sees things from a different viewpoint than the rest of us do, but it is probable that it thinks a lot differently about what it happens to see. It might be interesting, and perhaps enlightening, if we were to know.

This occurred to me the other evening during a rehearsal of the Philharmonic orchestra (not that musicians are worms or anything like that). But we do happen to have a different outlook on matters pertaining to music than have the big majority, and it seems to me that everyone should be made more aware of the really progressive work being done by this group.

Perhaps it is difficult for one who is not a musician to realize the tremendous task undertaken in training inexperienced students to play symphonic works. It is achieved only by the most painstaking effort and an enormous amount of patience. With these quantities and a high enthusiasm and love for music, Jacques Gerskovitch conducted three most successful concerts here last season and the orchestra under his direction has shown constant improvement and development.

The majority of the 50 members of the orchestra are young students. I happen to know that three new members in the cello section from the Portland Junior Symphony came to Willamette university in preference to any other in order to play this season under the baton of Jacques Gerskovitch.

Many of us know and love good music. Many of us are no doubt familiar with the works of the great composers. A great number of us attended the symphony concerts in larger cities, but I think too few of us realize the tremendous advantage and joy there is in having one in our very midst, and with our own friends and students participating.

Greater even than just learning to play an instrument is the benefit a student gains from being a member of an orchestral organization. In the many rehearsals he learns of the construction of symphonic works; he receives a thorough rhythmic training, he learns to subordinate himself to the whole, he becomes familiar with all the other instruments, a feeling for style and interpretation is created, and he begins to know and love the great master works.

Rehearsing under Gerskovitch is an experience in itself. When he calls "Forfe! trombones!" or "Crescendo! trumpets!" you may expect to hang onto your ears. And then to the other extreme with the fiddles he demands "Pianissimo! string quartet! Ah, that ees good!"

He is most exacting and demands as near perfection as possible, and yet he is understanding of mistakes. To one girl he said the other night, "You no play! How you want to learn, when you no try? You learn 200 years from now maybe."

And with this bit of truth, which we all try to absorb, he removes his coat, loosens his collar, mops his brow, opens the window, picks up his baton and the rehearsal is on again.

This little organization from the viewpoint of one of the orchestra members is really intended as a sort of testimonial of benefit gained from time enjoyably spent. At the present time there is a need for more instruments, mainly French horns, flutes, bassoons and basses.

Come to rehearsal some Tuesday evening, you must learn, and see if you do not agree that you have been missing something worth while.

Standings Given Party Saturday Night

Mr. and Mrs. John Standings who have made Salem their home for the summer but who are returning to Seattle in the near future were complimented with an informal dinner at the Millet residence on South High street Saturday night.

Mrs. L. K. Lawrence and Mrs. Melvin Millet were hostesses. Tables were placed for 12 at a cover decorated with an orange floral centerpiece and black and orange tapers. Dancing was enjoyed later in the evening and other friends called.

Present for the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Standings, honor guests, Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Thornquist, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Barber, Miss Marie Pilette, Virgil Dennison, Mr. and Mrs. L. K. Lawrence and Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Millet.

Stayton—Twenty-two members of the Women's club were present at the covered dish luncheon. The hostesses for the affair were Mrs. Mattie Bruce and Mrs. Bishop Moorehead.

The chairman of the last card party reported a net receipt of $10. After the business session the members enjoyed the "grab bag" which brought in $240.

Miss Sylvia Stupka favored with a piano solo. Hostesses for the next meeting scheduled as "library day" are Mesdames C. P. Nelbert, Leo J. Rock and C. E. Taylor. It is hoped to have Miss Harriett Long, state librarian, as guest speaker.

Stayton—Mr. and Mrs. Hugh C. Hurt entertained Saturday night at their country home with a "duck" dinner. The occasion was in honor of Mrs. Hurt's birthday and Dr. G. F. Korinek, whose birthday fell on the same day, was privileged to cut the large birthday cake. Guests were V. Scott Goldberry of Portland, Genevieve Emmons of Los Angeles, Clifford Hurt and Floyd H. Emmons of Salem, and Georgia Hunt and Dr. and Mrs. G. F. Korinek of Stayton.

Dr. Bruce Baxter is Honored With Dinner

A charmingly appointed dinner Sunday afternoon was given at Lausanne hall in compliment to Dr. Bruce Baxter, a campus visitor for the week from the University of Southern California.

Mrs. J. A. Mills was hostess for the affair and covers for thirteen were placed at a large round table in the center of the dining room. A centerpiece of marigolds in a low bowl and autumn leaves provided the decorative note. Yellow table cloths in crystal holders lighted the center table as well as the seven small tables grouped about the center one for girls living in the hall.

Seated at the guest table were Dr. Bruce Baxter, guest of honor, Dr. and Mrs. C. G. Doney, Dr. and Mrs. B. E. Parker, Dean and Mrs. Frank Erickson, Dean Olive M. Dahl, Mrs. E. M. Dahl, Mrs. Clara Eness, Mrs. J. D. Eness, Miss Helen MacHirron, and hostess, Mrs. J. A. Mills.
